GEORGIA GOVERNOR ARRESTED

HITS ROOSEVELT FOR DEFENSE OF CENSUS PRYING

Tobey Cites Tactics Used by Hitler.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 15.—President Roosevelt and Senator Charles W. Tobey [R., N. H.] engaged in a sizzling exchange today over the census snooping issue. The President defended the prying questions into the personal income of citizens receiving less than $5,000 a year and accused Tobey of openly advising the American people to violate the law by refusing to answer the queries.

In a redhot telegraphic reply, sent to the White House, Tobey inquired whether a burocratic ruling was now to be considered as a law of the United States. Such an interpretation was used by Hitler in his rise to power, the New Hampshire senator remarked.

Senator Wires Retort.

Noting that the senate commerce committee had approved elimination of the personal income questions on the ground that they were illegal and never authorized by congress, Tobey wired Mr. Roosevelt:

"The serious nature of your charge obliges me to ask what law you refer to. If it is your position that an unauthorized ruling of a departmental bureau constitutes a law of the United States, then it is important that the people recall that such were the tactics used by Hitler in gaining powers never sanctioned by the people.

"It is time to call a halt to attempts of departments to arrogate to themselves the functions of a legislative body, especially in matters which threaten the people of this free country with imprisonment for not bowing to the will of a bureau."

Speaks Thru Secretary.

Forced to cancel his press conference for the second time this week because of a bad cold, the President delegated his secretary, Stephen T. Early, to transmit to the press the blast against Tobey which he had intended to give in person.

Tobey was not mentioned by name in Early's statement, but there was no doubt concerning whom was meant. If the President had been able to meet the press, Early announced, he would have said:

"For the first time in my knowledge, a United States senator has openly advised the American people to violate the law and holds himself out as one person who will not answer the two income questions when he knows full well that, in his case, the answer would be unnecessary since the enumerator would know that the senator earns more than $5,000."

Pleads Need of Statistics.

The President would also have said, Early continued, that these questions, "indorsed and requested by a wide range of prominent citizens and organizations, will develop the same basic statistics about the low income groups that are now available for the higher income brackets thru the treasury."

Continuing, Mr. Roosevelt would have remarked, Early stated, that these statistics were needed by American business as a guide to mass buying power and also vitally needed for studies on millions of part time and piecework workers.

Apprised of this attack upon him, Senator Tobey dashed off his telegram to the President. He quoted the words of a Supreme court decision:

"The principles that embody the essence of constitutional liberty and security forbid all invasions on the part of the government and its employés of the sanctity of a man's home and the privacy of his life.

Defends Exemption Rules.

"Of all the rights of citizens, few are of greater importance or more essential to his peace and happiness than the right of personal security and that involves not merely protection for his person from assault, but exemption of his private affairs, books, and papers from the inspection and scrutiny of others. Without the enforcement of this right, all others would lose their value."

Meanwhile, opponents of the personal income questions rejected Secretary of Commerce Harry Hopkins compromise plan to permit citizens to answer the queries anonymously. Representative Daniel A. Reed [R., N. Y.], summed up the opposition's views. Hopkins' new regulation, he said, did not change the situation but was simply an evasion of the law.

BOOST POWER OF ARMY PAST 2 MILLION MARK

German Passenger Liner Destroyed.

LONDON, March 15 (AP).—The ministry of labor tonight ordered the registration of some 600,000 men in April for military service, boosting the British army past the 2,000,000 mark.

Men who reached the age of 25 years during 1939 were called upon to register April 6. Those who turned 26 during last year will register April 27. Youths who have turned 20 since the last call on March 9 also will be required to register.

Great Britain had an army of 600,000 in January, 1939, and now is working to have 2,500,000 troops before the end of 1940.

The war meanwhile moved in low gear. The biggest development was the destruction of the German passenger liner La Coruna, 7,414 tons, when she was intercepted Wednesday in northern waters.

Warship Finishes Job.

The crew opened the vessel's sea cocks and set her on fire. The British warship that had caught her finished the job with gunfire after picking up 60 crew members. The La Coruna left Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Feb. 3 in an effort to slip thru the British blockade with coffee, lard, and other supplies. The British said she apparently was trying to reach home thru Norwegian waters.

At least 22 ships of 149,629 tons have been scuttled by Germans to prevent them from falling into enemy hands. Most of them carried rich cargoes. All except the pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee were attempting to run the British blockade from neutral ports. The losses include six passenger liners, 14 freighters, one tanker, and the Graf Spee.

Another probable neutral loss in the war at sea was disclosed today in the announcement that the Swedish freighter Norna, 1,022 tons, had not been reported for 36 days after leaving Gibraltar for Sweden. The crew of 18 aboard her was presumed lost.

French Repulse German Patrols.

PARIS, March 15 (AP).—Two German patrols west of the Vosges mountains were forced to withdraw before the machine gun fire of French outposts, military sources said today in describing western front action. The French reported taking two prisoners. Stormy weather prevented any aerial activity yesterday.

German Communique.

BERLIN, March 15 (AP).—The German high command's communique today: "No special events."

Nazis Tighten Border Watch.

BASEL, Switzerland, March 15 (AP).—German border guards today enforced strict new frontier regulations and sent hundreds of Germans and Swiss back to their side of the border and confiscated their passes.

This action was said to have been taken to prevent leakage of military information concerning German troop concentrations in Wurttemberg and Baden, north of the Swiss frontier. The control extended from the Rhine to the Italian frontier but was far less strict on the old Austrian border, where the German side still was guarded only by semi-military frontier patrols.

COURT REJECTS A DEFENSE PLEA AS OLD AS ADAM

Judge William V. Daly quoted the story of Adam in the garden of Eden in South State street court yesterday while hearing the case of Morris Epstein, charged with selling obscene literature in his book store at 240 North Clark street.

Epstein pleaded that he had been entrapped by police.

"The defense of entrapment is as ancient as the world and was first interposed in paradise," Judge Daly recalled. "There, according to the Bible, Adam said: 'The serpent beguiled me and I did eat.'

"That defense was overruled by the Great Lawgiver, and whatever estimate we may form concerning the character or conduct of the tempter, this plea has never since availed to shield a crime or give indemnity to the culprit."

Judge Daly then found Epstein guilty. Hearing on a motion for probation was set for March 29.

HISTORY'S DARKEST PAGES

Berlin Foreign Chief to Meet Welles in Rome

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, March 15.—Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop of Germany will hasten to Rome from Berlin to see Sumner Welles, American undersecretary of state, before President Roosevelt's peace pilgrim embarks for home.

This sensational announcement was made tonight following Welles' arrival in the Italian capital from Paris. According to unconfirmed reports, Von Ribbentrop will be accompanied to Rome by Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, German financial wizard. It was presumed that Schacht will continue the conversations he had with Welles on German-American economic questions during the latter's visit to Berlin.

Move for Peace Visioned.

Welles, nearing the close of a whirlwind tour of the leading capitals of Europe, returned to the one city on this continent from which any move to end the war probably will come.

In belligerent and neutral capitals political observers believe that peace overtures, short of terms dictated by a smashing victory and on the conquerer's terms, will come either from the 100 acre Vatican City or the almost equally famous—in Italy—100 foot long room of Premier Mussolini at the Palazzo Venezia.

This fact gathered added significance today when the official Italian news agency carried a report that Welles would be received at the Vatican by Pope Pius XII. on Sunday. The visit will follow second meetings with Il Duce and his son-in-law and foreign minister, Count Galeazzo Ciano.

May Summarize Plans.

In making plans to see the pope on his way home, Welles may be able to summarize the peace plans of state and church so that Mr. Roosevelt will know what they have in common.

When Welles entered Rome he was met by protocol officers of the Italian foreign ministry in a warm welcome similar to that accorded him on his arrival here three weeks ago. He also was greeted by William Phillips, American ambassador to Italy, and embassy officers.

He drove immediately to the Excelsior hotel to rest. He will leave here Sunday or Monday night to embark for home. He will sail on the Italian liner Conte Savoia, but has not made up his mind whether to leave from Genoa or Naples.

RATES ARE REDUCED ON PHONE CALLS OF 420 MILES OR MORE

Washington, D. C., March 15 [Special].—A reduction in the rates charged by the American Telephone and Telegraph company for telephone calls of 420 miles or more was announced here today. It was estimated the new rates would effect a saving to the public of about $5,500,000 annually.

Examples of the new rates compared with the present for initial periods of three minutes follow:

Chicago-Boston—Station to station: Day, new $2.10, present $2.50; night and Sunday, new $1.40, present $1.50. Person to person: Day, new $2.80, present $3.25; night and Sunday, new $2.10, present $2.25.

Chicago-Washington—Station to station: Day, new $1.65, present $1.85; night and Sunday, new $1.10, present $1.15. Person to person: Day, new $2.20, present $2.45; night and Sunday, new $1.65, present $1.75.

The federal communications commission said decision to reduce the rates followed conferences and negotiations which it started.

OBJECTS OF ART ARE STREAMING IN FROM CHINA

Milwaukee, Wis., March 15 (AP).—Housekeeping was becoming increasingly difficult today in the home of City Controler William H. Wendt—what with 10 crates of Chinese art pieces piled around and another 28 crates on the way.

It all began three weeks ago when Wendt received four crates containing what a Milwaukee expert described as valuable museum pieces. They came from China and were addressed to a "Miss E. Leppich" in care of Wendt. Wednesday six more crates came. Today Wendt was informed there were eight more at the customs office and 20 more en route to Milwaukee.

The city official never heard of Miss Leppich but believes she may be a friend of his son, Lieut. William R. Wendt of the United States marine corps who is stationed at Peking, China, and that she is sending the objects here to avoid having them fall into Japanese hands.

Wendt is paying the duty and hoping to hear from his son.

Loses His Pants and a None Too Trusting Bride

Sympathetic police dashed into Grant park last night to rescue Erick Swanson from his honeymoon because [1] he had lost his pants, and [2] he had also lost his bride.

At the detective bureau, after he had been outfitted with an emergency pair of trousers and given a warm meal, Swanson wasn't sure that he appreciated his rescue. He wasn't worried about his pants. He already had on a pair. He was worried about his bride.

30 Minutes Run Up to 30 Hours.

He saw her last at 11:15 a. m. Thursday when she stepped out of their automobile in the Monroe street parking lot, and told him she'd be back in 30 minutes. Swanson waited. He waited all Thursday afternoon, evening, and night. He waited all yesterday, and he was still waiting at 7 o'clock last night when the police went to his aid.

For more than 30 hours, as he computed it, he had waited in the parked automobile for his bride to return. He had to wait. He didn't have any pants.

Swanson, 40 years old, a carpenter from Fox Lake in Lake county, told his story to Sergt. Lawrence Gorey. Last Saturday, he related, he and Mrs. Ellen Welch, 39, a divorcée formerly of Chicago, eloped to St. Louis, Mo. They used her car and her money. She had $200. He had $4. The honeymoon progressed smoothly until they reached Bloomington on their way back to Chicago. There Mrs. Swanson became suspicious.

She Takes Pants for Security.

"She thought maybe I'd run off with her money and leave her alone," Swanson said. "She said she'd take my trousers to make sure I'd stick around. I said, 'Sure,' so she took my trousers."

She also took his shoes and socks and put them with the pants in a small trunk, which she mailed to Fox Lake.

The honeymooners came into Chicago. Thursday morning they drove to the parking lot where Swanson's bride left him in the car and where he stayed until he was rescued.

After reciting his sad story Swanson tried in vain to persuade the police to let him return to the parking lot.

"I want my bride," he said, "and I want my pants."

Rivers Seized on Charge of U. S. Contempt

Macon, Ga., March 15 [Special].—Gov. E. D. Rivers of Georgia was arrested here tonight on a federal civil contempt citation in connection with a political feud in which he has invoked martial law in an effort to override an opponent.

Gov. E. D. Rivers.

The arrest was made on the stage of the Macon auditorium, where the governor was a speaker before a convention of the Georgia Education association. A few minutes before he was taken in custody at the close of the meeting, the executive and his wife, former school teachers, had been presented with life memberships in the organization.

Protests His Seizure.

Rivers protested against the seizure but agreed to go quietly when United States Marshal E. B. Boyle informed him "I have sufficient force here to carry you away."

The prisoner was taken to the Federal building, where he was released on his own recognizance at about midnight after a hearing before Judge Bascom Deaver of the Middle George District court. At the hearing the governor promised to return next Friday at 10 a. m. A few minutes later he left for Atlanta.

Climaxes Legal Fight.

Issuance of the contempt citation by Judge Deaver climaxed a bitter legal controversy that has raged about the governor's ouster of his former friend, W. L. Miller, from the state highway chairmanship.

Since firing Miller last Dec. 2, Gov. Rivers, who set up a "little New Deal" in Georgia after riding the Roosevelt coattails into office in 1936, has refused to obey the orders of both a state and a federal court that the highway chief be permitted to return to his post.

After having his aids forcibly eject Miller from his offices, the governor proclaimed martial law at the state highway building across from the capitol in Atlanta. National Guardsmen were stationed at the doors to keep Miller out.

Forcible Ejections Charged.

The guardsmen carried out their orders on at least six occasions. Miller claims he was forcibly ejected twice. Unable to make progress against the governor's troopers, Miller turned to the courts.

The National Guard officers were sentenced to jail terms for contempt of the state courts, but the governor pardoned them before they could be served with writs by the sheriff.

Judge W. R. Smith of the Superior court of Lanier county held that the governor was without power to remove Miller during his term of office, which ends Feb. 1, 1943. Rivers, however, ignored an injunction ordering him and Adjt. Gen. John E. Stoddard to stop interfering with Miller's return.

Goes to Federal Court.

Miller then took his case into the Federal court. Judge Deaver ordered Rivers and Stoddard to show cause why they should not cease the interference and, when they ignored the court hearings, the judge issued an injunction against them and finally cited them for contempt for defying that restraining order.

Gov. Rivers had charged that Miller, his former staunch supporter, was using his office to boost himself as a candidate for governor. Miller, who had been credited with taking the highway department out of politics, vehemently denied this.

Twenty Scotchmen Learn When Three Is a Crowd

New Orleans, La., March 15 (AP).—Twenty footsore Scots trudged into a police station early today, seeking shelter and explaining that a hotel manager had refused to let them sleep three in a bed. The sergeant found them an empty dock shed for the rest of the night, and today they resumed their search for a boniface who'll let a mon practice thrift. They're in town waiting to sail a British ship home.

SMITH RECORDS TO BE REVEALED, BROTHER SAYS

Experts Blame Death on Heart Malady.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pontiac, Ill., March 15.—Two more startling developments came tonight in the case of F. Lynden Smith, state public works director whose death last Saturday focused the eye of the public on affairs of Gov. Henry Horner's administration. These developments were:

1. A board of four pathologists, after a new and thoro autopsy here, declared Smith died as the result of coronary sclerosis [a form of heart disease]. A former autopsy in Springfield had left the cause of death in doubt. Coroner W. L. Dragoo of Sangamon county received the pathologists' report, which ruled out suicide or accident as the cause of death, and said he would transmit it to a coroner's jury.

2. A locked safe in the office of Smith's lumber company here became the focal point of the investigation of slush funds collected by the Horner forces. It is believed to contain Smith's records as head of the Illinoisans, the collecting agency. It replaces, as a source of political dynamite, the bulging leather briefcase once carried by Smith and referred to by him as his "life insurance."

They'll Be Made Public.

Smith's brother, Donald E. Smith, declared tonight that all records that are found in the safe will be made public. He does not know, he said, what the safe contains. The public works director was known to have burned some of his records last week; the remainder have not been uncovered.

Don Smith said he will open the safe when the action is ordered by the Probate court in connection with settling his brother's estate. This may be forthcoming tomorrow, it was said. Lyn Smith's will has not been found and it, if he left one, also may be in the safe.

The brother said he had been reluctant to go into the mystery of what the safe contains until after Smith was buried. Coroner Dragoo now has released the body for burial, which will take place tomorrow at 10:30 in a cemetery three miles north of Pontiac.

Quizzed by Federal Agent.

Robert L. Sharp, an agent of the internal revenue department, visited Don Smith last night, it was learned, and made inquiries concerning the records. The government is reported investigating the incomes of Lyn Smith, as well as other officials of the Illinoisans.

"I told Sharp all papers will be made public to agents authorized to see them, but that I was not opening the safe until a court order was issued," said Don Smith. "I intend that every detail of my brother's career shall be made public."

Smith likewise took measures to protect his brother's name from insinuations, gossip, and calumnies. He retained Attorney Elmer Nafziger, who will follow every phase of the investigation. Nafziger will be directed, Don Smith said, to fight any attempt by Smith's former associates to shift responsibility for their actions to the dead man.

The Dead Man's Exile.

Don, in defending the reputation of his brother, is taking up a job that Lyn had assigned to himself when Gov. Horner exiled him to Florida early last month for the duration of the primary campaign.

"I have the evidence to protect myself," Lyn told his brother when they were together at Don's home in Claremont, Fla., a few weeks ago. "I was the fall guy for many of my associates, accepting blame so it wouldn't smear the ticket's candidates. But I'm quitting politics now and I don't have to take any more mud. If any one tries to throw it at me I've got plenty of ammunition to fight back."

The Smith family had expressed certainty at all times that Lyn was not a suicide. His body was found in the bathtub of his room in St. John's hospital in Springfield. Early theories were that he had drowned himself, but there were many investigators who were dissatisfied with this supposition.

The Four Experts.

Coroner Dragoo summoned the four pathologists to the establishment of Raleigh J. Harris, Pontiac undertaker, at 6 p. m. after Don Smith had announced his determination to combat the suicide theory. Present were Dr. Edwin F. Hirsch of St. Luke's hospital, Chicago; Dr. Josiah J. Moore, of the Moore Clinical Laboratories, Chicago; Dr. F. W. Light of St. John's hospital, Springfield, and Dr. Benjamin Markowitz of Bloomington.

They devoted 2½ hours to an examination of Smith's body. Then all signed a brief statement that in their opinion the cause of death was coronary sclerosis, or hardening of certain arteries of the heart.

The arteries gradually narrow, due to the hardening, it was explained, and the circulation of blood in a sizable portion of the heart is stopped. This usually occurs in persons of advancing age, it was said, but often is found in younger persons [Smith was 44]. Worry would have contributed to this condition, the physicians told Coroner Dragoo. A chronic ailment, coronary sclerosis can sometimes cause sudden death, according to Dr. Hirsch.

Rules Out Drowning Theory.

The coroner said he had been informed that a Springfield chemist's report had ruled out the drowning theory because of the condition of the blood. A bruise discovered yesterday on Smith's forehead was too superficial to have contributed to death, the pathologists informed the coroner, he said.

Coroner Dragoo, before his return to Springfield, said he will present the pathologists' report to the Sangamon county coroner's jury originally called for the inquest in the case. The inquest will be concluded next week, with the verdict expected to be a formal ratification of the experts' findings.

NEW DEAL FILES DELEGATE SLATE FOR CALIFORNIA

Sacramento, Cal., March 15 (AP).—A five man committee created in support of the presidential candidacy of Franklin D. Roosevelt today filed with the secretary of state its official indorsement of 48 Roosevelt pledged delegates to the next Democratic national convention.

First name on the list was that of Gov. Culbert L. Olson. Lieut. Gov. Ellis Patterson's name was second, and that of former United States Senator William G. McAdoo third.

Filing of the indorsement followed get-together conferences yesterday at San Francisco under the sponsorship of Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes to avert threatened conflict between competing Roosevelt delegations, one headed by Olson and the other by McAdoo.

Garner Files in Oregon.

Salem, Ore., March 15 (AP).—A contest between the forces favoring President Roosevelt and Vice President Garner was assured today for the Oregon Democratic presidential primary on May 17. Earl Snell, Oregon secretary of state, received the vice-president's telegraphic application late today. President Roosevelt's name was entered several weeks ago by the Oregon Commonwealth federation.

2 ICEBREAKERS OPEN PATH TO SEA FROM MONTREAL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., March 15.—After smashing a 71 mile path thru the ice from Three Rivers, two government icebreakers reached Montreal tonight, opening the St. Lawrence river to the sea. The voyage took less than three weeks and the arrival of the vessels heralded an early opening of the Montreal port.

Considerable work still must be done before the port will be open to navigation. The harbor is cluttered with ice and the icebreakers will attack this section next. Shore ice between Montreal and Quebec must also be cleared before ships can navigate the channel safely.

After clearing the St. Lawrence of ice at Montreal the icebreakers will leave for the Gulf of St. Lawrence, where they will go on patrol in Cabot strait to guide the first ships thru the gulf. They will be assisted by airplanes. The port of Montreal is expected to be open for navigation about the middle of April.

Tax Collector Strips Him of Even His Headache Pills!

Newark, N. J., March 15 (AP).—The mail brought to the internal revenue bureau today an envelope containing an income tax return, $3 and a package of headache tablets.

CASSIDY TALKS ABOUT MINING—AND SLUSH FUND

Declares It's Not His Duty to Act on Collections.

Springfield, Ill., March 15 [Special].—Ray Edmundson, head of a mine workers' union, who protested last week that Gov. Horner's illness had resulted in lax enforcement of mine safety laws, received an answer today, not from the state mining board but from Attorney General John E. Cassidy.

Cassidy in an opinion ruled that the "shot firers' act," which requires that miners be kept out of danger while blasting is in progress, had to be enforced. Edmundson had contended that favoritism was shown certain mine owners, by the mining board, and that they were evading the safety regulations.

Gas Argument Fails.

One of the questions at issue was whether the use of gas as an explosive, instead of powder, changed the regulations. The attorney general said that the gas accomplished the same end as powder and created the same hazards for miners.

Edmundson asserted that the governor's failure to appoint a mining investigation commission authorized by the legislature was a detriment to enforcement of the law, and added: "If Gov. Horner isn't able to attend to his duties he should be replaced."

After announcing the opinion, Cassidy commented briefly on the lawsuit of Sylvester Steskal, the state policeman who is seeking to recover his contributions to the Democratic 2 per cent slush fund. It is Steskal's claim that he was forced to hand over his money. F. Lynden Smith, who died under tragic circumstances last week, was custodian of this fund, which once contained $700,000. Smith was one of the nine defendants named.

Up to State's Attorney.

Cassidy asserted that if there was any violation of law by the fund collecting organization, known as the Illinois-Iroquois league and later as the Illinoisans, it was the duty of the state's attorney of Sangamon county to investigate and prosecute. But, he added, those making the charges should be careful not to lay themselves open to charges of perjury, fraud, or conspiracy to libel.

Preliminary arguments were to have been heard in the Steskal suit tomorrow, but by agreement of attorneys the matter was postponed until sometime next week.

NEW STATICLESS RADIO HAILED IN POLICE CAR TEST

The Chicago police department yesterday tested a new type of staticless broadcasting equipment, known as the frequency modulation, or F-M, system. The tests, which were termed successful by Fred H. Schnell, police radio engineer, were conducted with Frank W. McLaughlin, chief service mechanic for the department, broadcasting from a squad car cruising in Sheridan road.

The reception at the police receiving station in the Field building demonstrated the superiority of the new system over that now in use, Schnell said. McLaughlin's broadcasts were clearly audible when he spoke from a "dead spot" near Devon avenue and Sheridan road, from which reception is impossible with present equipment.

The tests were conducted by Schnell and Frank A. Gunther, chief engineer for the Radio Engineering Laboratories, Inc., makers of the equipment. The results, as far as static elimination was concerned, surpassed their expectations, they said.

Marriage Breaks Up

DOLORES DEL RIO.

Palm Springs, Cal., March 15 (AP).—Dolores Del Rio, Mexico-born screen actress, disclosed tonight that she and her movie art director husband, Cedric Gibbons, had separated. She disclaimed any intention of seeking a divorce, however.

Gibbons, in Hollywood, smiled when asked about the report and remarked:

"Well, I guess I have nothing to say."

They have been married almost ten years, but reports had been heard in recent months that all was not well between them.

Hollywood friends of the actress promptly began speculating whether Orson Welles, of "Man from Mars" fame, might be Miss Del Rio's new romantic interest. They have been occasional companions since he came west to make a movie. He was divorced last month in Reno by Virginia Nicolson Welles.

FAITH, THEY'RE AT IT AGAIN: AN OLD LACE RACKET

Tomorrow being St. Patrick's day, Evanston's Irish policemen were grieved to discover yesterday that a 40 year old racket was being worked on their townswomen by a woman with an apparently authentic Irish brogue. It's the old Irish lace racket.

The woman, described as anemic in appearance, with curly black hair, peddles from house to house, maintaining that she has just smuggled in some rare old Irish lace from the auld sod. A number of Evanston housewives have been gullible, the police say.

Taken in by the lilt in her voice, they have bought what they thought were expensive Irish lace tablecloths for $15 each. Only later do they discover, the police said, that the cloths are worth $2, at a generous estimate, seemingly being made of string.

The new Zion-Benton Township High school in Zion was formally dedicated last night at a meeting attended by 1,500 persons. Among the speakers were S. E. Baker, representing the state department of education, and Overseer M. J. Mintern of Zion. Five hundred students attend the school. It is a three story air conditioned brick building. The cost was $300,000.

WHEN GOVERNOR IS NOT GOVERNOR IS THE QUESTION

Ailing Horner's Absence Stirs Growing Issue.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., March 15.—At what stage of a governor's disability is a lieutenant governor justified in assuming the duties of the governor?

The long protracted illness of Gov. Henry Horner, now in its 16th month, and the Democratic primary campaign for the gubernatorial nomination have brought this question to the boiling point. At Springfield, thousands of job holders are concerned with the possibility that Lieut. Gov. John Stelle may be acting governor before April 9. And Stelle is seeking the Democratic nomination to be Gov. Horner's successor for the four year term starting next Jan. 1.

Horner's physical condition is a matter of conjecture. Friends who were permitted a glimpse of the governor on Wednesday reported him extremely feeble, but able to say a few words.

Nudelman Termed Boss.

Samuel L. Nudelman, state director of finance, has been called the de facto governor of Illinois because he is the boss of the so-called bedside cabinet at the mansion where the bachelor governor is a patient. Without Nudelman's permission, no word of the governor's condition reaches the public.

Lieut. Gov. Stelle is not among those admitted to the mansion and he has no personal knowledge of the nature of the governor's infirmities, he says daily in his speeches. It is known that Stelle has discussed the situation with his legal advisers.

Stelle mentions the constitution when asked about his plans. Illinois operates under the constitution of 1870. It contains this paragraph:

"In case of the death, conviction on impeachment, failure to qualify, resignation, absence from the state, or other disability of the governor, the powers, duties, and emoluments of the office, for the residue of the term, or until the disability shall be removed, shall devolve upon the lieutenant governor."

Definition of Word Is Issue.

In the present crisis, lawyers of Chicago and Springfield say, the definition of the word "disability" is the issue. The constitution and the statutes do not set up any agency to determine disability. Dr. Nathan Rosen, attending Gov. Horner, said he is not permitted to make public his observations or conclusions regarding the governor's physical condition.

Stelle says that Nudelman has usurped the office of the governor and that consequently no accurate information as to the governor's condition comes to the lieutenant governor who, under the constitution, should act in case of the governor's disability. Therefore, without affirmative knowledge, Stelle said he is merely standing by.

His friends and supporters say Stelle is ready at any moment to do his duty. A complaint last week by the head of a group of 30,000 coal miners that their lives and limbs are being jeopardized by Gov. Horner's absence from the statehouse brought a response from the Stelle camp that when and if he can legally take action to protect the miners he will do so. The miners say their danger comes from lax enforcement of mining laws.

Law Provides No Formula.

The constitution and the law give no formula or ceremony for a lieutenant governor to use in assuming the higher office. Those who have made a study say it is doubtful whether he would even be required to take an oath of office. They say the law is that he shall "assume" the office.

It is customary now, when the governor leaves the state, for the lieutenant governor to give formal or informal information to the secretary of state. With no ado, the lieutenant governor then becomes acting governor and draws the pay of the governor—who is also paid while away.

The effectiveness of the act of "assuming the office," according to legal authorities, would depend on the ability of the lieutenant governor to enforce his acts as acting governor and also on whether other state authorities recognize the acting governor as the actual commander in chief of the state militia. State officials talk of the chaos that might ensue if Illinois were to have a "de facto" or "actual" governor, and a "de jure" or "legal" governor opposing each other.

F. LYNDEN SMITH'S POST IS AWARDED TO CHARLES P. CASEY

Springfield, Ill., March 15 (AP).—Charles P. Casey of Carrollton was appointed state director of public works and buildings today to succeed the late F. Lynden Smith.

Casey had served as acting director of the department since early February, when Smith began the leave of absence which ended last Saturday with the discovery of his body in a Springfield hospital bathtub.

Assistant director of the department since 1934, Casey ranks high in Democratic party circles. Another appointment announced by Gov. Horner was that of Anton J. Tomasek of Chicago as assistant director of the conservation department.

POLICE BATTLE PICKETS RAGING AGAINST FRANCE

New York, March 15 (AP).—Before hundreds of pedestrians on 5th avenue, two groups of police fought today with a band of 35 men and women who had sought to demonstrate in front of the French consulate. Twelve men and a woman were arrested and later freed.

The pickets were protesting what they said was a French government decree requiring Spanish refugees to leave France unless they had relatives in the French army or were themselves willing to enter war service.

The French embassy issued a statement saying: "The French government never contemplated such a measure."

ASSAILS HORNER DELAY IN NAMING 3 COMMISSIONS

Important Projects Held Up by Governor.

Springfield, Ill., March 15 [Special].—Gov. Horner's failure to complete the membership of three important commissions authorized by the legislature last spring, and his delay in naming another, was sharply criticized here today by Speaker Hugh W. Cross of the house of representatives.

Hugh W. Cross.

Cross, a Republican candidate for the lieutenant governorship nomination, revealed that the governor has failed to pick his members on the Ohio river valley sanitation commission, the commission on Negro problems, and the important mining investigation commission, altho nine months have elapsed since the legislature ordered these bodies to start work immediately. The legislative members were named promptly.

Wants Six Months.

Cross also took the governor to task for failing until recently to name the membership of the Illinois Development council, which the house and senate felt was so important, as an agency "to sell Illinois to the nation," that it appropriated $250,000 for its work. The commission was finally named a few weeks ago, after more than six months had elapsed since its authorization.

"These delays or omissions of duty either by the chief executive, or those who are guiding the affairs of the state, constitute a sorrowful condition," Speaker Cross declared.

Mining Safety Disregarded.

"The duty of the mining commission is to work for the safety of human lives and property as well as to study the conservation of Illinois coal deposits. Inasmuch as all groups interested in coal mining, including the thousands of miners themselves, are vitally affected, it seems inexcusable that this agency should be overlooked for months. This commission has the opportunity of saving the lives of miners thru a studied program. Human lives should not be jeopardized thru procrastination."

Cross said Horner's delay in naming his members of the commission on Negro problems was lamentable, and "constitutes a direct affront to the colored people of Illinois."

Cross and Lieut. Gov. John Stelle named their members to all the commissions created by the 1939 session shortly after the session ended last July 1.

OPEN SLUSH QUIZ, MERIT BOSS TOLD BY ADAMOWSKI

Charges Civil Service Employes Assessed.

Quincy, Ill., March 15 [Special].—Benjamin S. Adamowski, candidate for the Democratic nomination for United States senator, speaking here tonight, charged that civil service employés of the state are still being assessed for campaign funds.

"Today we are in the home town of Emery Lancaster, chairman of the Illinois civil service commission," Adamowski said. "I know that Mr. Lancaster is a sincere and earnest proponent of the principles of civil service. On the floor of the house, as Democratic floor leader, I have often fought to prevent harmful changes in the civil service laws and led the fight to improve them.

Charges Law Violated.

"The spectacle of state civil service employés being assessed a large percentage of their monthly pay checks in this present primary in order to provide campaign funds to perpetuate Sam Nudelman and his clique in power, is a direct violation of the state civil service law.

"So, also, is the un-American practice of coercing these state employés into political activities against their wishes, of driving them into the primary campaign like slaves under the lash, of forcing them to sign affidavits which they know are false.

"I here tonight, in his own home town, request Mr. Lancaster to take immediate steps to stop these illegal and vicious practices. He cannot sit idly by and watch these things happen without being charged with being an accessory to the fact."

Stelle Hits Slush Fund.

Lieut. Gov. John Stelle, speaking from the same platform, again declared himself for a merit system for state employés and said if he is elected governor there will be no forced contributions from any employés, whether they are under civil service or not.

Stelle renewed his charge that a "group of self-appointed bosses who have usurped the powers of Gov. Horner during his illness are acting contrary to the governor's own wishes during his inability to resist them."

Stelle charged the Democratic administration with "extortion of campaign funds" from the employés of the soldiers and sailors' home at Quincy and asserted public institutions would be operated in a nonpolitical manner if he is elected.

CRUSHED TO DEATH BY TRUCK.

Nokomis, Ill., March 15 (AP).—Orville John, 18 years old, was killed today when he was crushed between a tractor and a truck on his parents' farm near here. He was attempting to attach the tractor to a truck when the truck backed against him.

Quits Race to Aid Ditchburne

Two Quit G. O. P. Prosecutor Race to Support Ditchburne

Malachy J. Coghlan and Charles F. Rathbun, candidates for state's attorney in the Republican primary, withdrew from the race yesterday to back the candidacy of Harry S. Ditchburne.

The two withdrawals leave three candidates in the race. The other two are Judge Oscar F. Nelson and Erwin E. Cowen.

Attorney Coghlan, who is a former assistant state's attorney, said he withdrew to help nominate a strong Republican ticket for the November election.

Tells Faith in Ditchburne.

"I will support Mr. Ditchburne, because by electing him I am sure that he will accomplish the things that I wished to do if I were elected state's attorney," Attorney Coghlan said.

"I am certain that when he is elected he will bring law enforcement to the state's attorney's office. In supporting his candidacy I want to be considered as a citizen and not as a resigned candidate.

"As the son of a business agent, I am for the rank and file of labor, and I know Mr. Ditchburne is. But I want to see laboring men serve as leaders in their own organizations and not be dominated and preyed upon by racketeers, un-Americans, and criminals."

Coghlan said the laboring man is just as anxious as others are to stop racketeering in the unions.

Rathbun Urges Housecleaning.

Rathbun issued the following statement:

"The time has arrived when Cook county must be thoroly housecleaned, and we must have a Republican candidate for state's attorney who has the ability, the integrity, and courage to do the job right.

"Because of my sincere conviction and feeling that, in the public interest, the nomination of such a man is more important than my personal ambition, I have withdrawn as a candidate for the office and ask all my friends and supporters to work for the nomination of Mr. Ditchburne."

Coghlan, who was admitted to law practice in 1921, was an assistant state's attorney for 10 years until a year ago.

Coghlan announced his withdrawal in the office of Ditchburne. The latter thanked him for his offer of support.

Rathbun filed his withdrawal with the election board, but did not announce it until yesterday in Ditchburne's office.

EARL B. SEARCY URGES CLEANUP IN STATE CAPITAL

Rockford, Ill., March 15 [Special].—"Women voters of Illinois have it in their power to wipe out in 1940, and keep out for all the future, such foul scandals as are rocking our state today," declared State Senator Earl B. Searcy of Springfield here tonight. He addressed a meeting of the Women's Republican Club of Rockford. Searcy is a primary candidate for lieutenant governor.

"Slush funds ought to be outlawed. It ought not to be possible, under the law, ever to divert appropriated moneys—received from tax income—and to expend such funds in a way not openly audited and made a matter of full and complete public record.

"Women, with their tremendous stake in honest government, had better help in the cleanup that must come."

BAR ASSOCIATION ASKS 4,700 TO BE POLL WATCHERS

Tappan Gregory, president of the Chicago Bar association, sent letters yesterday to 4,100 members and 600 young nonmembers asking them to volunteer as watchers at the polls in the primary election on April 9. This action is part of a city-wide plan to safeguard voting which is sponsored by the joint committee on elections, composed of representatives of the bar association, the association of commerce, the City club, the Women's City club, the Cook County League of Women Voters and the Citizens' association of Chicago. Each volunteer will be given a printed summary of election instructions, a set of credentials and a form on which to report observations.

Hunt Union Business Agent on Rival Union's Charge

Sergt. George Barnes and his detective bureau labor detail are seeking Max Caldwell, buisness manager of local 1248 of the Retail Clerks' union, who has been charged with disorderly conduct. Mrs. Mae Gliech of the Demonstrators union alleged that Caldwell and four of his associates used terrorist tactics in trying to force the demonstrators into the retail clerks' organization. All except Caldwell have surrendered and have been released in bonds.

FALLS IN SHAFT; DIES.

John Walsh, 46 years old, 1233 North La Salle street, was fatally injured yesterday when he fell in an elevator shaft at the Currier-Lee Warehouse, Inc., 427 West Erie street, where he was employed.

GUTKNECHT SAYS HE BROKE CITY'S CAR THEFT RINGS

Attacks Courtney Claims for the Credit.

Municipal Judge John Gutknecht presented to a radio audience last night his claim for credit for the successful war against automobile thefts in Chicago. He spoke as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for state's attorney and attacked the claims for credit in this field by State's Attorney Courtney, against whom he is running.

This is the Gutknecht story on the subject:

"I went into the Boys' court in December, 1932. I found one-third of my cases concerned auto thefts. Chicago stealing of cars led the country. They brought me boys by the score—mainly dull witted, ignorant, young gamins stealing cars for $10 to $20 apiece. But only four fences.

Sends Fences to Grand Jury.

"Men from the auto theft detail gave me confidential information. I issued bench warrants. I sent every adult fence to the grand jury. I got sick at heart as day after day they brought the lines of young street gamins—but no adults. I appealed to the state's attorney. He never answered a letter I sent him.

"I punished the boys but I refused to send first offenders over for five, ten, and twenty year sentences when an automobile theft syndicate was openly preying on thousands of these undernourished, uneducated street waifs.

"With newspaper help and with a few conscientious workers from the auto theft detail, and with no help from the state's attorney's office, we caused a drop of 20 per cent or 6,000 car thefts in 1933. . . . In that whole year, altho some 26,000 cars were stolen, the state's attorney's office sent only two fences to jail, and neither of them was a fence of any influence or had syndicate connections.

Courtney Joins Crusade.

"Then, in the last days of December a peculiar thing happened. The state's attorney got himself interested in automobile cases. He asked for the establishment of a special auto court and it was started Jan. 2, 1934."

Judge Gutknecht then gave a part of the credit for victory to the legislature's enactment of the certificate of title act.

"The syndicate got its final blow," he said. "The game was up."

Gutknecht concluded by challenging State's Attorney Courtney to debate this subject with him.

BETTER GOVERNMENT GROUP INDORSES SIX FORMER G. O. P. JUDGES

The Better Government association sent letters yesterday to all Republican candidates for ward committeemen asking them to support six former G. O. P. Municipal court judges who are candidates for nomination to that bench in the primary election.

The six former judges, indorsed by the association, are Edward B. Casey, Theodore F. Ehler, William E. Helander, Samuel Heller, Edgar A. Jonas, and Charles F. McKinley.

"The public knows what to expect of these men," the letters read. "The large investment the voters already have in these candidates will return dividends in honest and competent service, if they are returned to the bench. A strong judicial ticket will go far to assure the victory of the Republican party."

Warn Widows to Beware of Pension Promise Fraud

The Chicago Better Business bureau warned widows yesterday to beware of a confidence man who falsely promises he can obtain federal pensions for them. The swindler, according to the bureau, claims he can arrange pensions up to $50 a month, demanding a fee of $5 to $15. A number of women have complained of the fraud.

The candidates for the Circuit court clerk nomination are:

JOHN F. DUFF, 49, of 3509 Franklin boulevard, who has Lyons-Brooks backing. Duff, traffic manager for the Wilson-Jones company, was born in Chicago and ran for county commissioner in 1934. His parents were born in Waukgan 80 years ago. Duff was educated in Chicago public schools and business college and has lived all his life in the 28th ward. He is married and has four children.

WALTER E. JOHNSON, 39, of 5354 North Spaulding avenue, a Deneen entry. Johnson, who is an attorney, was assistant state's attorney from 1929 to 1933. He was born in Chicago and was graduated from the Kent College of Law and admitted to the bar in 1924. He is president of the Bryn Mawr-Kedzie Improvement association, a trustee of the Saron Evangelical Lutheran church, and a member of the Swedish-American Athletic association. He is married, has one child, likes baseball, basketball, and football, but thinks soccer is the coming game.

THOMAS B. McKONE, 219 South Cicero avenue.

WILLIAM J. ELLIOTT, 3201 Warren boulevard.

PROBATE COURT

The withdrawals of Frank Martin and Thomas P. Mitchell from the race for Republican nomination for Probate court clerk left only one candidate yesterday. He is:

WILLIAM JOHN GRANATA, 34, of 1640 Adams street, who has Lyons-Brooks support. Granata, an attorney, is single, a native Chicagoan, and a product of the University of Illinois, where he was active in debating and dramatics and won a varsity soccer letter while working his way. He was president of the former West Side Community council, is honorary president of the Hull House Actors' guild, and a member of the National Lawyers' guild. This is his first campaign for public office. Granata's hobbies are golf, riding, swimming, and tennis.

COURT PUTS SEELEY OUT OF G. O. P. RACE FOR PROBATE CLERK

William J. Granata, acting Republican committeeman in the 27th ward, was given a clear field yesterday for the G. O. P. nomination for clerk of the Probate court in the April 9 primary election.

William J. Granata.

Judge John J. Lupe issued an injunction which restrained County Clerk Michael J. Flynn from printing the name of Attorney Donald J. Seeley, Granata's rival for the nomination, on the primary ballot. On Thursday County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki had ruled that he lacked jurisdiction to omit Seeley's name from the ballot even tho Seeley's nominating petitions were "shot thru with fraud."

Seeley admitted that the signatures on his petitions were apparently forgeries, but asserted he paid $100 for them to a Leo Schwartz and believed at the time that they were bona fide. Schwartz is sought on a warrant issued by Judge Jarecki which charges him with obtaining money under false pretenses.

ODD FELLOWS TO MEET IN ALLEGAN.

Grand Master Bruce I. McDougall of Detroit, Grand Secretary Fred Rogers of Lansing, and other officers will be present.

BROOKS ASSAILS NEW DEAL AS ONE MORE TAX DEAL

Lyons Sees G.O.P. Victory in November.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Wayland Brooks, candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator, and Richard J. Lyons, candidate for governor, have ended the downstate phase of their campaign in the belief they will carry 75 per cent of the downstate counties in the April 9 primary.

Last night these campaigners addressed a massmeeting in Aurora. Today they will begin their final drive in Chicago when they will be given a reception in the Hotel Sherman by 4,000 precinct captains and workers from Cook county.

During the last month Brooks and Lyons have covered 77 counties in their downstate campaign.

Predicts Return to G. O. P.

"I believe," said Lyons last night, "that we will carry more than 75 per cent of the counties downstate. The people have shown their interest in this Republican primary. Our meetings have been larger than in previous general election campaigns. I think the people realize that we have kept the party alive during the dark days of New Deal landslides, that this period is over, and that they will choose us to lead the ticket to victory in November."

Brooks and Lyons campaigned yesterday in Sandwich, De Kalb, Sycamore, Elgin, St. Charles, Geneva, Batavia, and Aurora. At Elgin they addressed hundreds of factory workers at the noon hour. At St. Charles they met a group of Kane county workers at luncheon at the Baker hotel.

New Deal a Tax Deal.

"The Roosevelt New Deal is just another tax deal," Brooks told his audience at Geneva. "History shows that every dictator government is based on fear and taxation. They all end when the tax burden becomes unbearable and the people decide to throw off their burden. That is what will happen to the Roosevelt tax deal in November.

"The burden of the Roosevelt tax deal and government by fear are the factors that prevent the solution of our unemployment problem. Excessive taxation makes it impossible for business to hire as many men as formerly. People have less to spend for goods and services after paying taxes. Taxes reduce the demand for goods, unemployment increases and the relief burden increases. No government can long endure under these conditions."

At Aurora Lyons called on the voters to "help us smash the barriers that are keeping business from providing the jobs that will mean decent American living standards for our people."

"I am not willing," he said, "that more than a million of my fellow Illinoisans shall continue to exist on $26 a month, which is now the average allowance for relief per family.

"The only way in which men and women can live as American citizens are entitled to live is to have jobs. The Republican party—state and national—is going to make its first task the removal of the barriers to those jobs."

Vote to Meet Thursday on Transit Unity Problem

Members of the city council's special traction subcommittee voted yesterday to meet next Thursday with the transit lines' seven man board of negotiators to discuss terms of the proposed unified traction ordinance. Ald. James R. Quinn [50th], chairman, said the subcommittee will meet Tuesday and Wednesday to discuss provisions for the unified franchise before attempting to reach an agree- with the lines' negotiators.

REPUBLICAN PLAN CALLED PROTEST TO DEFEATISM

The new Republican program made public recently is a powerful protest against the defeatism of the New Deal and has been planned to encourage, rather than discourage, the march of progress in America.

This summation of the Republican position was made yesterday by Dr. Earl H. De Long, assistant professor of political science at Northwestern university. He analyzed the G. O. P. program before a meeting of the A. B. C. school of politics at 2900 North Sheridan road. The political school is sponsored by the Woman's National Republican club of Chicago.

"The New Deal," said Dr. De Long, "has taken the pattern for its control of business from the worst points of the old order. It has tried to curtail production, to stabilize economy, to take away the risk of private venture, and has endeavored to take competition out of capitalism. These very points are what have made our great modern productive machine."

WPA WILL DROP 60,000 FROM ROLLS IN STATE

700,000 to Lose Relief Jobs in Nation.

One-third of the 179,800 persons on Work Projects administration rolls in Illinois will be dropped from the rolls by June 30. This was indicated last night after Col. F. C. Harrington, WPA commissioner, announced in Washington, D. C., that reductions in the ranks of WPA-ers on a national scale will take place in the next three months.

This will mean that approximately 60,000 will be dropped from the rolls in Illinois, of whom 25,000 are in Cook county.

Howard O. Hunter, deputy WPA commissioner, explained the reduction plan yesterday at a meeting of regional administrators in Kansas City, Mo. He said that latest figures showed 2,300,000 persons are now employed on WPA projects thruout the country. About 700,000 of these will be dismissed gradually in the ensuing months.

First Slash in April.

The first slash will come in April, Hunter said, and will involve 200,000 persons in the nation. It was predicted, on the basis of previous WPA reductions, that the paring of rolls probably will not start until after the April primary elections.

The reductions are the result, according to WPA officials, of the slash in congressional WPA appropriations of from $2,225,000,000 in the 1938 fiscal year to $1,477,000,000 for the current fiscal year ending next June 30.

179,800 on State Rolls.

Charles E. Miner, Illinois WPA director, said he was unable to estimate at present the exact number of jobs to be eliminated under the program. He said he had received no official notification of the reduction and would have no statement to make until he did.

It was estimated, however, that the one-third cut thruout the nation would be reflected in Illinois. Of the 179,800 now on WPA in the state, 77,403 are in Cook county. Of the Cook county figures, 66,793 are in Chicago.

Local WPA spokesmen said that wholesale and drastic firings would be avoided. The reduction is to be gradual and will start on less essential projects. In no case, they said, will projects be shut down because of a shortage of labor. Instead, the number of workers on various projects will be reduced proportionately.

Sergt. Curtin's Condition Reported Less Favorable

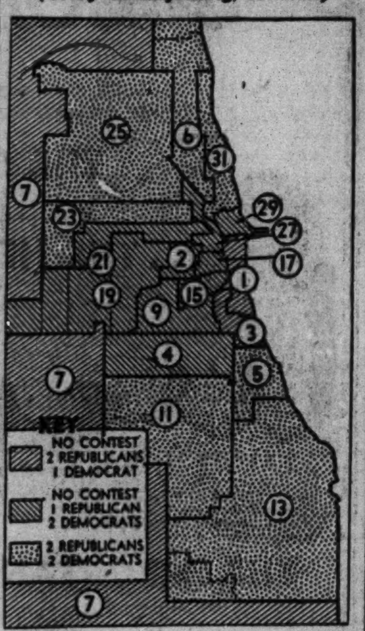
Sergt. Michael Curtin of the detective bureau, who was shot four times by a Negro bandit on March 8, was reported in a less favorable, but not alarming, condition yesterday in the Chicago hospital. One physician said he still had a 50-50 chance. Curtin, a former bodyguard for Mayor Kelly, was shot without warning by Andrew Foster, 4227 Calumet avenue. Foster was slightly wounded by Curtin and was captured by police a day later.

WPA WORKER DIES ON JOB.

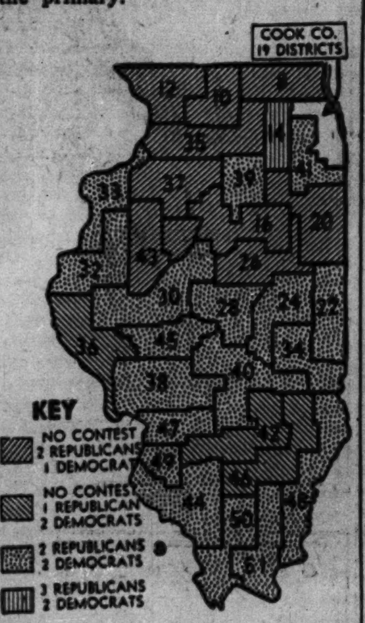
Joseph MacKenzie, 55 years old, 8355 Lafayette avenue, died, apparently of a heart attack, while at work on a WPA project at 109th place and Vincennes avenue yesterday.

House "Setups"

(Story in adjoining column.)



Shadings indicate Cook county senatorial districts in which there will be contests in the general election and those in which representatives will be finally chosen in the primary.



Downstate districts in which there will be interparty contests for house seats and those in which there will be only three nominees are indicated by shadings. There is a dispute in the 51st district.

SMITH NAMES TWO CANDIDATES FOR ANNAPOLIS

Corliss R. Nugent, 17 years old, 26 Crescent drive, Glencoe, and James J. Clancy, 2308 Arthur avenue, were nominated yesterday by Representative T. V. Smith [D., Ill.] as candidates for appointment to the United States naval academy at Annapolis.

Boy Falls 18 Feet Thru Skylight at I. C. Station

Roman Suchier, 14 years old, 1002 Armitage avenue, stepped thru a viaduct skylight at the 63d street Illinois Central station yesterday and fell 18 feet to the sidewalk. Except for bruises he was unhurt.

PRIMARY VOTING TO PICK HALF OF ILLINOIS HOUSE

Setup Elections Assured in 25 Districts.

Nearly half of the members of the Illinois house of representatives for the 62d general assembly which meets next January will be chosen finally at the April 9 primaries. They must go thru the formality of final election in November but will have no real opposition.

Examination of the reports of senatorial committees of both parties yesterday disclosed that 25 of the 51 senatorial [legislative] districts in the state will be "setups," in legislative parlance. These little known committees decided in those cases that either one Republican and two Democrats, or two Republicans and one Democrat, will be nominated. Since there are just three house seats at stake in each district, nomination thus become equivalent to election.

Chosen at Each Primary.

Senatorial committeemen, three from each party in each district, are chosen at the biennial primaries. Each committee fixes the number of house nominations—one, two, or three—to be made by its party at the following primary.

In the 25 "no contest" districts there will be 37 Democratic and 38 Republican nominees. All they have to fear in the fall election is a write-in campaign against them, which is likely to be unsuccessful on the basis of past results. In such campaigns voters write the names of rival candidates on the ballot.

Twelve "setups" are in the following Cook county districts: 1st, 2d, 3d, 4th, 7th, 9th, 15th, 17th, 19th, 21st, 27th, and 29th. There are thirteen "setups" downstate, in these districts: 8th, 10th, 12th, 16th, 18th, 20th, 26th, 35th, 36th, 37th, 42d, 43d, and 46th.

Two Leave "Setup" Column.

In the 1938 primaries there was an additional "setup" district—the 31st, comprising the Uptown, Edgewater, and Belmont harbor neighborhood. The Republican senatorial committee decided to make a fight of the November election this year. The 6th district [Rogers Park and Evanston] moved out of the no-contest column this time but the 19th [Cicero, Riverside, Berwyn] slumped back into that category.

Compared to the 26 contested districts thruout Illinois this primary, there were 24 in 1938, 30 in 1936, 27 in 1934, and 21 in 1932 and 1930.

Senatorial committees creating "setups" have come in for much criticism on charges of bipartisanship except in districts where one party has overwhelming strength. In the latter cases the minority party might be left without a house seat but for the setup arrangement.

OPPOSE 3D TERM BY 3 TO 1 MARGIN AT STOCKYARDS

Union workers, office employés, and commission men at the stockyards voted, 3 to 1, yesterday against a third term for any President of the United States. The poll was conducted in offices and restaurants, with 594 ballots against a third term and 190 in favor of breaking time honored precedent.

The poll was taken by the Garner for President committee of Illinois. Of 220 members of labor unions who were polled, 140 opposed a third term. One of the men, a member of a C. I. O. union, said:

"A third term for any President comes close to establishing a dictatorship. In the three European countries where dictatorships have been established, labor unions have been abolished and wages set at any figure decided upon by the government."

Of 100 office workers and commission men, only 10 expressed themselves in favor of 12 years in the White House for any chief executive.

SMALL LAUNDRY OWNERS CHARGE THREAT BY UNION

Ask Injunction to Prevent Intimidation.

Suit for an injunction to restrain officials of the Chicago Laundry Workers International union, local No. 46, from threatening and intimidating members of the Metropolitan Hand Laundry Owners' association was filed in Superior court yesterday. The bill also asks that the union be enjoined from calling strikes against association members who refuse to sign new individual contracts with the union, which is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

The association represents 500 small laundry owners who employ 1,800 of the union members. A contract entered into by the association and the union on Nov. 1, 1938, and renewed last Nov. 1 for another year, provides a wage scale ranging from 32 to 35 cents an hour, a 40 hour week, and time and a half pay for overtime. It also states that in the event union and employer representatives are unable to agree in a dispute, the matter shall be submitted to a federal district judge for decision.

Charge Attempt to Break Pact.

According to the association's bill, drawn by Attorney Morris K. Levinson, union business agents have approached association members and asked them to break the contract, which does not expire until next Nov. 1.

In its place, the bill says, the union agents want individual contracts, which omit the arbitration provision and call for a wage scale ranging from 33 to 51 cents an hour, with double pay for overtime. The bill also states that the agents have threatened strikes against the laundry owners who will not sign new contracts.

Named defendant in the suit, in addition to the union itself, are Sam Deahl, president of the local; William J. Donovan, secretary, who once operated the Bon-Air Country club; Charles Lundgren, treasurer, and Misha Gershman, a business agent.

Strike Threat Told.

Attorney Levinson said he will ask a hearing on the suit on Monday. Attached to his petition are several affidavits of laundry owners. One of these owners, Samuel Fabricant, said in his affidavit that Gershman came to his laundry at 1845 Madison street on Feb. 24 and told him: "Unless you sign we will make plenty of trouble for you." Fabricant signed a new contract, but now wants it revoked.

Bernard Nelson, owner of a laundry at 4901 Kenmore avenue, said in his affidavit that Gershman told him on Feb. 13: "Sign or we'll call a strike." He did not sign. No strike has been called.

The Chicago Laundry Owners' association, which represents more than 150 of the big power and steam plants, is not affected in the present dispute. This association, which employs 12,000 union members, signed a new blanket contract with the union on Jan. 22.

The union won its first contract with the large laundry owners in November, 1937, after 20 years of efforts to organize the industry.

UPHOLDS RELIEF BOARD'S POWER TO SHUT OFF AID

Attorney General Cassidy yesterday upheld the right of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission to withhold funds from counties in which there is evidence of frauds or irregularities.

Cassidy's statement was in reply to a complaint from L. P. Stenzel, president of the Alexander county board of commissioners, that the IERC had held back February allocations. Stenzel also questioned the right of the IERC and a county citizens' committee to pass on selection of a county relief administrator.

"While I know of no statute which requires the county board to recognize the person [as administrator] named by the citizens' committee," Cassidy's opinion read, "I know of no law or reasonable rule which prevents the IERC from seeking the advice and recommendation of citizens in connection with the honest and efficient administration of relief. Maybe the county board should get in step with the demands and purposes of the IERC if the poor of Alexander county are to eat out of the pockets of the taxpayers of the entire state."

2 FLEE BLAZE THRU WINDOW.

Mrs. Victor Magnus and her mother, Mrs. Anna Dobeis, 80 years old, escaped thru a bedroom window early yesterday when the Magnus home, east of Green Bay road and three miles northeast of Gurnee, was swept by flames. The house, a one story bungalow was destroyed with loss of $5,000.

HERSHEY BACKS STATE OIL RULE RATHER THAN U. S.

Pledges Best Efforts on Farm Problems.

BY LLOYD WENDT.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lawrenceville, Ill., March 15.—The regulation of the new Illinois oil industry is purely an Illinois problem that should be solved by this state and not by the federal government, Harry B. Hershey, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, said today. He spoke in the oil country, at Effingham, Flora, Olney, and here after returning downstate from Chicago and northern Illinois.

Members of the Hershey caravan were in high spirits, following their first campaign visit to Chicago last night. They were pleased at the size and enthusiasm of the Chicago crowds, and by remarks of Mayor Edward Kelly at ward meetings in behalf of the Hershey candidacy.

Outlines Oil Views.

Returning to his own neighborhood, Hershey dwelt on the oil situation and the problems of the farmers. He said that he does not have, nor will not have, a personal interest in the oil business.

"I am opposed to the federal regulation of the oil industry in this state," he declared. "The question, in my opinion, is purely one for we of Illinois to solve. I am opposed to any legislation whether it involves proration or other measures, which will retard the continued development of the industry in the state. I do, however, favor orderly development and regulation of the industry and would recommend legislation to prevent waste of our oil resources."

Hershey said that he favors the highway and farm-to-market road program initiated by Gov. Horner.

Points to Farm Experience.

"I have a direct interest in the farmer, for I have been a farmer myself, and a member of the farm bureau for 20 years," he said.

"I can assure you that the farmer and farm problems will get considerate attention when I am governor of Illinois."

State treasurer Louie E. Lewis, candidate for lieutenant governor, who, with Congressman John C. Martin, candidate for state auditor, is speaking with Hershey, attacked the former Republican administrations of Illinois, which, he said, loaded the state with debt.

Congressman Martin referred briefly to his record in congress and as state treasurer.

"In congress I voted for every Roosevelt measure without exception," he boasted.

DOCTORS RALLY TO BROOKS-LYONS PRIMARY BANNER

Physicians' groups in 60 counties have launched activities in support of Wayland Brooks and Richard J. Lyons, Republican candidates for United States senator and governor, respectively, in the April 9 primaries. This was announced yesterday by Dr. Martin G. Luken, head of the Brooks-Lyons medical division and chief of the surgical staff at St. Elizabeth's hospital.

"This is no longer a political fight," said Dr. Luken. "It is a fight to stop the planners from changing the whole social structure of America. The New Deal would supplant the present honored and respected practice of medicine with so-called socialized medicine.

"Only a Republican victory can stop the present dangerous trend. Brooks and Lyons have fought against the efforts to subject medicine to political interference and domination."

Allow 12,227 Home Owners to Join Tax Refund Suit

Circuit Judge Benjamin P. Epstein yesterday permitted 12,227 owners of homes and small flats to join in a taxpayers' suit seeking a 15 per cent refund on real estate taxes. The refund is sought on 1932 taxes as the result of errors in the 1931 quadrennial reassessment. The amounts average $11.40 and range from $1.31 to more than $100. The original suit was filed last September.

JUSTUS JOHNSON URGES VOTERS TO PICK ABLE MEN

Justus L. Johnson of Aurora, Republican candidate for secretary of state, said last night the activities of the Springfield Democratic machine are a warning to Republicans and voters of all parties to be on guard. He spoke before the John Marshall Law school chapter of the college Republicans at 319 Plymouth court.

"The sordid spectacle at Springfield," he said, "has awakened citizens to the realization that incompetents and moral shysters have been fingering the reins of government.

"The people will surely vote the whole gang out of office. But they will also fear that they may but be ousting one set of rascals and replacing them with an equally odious crew. I ask Republican primary voters to pick men April 9 of proven character.

"Candidates of good character and dependability have announced themselves for every office. We want no racketeers carrying the Republican standard."

JAP, RED BORDER GUARDS CLASH ON SAKHALIN ISLAND

Charge Russians Fired Without Warning.

TOYOHARA, Karafuto Island, Japan, March 16, Saturday (AP).—Soviet troops were reported to have sustained more than a dozen casualties today in a clash between Russian and Japanese border patrols near the Sakhalin-Karafuto boundary.

Two Japanese were reported wounded.

The Japanese said the soviet patrol opened fire without warning when the two patrols met.

Sakhalin Island is 600 miles long and from 18 to 100 miles wide. It has long been a source of friction between Japan and Russia.

The island was occupied by Japan during the Russian-Japanese war and at the termination of the conflict Japan received the southern half, in which reside 332,000 of the island's population of 344,000.

Reinforce Manchukuo Positions.

PEKING, China, March 16 [Saturday] (AP).—Advices reaching here today said both Japan and Russia were reinforcing their positions in the Nomonhan hill area of the disputed Manchukuo-Outer Mongolia frontier apparently in preparation for their "annual vest pocket war," which has broken out every spring or summer since 1935.

Observers here said recent developments "unmistakably confirm" that friction was continuing on the border between Japanese-dominated Manchukuo and sovietized Outer Mongolia, where a truce ended large scale fighting last September.

Build Economic Wall.

CHUNGKING, China, March 15.—Brick by brick the Chinese are laboriously building a new great wall—a 3,000 mile economic barrier stretching from the South China sea northward to the deserts of Mongolia.

Unlike the great physical barrier built 2,000 years ago to keep the barbarian hordes out of China, the new barrier is to serve a two-fold purpose: [1] To keep Japanese goods from filtering into "Free China"—the unconquered part—and [2] to prevent Chinese raw materials from flowing from the interior into Japanese occupied areas.

When completed, this barrier, Chinese officials believe, will do as much or more than Chinese military action to prevent Japan from benefitting by her conquests.

Jap Budget Approved.

TOKIO, March 15 (AP).—Approval by the house of peers today completed adoption of Japan's record general budget of 10,360,000,000 yen [about $2,427,657,000] for 1940. Sixty-five per cent of the total is allotted to the fighting forces.

She posed for a picture yesterday with six college mates of Irish descent, Mary Shannon, Ellen Jane Fitzgibbon, Anne Marie O'Rourke, Betty McCaughey, Katherine Dealy and Helen O'Day.

EXPECT PASSAGE OF HATCH BILL IN VOTE ON MONDAY

Minton and Other Foes of Measure Give Up.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 15.—The senate tonight ordered by unanimous consent a final vote at 3 p. m. Monday on the second Hatch bill, which seeks to prohibit pernicious political activity by state machine pay rollers. Passage of the bill is assured.

The senate today rejected, by the overwhelming vote of 52 to 31, a motion by Senator Scott W. Lucas [D., Ill.] to kill the bill by sending it back to the committee on privileges and elections. Thereafter it appeared for a time that the senate would pass the measure before adjourning for the day, especially when Senator Sherman [I'm a rubber stamp] Minton of Indiana, leader of the opposition, sang what he called his swan song and called for a vote.

Minton and Lucas resigned themselves to certain defeat, after fighting the bill for two weeks with all the resources at their command, but other opposition Democrats continued to raise objections and resist a final vote.

Agree to End Debate.

After repeated unsuccessful attempts, Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky finally obtained the unanimous consent agreement to vote at 3 o'clock Monday, and the senate adjourned for the week-end. The agreement, shutting off all debate at 3 o'clock, does not apply if the so-called antilynching bill is offered as an amendment, but the proponents of this measure have agreed informally not to offer it.

Even after the unimpressive showing of the Lucas motion to recommit, some Democrats apparently clung to a lingering hope that the bill might be sidetracked for the billion dollar farm appropriation measure if final action could be postponed until next week. All such hope was abandoned, however, when the unanimous consent agreement was made.

New Dealers Fearful.

What worried the New Dealers and other state machine Democrats fighting the bill today was a fear that the Bankhead amendment, limiting campaign contributions to $5,000 for any person, might not, after all, kill the bill in the house. Yesterday they believed it would, but today there were predictions in responsible quarters that the house will throw out the Bankhead amendment and still pass the bill.

The bill forbids all nonelective officials and employés of state, county, and municipal agencies receiving funds from the federal government to take any active part in political management or political campaigns.

There were further predictions in the debate today that the Hatch bill will break up state machines, including those which levy tributes of 2 per cent on state employés, and result in defeat for the Democratic party.

Warns of Fund Abuses.

Senator Walter F. George [D., Ga.], chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, told the senate today that the purpose of the Hatch bill is to safeguard free elections. Enormous concentrations of power result from the distribution of federal funds in huge amounts, and those who distribute and spend these funds must not be permitted to use them for the purpose of controling elections, Senator George contended.

Senator Minton, a self-acknowledged 2 per center who is a 100 per cent New Dealer, told the senate that he had abandoned any thought of trying to kill the Hatch bill by offering the antilynching bill as an amendment. Referring to Senator Carl A. Hatch [D., N. M.], the author, Minton said he "wouldn't like to do to the senator's bill what he is doing to the Democratic party."

"We're going to have to take the Hatch bill," said Minton mournfully. "We're at the end of the road. We're now going to march down that last mile. I'm ready to go."

A digest of the rules and regulations, which under the bill, will affect between 2½ and 3 million state, county, and municipal pay rollers, was prepared by Senator Hatch.

What Bill Provides.

The principal provisions are:

1. Candidacy for or service as delegate, alternate, or proxy in any political convention is prohibited.

2. Service for or on any political committee is prohibited.

3. Organizing or conducting political rallies or meetings or taking part therein except as a spectator is prohibited.

4. Employés may express their opinions on all subjects, but they may not make political speeches.

5. Employés may vote as they please, but they must not solicit votes, or engage in any activity at the polls except casting their own ballot.

6. Organization or leadership of political parades is prohibited, but marching in parades is not prohibited.

Party Leadership Barred.

7. Employés may not distribute campaign literature, assume political leadership, or become prominently identified with political movements, parties, or factions, or with the success or failure of any candidate for public office.

8. Candidacy for nomination or election to any office is prohibited.

9. Membership in a political club is permitted, but employés may not be officers or act as such.

10. "Voluntary" campaign contributions are permitted, but employés may not solicit, collect, or receive any contributions. The prohibition against soliciting contributions, it is believed, would put an end to the 2 per cent clubs of Illinois, Indiana, West Virginia, and other states.

Washington, D. C., March 15 (AP).—Rear Admiral Ross T. McIntire, White House physician, ordered President Roosevelt's engagements canceled today and had the chief executive remain in his quarters because of a cold. His condition was described as a holdover from a cold that kept him confined to his quarters earlier in the week.

ARMY OFFICERS SEE BLASTS SET OFF BY A 'RAY'

Oakland, Cal., March 15 (AP).—Little heaps of gunpowder exploded mysteriously in the open air as army officers watched a demonstration of a "detonator ray" described by its inventor as potentially able to blow up enemy ammunition and gasoline stores at a distance.

The demonstration was staged yesterday by Otto H. Mohr, elderly inventor, after spending several months in constructing the machine. Mohr said he had offered the device to the government as a possible instrument of defense.

Mohr declined to tell exactly how the machine operated but said it depended on both sunlight and electric power and produced vibrations which caused the powder to explode.

The army officers refused to comment on the test. Mohr said they suggested additional tests with the explosives shut off from all direct exposure to the sun.

CUT PENDERGAST FEDERAL INCOME TAX TO $350,000

Washington, D. C., March 15 (AP).—The government has accepted an offer of $350,000 to settle a tax claim of $707,000 against Tom Pendergast, jailed leader of the Kansas City Democratic machine.

Justice department officials disclosed this today shortly after it became known that a $19,000 tax claim against R. Emmett O'Malley, former Missouri state insurance superintendent, had been settled for $9,000.

Both Pendergast and O'Malley are serving terms in the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kas., for income tax evasion. O'Malley is due to be released within a few days, and Pendergast's minimum term ends May 30.

HOUSE TRICKED INTO NEW JUDGE, MEMBERS TOLD

Hears Illinois Needs No Help on Bench.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 15.—Indignation was expressed in the house today when word was received from Chicago that the sitting federal judges there had expressed surprise at the creation of a new judgeship for the northern district of Illinois. The house yesterday passed a bill authorizing the appointment of 10 new federal judges, including one for the Chicago district.

Opponents of the bill contended that the house had been deceived by a Democratic statement that an additional judge was urgently needed on the Chicago bench because of an overloaded docket and the illness of one of the six district judges.

The house judiciary committee had recommended seven new judgeships for the nation and had eliminated the Chicago area from consideration. Logrolling maneuvers, in which Chicago Democrats joined, resulted in the addition on the house floor of a judge for the northern district of Illinois, one for western Oklahoma and a new place on the eighth circuit court of appeals serving midwestern states.

Judges Seek No Help.

Informed that Charles E. Woodward, acting senior judge in the northern Illinois district, had stated that all the judges had their dockets up to date and that Evan A. Evans, senior judge of the circuit court of appeals, had remarked that he saw no reason for another judge, Representative Thomas A. Jenkins [R., O.], who led the opposition to the bill, declared:

"We were told on the floor of the house by the Democratic sponsor of the bill that criminal cases had increased by 100 per cent and that all cases had increased in the last eight months from 3,900 to 4,288. This condition was said to have resulted from the incapacity of one of the judges who was past retirement age and had spent the last five months in California."

[Representative Francis E. Walter [D., Pa.], to whose statement Jenkins referred, was believed to have meant Judge James H. Wilkerson, who has been spending a vacation in California but is expected back next week.]

"I fought against the creation of any new judges at this time," Jenkins continued. "I contended that what we needed was not more judges but better judges. I am not surprised now to learn that the federal judges in Chicago feel there is no need for another judge there. It is a justification for my position."

Called Plain Dec[illegible]n.

"It was plain deception, no more or less," declared Representative Clare E. Hoffman [R., Mich.], "by a Democratic majority eager to create new jobs at a time when they fear that many of them are going to lose their places by virtue of a Republican landslide next November."

The Chicago judgeship was not recommended by the judicial conference composed of Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes of the Supreme court and senior judges thruout the country. The recommendations of this conference are customarily followed in deciding the necessity for additional federal judges.

The measure was sent to the senate, but it was not expected that the Democratic majority there would trim the number of judgeships approved by the house despite the revelation that at least one of the places on the bench is considered superfluous by the sitting judges in the district.

COURT LOAD LIGHTER

Figures compiled in the office of Hoyt King, clerk of the United States District court, show that cases are being handled expeditiously by the six judges on the bench in Chicago. The number of civil and criminal cases awaiting trial is smaller than at any time in 10 years.

The national house of representatives on Thursday passed a bill that would permit President Roosevelt to appoint 10 additional district judges, one to be assigned to the northern district of Illinois [Cook county and 17 other counties]. This legislation, atacked by Republicans as a means of making jobs for lame duck Democratic congressmen, now must be considered by the senate.

Cases Cut by More than Half.

One of the arguments for the bill was that the docket here is crowded. The official figures show that in 1932, when only four judges were on the bench here, the total of pending cases of all kinds was 9,808. On March 1, 1940, with six judges, the total was 4,281.

The great majority of the cases as yet untried are bankruptcy matters, which ordinarily do not consume judges' time as civil and criminal cases do.

Decrease Shown in Table.

The table below shows the number of civil-criminal cases, bankruptcy matters, and total cases awaiting trial in each year since 1931. All the compilations except that of 1940 were prepared by the court clerk for presentation each July 1 to the senior judges of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, who under normal circumstances recommend the appointment of judges as needed.

	Civil-criminal.	Bankruptcies.	Total pending.
1931	2,579	5,043	7,622
1932	3,747	6,061	9,808
1933	3,613	5,761	9,374
1934	2,213	5,047	7,260
1935	2,788	5,480	8,268
1936	2,508	5,441	7,949
1937	2,149	2,829	4,978
1938	1,738	2,214	3,952
1939	1,431	2,408	3,839
1940 [March 1]	1,425	2,856	4,281

All except one of the present six judges are working. The exception is Judge James H. Wilkerson, who is on vacation and expected back in two weeks. He is not incapacitated, and the other judges have assigned him to try the difficult Annenberg cases.

Tappan Gregory, president of the Chicago Bar association, said yesterday that the association's board of governors would discuss the proposed appointment next Thursday.

Comparison of numbers of civil-criminal cases, bankruptcy cases, and total cases on the docket of the United States District court of the northern district of Illinois over a period of 10 years. The 1940 figures are as of March 1. A contention that the court is overloaded was one of the arguments for the creation of an additional judgeship, voted by the house of representatives Thursday.

JURY FAILS TO AGREE IN TRIAL OF AUTO KILLING

A jury of eight women and four men was discharged early today when it was unable after six and one-half hours of deliberation to agree on the fate of Chester Lewandowski, 25 years old, 4549 South Sacramento avenue charged with automobile manslaughter. The case was tried before Judge William J. Lindsay in the Criminal court.

Lewandowski was charged with the hit and run death of John Mehigan, 72, of 628 Madison street, last November. Lewandowski's defense was that he did not know that his car had hit Mehigan and, furthermore, that pneumonia rather than injuries caused the latter's death.

Two Motorists Get Jail Terms for Recklessness

Judge Frank M. Padden of the Safety court sentenced two motorists to the county jail yesterday for reckless driving. Joseph Trochin, 2713 West 22d place, was sentenced to 15 days, and Paul Stowiak, 9225 Phillips avenue, to 5 days. Each had collided with a parked automobile. Paul Kessrow of Wheeling was fined $100 for driving while intoxicated.

SPEEDS BY POLICE STATION; SEIZED IN HIT-RUN DEATH

Accused After Pedestrian Is Struck and Killed.

John Harrington, 30 years old, 10547 Avenue F, a steel worker, was arrested yesterday as an alleged hit-and-run motorist shortly after James McDonough, 65, 10019 Avenue L, was fatally injured at a viaduct in Ewing avenue between 99th and 100th streets.

A traffic policeman on duty at 100th street and Ewing avenue recalled seeing Harrington pass him just before the accident. The policeman told detectives of the East Side station, 10120 Ewing avenue. They were just going in search of Harrington when he sped past the station. They chased him and stopped his car six blocks away.

Harrington denied his car struck the victim. The fenders of his car, a green sedan, were dented and stained red. A witness to the accident said that the hit-run motorist, driving a green sedan, stopped after the accident, looked back, and then drove away.

Aron Johanson, part owner of A. C. Bourgerie, Inc., merchant tailoring company at 209 South State street, was killed early today when he was struck by an automobile in Foster avenue near Central Park avenue. He was pronounced dead at the Swedish Covenant hospital. Johanson was walking to his home at 5124 North Central Park avenue when he was run down. He was 55 years old. The automobile driver was John E. Peterson, 45, 1961 Balmoral avenue, a postoffice mechanic.

Martin Rapp, 28, 5912 Walton street, died in the West Suburban hospital of injuries suffered March 9 when his automobile collided head-on with a street car at Chicago and Lavergne avenues.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 193 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 147 were killed in Chicago, where 4,131 were injured in the same period.

Approve Bill to Attach Summonses to Automobiles

A proposed ordinance to permit policemen to attach summonses to parked automobiles in the absence of owners was recommended to the city council yesterday by the council traffic committee. At present policemen must hand parking violation tickets to car owners in person. The proposal has been indorsed by the legislative bureau of the Chicago Motor club.

FROM YESTERDAY'S ALBUM

By CALEB

NONE but a nonagenarian would remember the monument to great music and grand opera which stood on the Washington Street site now occupied by two prominent food stores. Yet, in its time (1864-1871), that structure was the cynosure of cultured eyes, and described as "of exceeding richness and beauty," as well as "the most magnificent west of New York."

This was the famous Crosby's Opera House—five stories high, including its mansard roof; built of Athenian marble; with a lofty arched entrance, surmounted by a pediment and four classic figures; and costing upwards of $600,000. An edifice of post-Civil War days, whose stateliness was Chicago's challenge to all comers.

Uranus H. Crosby, born on Cape Cod, and coming to the city in 1850 to open a business, had prospered handsomely in his venture; and by 1864 had conceived the idea of a home for the arts, drama and music expressive of his love for things aesthetic. Original plans, however, had to be altered and amplified as the work progressed; labor and material costs had mounted during the war—and erelong, Crosby found himself in critical financial straits.

It was at that point that, in the words of the Chicago mortgage bankers, Dovenmuehle, Inc., a group of leading citizens—men of the caliber of F. C. Sherman, L. Z. Leiter, Chauncey T. Bowen, J. C. Fargo, C. L. Wilson, J. A. Ellis, Mahlon D. Ogden and H. W. Hinsdale—"concocted probably the first, and certainly one of the most ingenuous reorganization plans ever devised to aid distressed real estate."

This was nothing less than the formation of a unique lottery, sponsored by "The Crosby Opera House Art Association," offering to the public 210,000 shares at $5 apiece. Each purchaser became an Association member; received an etching or engraving conditioned on the size of his purchase; and was eligible to share in the award of three hundred premiums—choice oil paintings ranging up to $60,000 in value. The grand prize awarded the lucky member was to be the $600,000 Opera House itself!

Share sales "spread like wildfire," and before the year's close the big drawing stage was set. Unfortunately, no records are available telling its details. All that has been discovered, from a search of the old title tracts, is that four years later "the beautiful Opera House was recovered by the Crosby family." In the summer of 1871 the entire building was reconditioned at a cost of $80,000—but on the night that Theodore Thomas and his 60-piece orchestra were scheduled for their first concert, Oct. 9, 1871, its tragic life-drama was rung down in curtains of devouring fire!

RUMANIA SPURNS HITLER OFFER TO PROTECT NATION

Carol Refuses to Place Pro-Nazi in Cabinet.

King Carol.

BUCHAREST, Rumania, March 16 [Saturday] (AP).—High Rumanian government sources declared today that the conditions of a German security offer to Rumania, involving long term guarantees from Russia and Hungary, were "intolerable and impossible of acceptance."

King Carol II., close associates said, was particularly indignant over a reported German suggestion that he take a pro-Nazi Iron Guardist into his cabinet as a condition for such security.

Other German overtures in the economic field, cited also by Germany as conditions for hands-off pledges by Russia and Hungary, likewise encountered stiff opposition. Russia lost Bessarabia and Hungary lost Transylvania to Rumania in world war settlements. There has been agitation in both countries for recovery of these areas.

Vision Economic Ruin.

King Carol's advisers were represented as feeling that any Rumanian attempt to meet German demands for a monopoly on Rumanian exports—particularly oil and grain—as the prices of guarantees would wreck the country economically almost as much as war itself.

Still another German proposal—Rumanian demobilization—was opposed by military quarters as likely to put this country completely at the mercy of foreign powers, no matter what guarantees were made on paper.

Authoritative sources said the plan was doomed to rejection unless Germany showed a disposition to modify it greatly. As things stand, Rumania has a British and French pledge of assistance against aggression. It was made prior to the war.

Fears for Independence.

Carol was represented as fearing strongly that presence in his cabinet of an Iron Guardist—avowed protector of German interests—would be nothing more than the beginning of the end of Rumania as an independent state.

Even before the assassination last September of Premier Armand Calinescu the Iron Guard had been outlawed. Hundreds of its members died in a blood purge which King Carol ordered to atone for the premier's death.

Yesterday, however, a delegation of Iron Guardists imprisoned in 1938 took advantage of royal clemency, pledged allegiance to Carol and joined the National Rebirth party, only legal political party in Rumania.

Provisions of Plan.

Provisions of the plan to have Russia and Hungary guarantee Rumania's frontiers were reported to be these:

1. Rumania would promise to demobilize immediately the majority of her 1,600,000 soldiers, who would return to work in her fields and factories. [This would help Germany get Rumanian supplies moving.]

2. Under the guidance of German experts, Rumania would accelerate her industry and agriculture to an unprecedented degree.

3. Germany would get a virtually complete monopoly on Rumanian exports of oil, cereals, and other supplies, Rumania retaining only 6 per cent of these over the average domestic consumption annually for the last five years.

4. Admission of one member of the pro-Nazi Iron Guard to the cabinet in order to "safeguard German interests."

Rumania's value as an oil reservoir and a grain bin for the war blockaded reich was said here to be so great that the Nazis are playing all their diplomatic cards in an effort to secure a monopoly and freeze out England and France.

Britain Maps New Stroke.

LONDON, March 15 (AP).—British legislators today mapped a bid for a bold diplomatic policy in the Balkans and the near east, backed by British and French military might, as a measure to thwart possible extension of war.

Informed sources disclosed that a number of members of parliament planned to demand such a vigorous policy when Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain makes his next statement on the progress of the war before the house of commons on Tuesday.

These members, it was said, will contend that the need for such a policy has become urgent because of the fear in some quarters of a possible Russian or Russian-German drive into Rumania.

SWEDEN, NORWAY RUSH DISCUSSION OF FINNISH PACT

Prepare to Assist in Rebuilding Work.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, March 15 (AP).—Sweden and Norway moved swiftly ahead today in their consideration of a defensive alliance with Finland and concrete coöperation in the rebuilding of their stricken little neighbor.

C. J. Hambro, president of the Norwegian parliament, reached Stockholm during the day, and informed quarters said he would discuss the political background of the proposed tripower alliance.

Plans for Swedish and Norwegian assistance to Finland in her gigantic rehabilitation task were advanced with the unofficial announcement that Sweden would lend a large number of motor buses to help in the movement of the Finnish population from areas ceded to Russia.

Labor Corps May Be Formed.

Stockholm commentators predicted the organization of a large Scandinavian labor corps to help in the reconstruction. Finland's material losses during the war were estimated by the Stockholm newspaper Nya Dagligt Allehanda at about $500,000,000.

In Oslo the Norwegian parliament discussed the question of voting $150,000 to aid the Finns migrating to Norway. It also was disclosed that 300,000 Norwegian workers voluntarily would go to Finland to aid in reconstructiton.

Norwegian Foreign Minister Halvdan Koht said Norway so far had pledged only its willingness to discuss the possibility of a defensive alliance but that it might become advisable to give the scheme "earnest consideration."

The Swedish government has not committed itself formally beyond Foreign Minister Christian Gunther's declaration of March 13 that the "danger is not over. . . . The question of strengthening Scandinavian coöperation should be submitted to an unbiased examination."

Won't Interfere, Nazis Say.

BERLIN, March 15 (AP).—Germany, political quarters said today, has adopted a hands off policy toward the proposed Finnish-Swedish-Norwegian defensive alliance.

"We see no reason for taking a stand toward this affair," they said. "The Scandinavian countries must retain full freedom to decide all questions immediately affecting themselves independent of foreign influence."

BRITAIN DANGLES NEW BAIT BEFORE ITALY TO REGAIN COAL MARKET

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 15.—Despite reports that Germany has agreed to supply Italy with all the coal she needs overland to escape the British blockade, official circles here were optimistic today that Anglo-Italian trade negotiations scheduled to be resumed soon would regain for the British mining industry a large slice if not all of the lost Italian market.

Since Britain has abundant coal supplies which Italy requires available for export, convictions were expressed here that a basis of exchange can be found tho the original negotiations broke down on this point.

To facilitate the pact, it is suggested here, if Italy undertakes important engineering work for Britain, the London and Paris governments are prepared to provide Italian industry with stocks of raw materials over which they exercise a large measure of control. Plain hints, however, are being dropped that Britain will need to be satisfied with products of Italian industries will not go to aid Germany's war effort.

French to Execute Ex-Officer of German Army as a Spy

PARIS, March 15 (AP).—A former second lieutenant in the German army, Karl Schmerer-Steinberg, was sentenced to death today by a military court on a charge of espionage. He is a native of Vienna and was arrested in Paris last July.

DEBATE POLICY OF ISOLATION IN STATE CONTEST

The pros and cons of a United States' policy of economic and military isolation from all belligerent nations outside the western hemisphere were presented yesterday at the annual Illinois intercollegiate debate tournament at Lake Forest college. One hundred and four young men and women from 16 colleges in the state are competing in the debates, which end at noon today.

The position of the affirmatives—those advocating isolation—was that this country was drawn into the last war because it became too dependent on foreign trade.

The educational institutions competing, in addition to Lake Forest college, are Augustana college, Rock Island; East Illinois State Teachers' college, Charleston; Greenville college, Greenville; Illinois college, Jacksonville; Illinois State Normal university, Normal; Illinois Wesleyan university, Bloomington; MacMurray College for Women, Jacksonville; Millikin university, Decatur; Monmouth college, Monmouth; North Central college, Naperville; Northern Illinois State Teachers' college, De Kalb; Northwestern university, Evanston; Olivet college, Olivet; Southern Illinois State Teachers' college, Carbondale, and Wheaton college, Wheaton.

Visit of 2 German U-Boats to Galapagos Is Reported

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador, March 15.—The newspaper Universo today published a letter from a resident of the Galapagos Islands reporting a visit to the islands of two German submarines. According to the letter the submarines stopped at San Salvador and took on oil, food, and supplies. The letter was dated Feb. 24. Skeptical authorities are investigating.

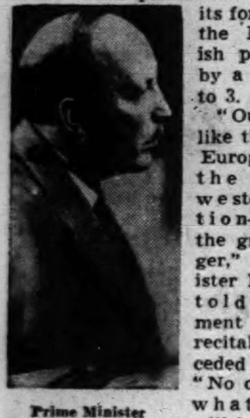
FINN PARLIAMENT RATIFIES TREATY WITH REDS, 145-3

Army and Civilians Begin Trek from War Zone.

HELSINGFORS, March 15 (AP).—The Finnish parliament tonight put its formal seal on the Russo-Finnish peace treaty by a vote of 145 to 3.



Prime Minister Risto Ryti.

"Our country, like the whole of Europe—indeed, the whole of western civilization—still is in the greatest danger," Prime Minister Risto Ryti told the parliament in a calm recital which preceded the vote. "No one can say what tomorrow will bring."

Advised by Ryti that "to make peace often calls for more courage than the resort to war," the parliament deliberated for two and one-half hours, then voted. The negative ballots were cast by members of Finland's Swedish party. Nine other members, who are in the army, were not present to record their opinions.

Armies Leave War Zones.

By the time this happened the heartsick and tired armies of Finland already had tramped 4 miles, pressing ahead of them 100,000 refugees, along a zigzag 226 mile front. They were leaving behind them the rich industrial and farm areas which henceforth will lie under the soviet hammer and sickle.

Explaining why Finland agreed to peace at Russia's price, Ryti declared that the little republic was fighting alone except for "merely a few reinforced battalions, mostly from Sweden."

He said that the last minute aid offered by Britain and France could not have reached Finland "earlier than the end of April and the strength of troops then arriving would have been so small as to be insufficient even to make up for casualties our own army would have suffered in the meantime."

Drawn Into Bigger War.

"By accepting this help," he explained further, "we would have been drawn into the world war, the duration of which is impossible to predict.

"The question of military assistance was rendered further uncertain by the fact that it would have had to arrive thru two neutral countries, Sweden and Norway, which refused to allow its passage."

As the combined military and civilian exodus began from the territories ceded to Russia Foreign Minister Vaino Tanner, in a broadcast to the United States, appealed for continued aid in the work of reconstruction.

He estimated that homes must be found for 450,000 persons who once resided in the areas now Russian, and reminded his hearers of the "tens of thousands" of men who were wounded in the war and for whom the government must now care.

Must Be Cleared by March 26.

Every available vehicle was pressed into service to aid the civilian exodus, but many trudged weary miles on foot, struggling with bundles containing a few salvaged possessions as they endeavored to keep ahead of the steadily moving troop columns.

The entire Karelian isthmus and the area northeast of Lake Ladoga must be cleared by March 26. Withdrawal from other ceded areas north of Lieksa and in eastern Finland will begin at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

Helsingfors itself is returning slowly to normal routine. Wartime restrictions on lighting have been lifted, except for advertising signs. Street cars resumed their regular schedules today.

Reds Celebrate in Viipuri.

MOSCOW, March 15 (AP).—Mass meetings of Russian soldiers to "hail the Red army's exploits and the peace policy of the soviet union" were held on street corners of ruined, burning Viipuri immediately after its occupation, Russian correspondents reported today.

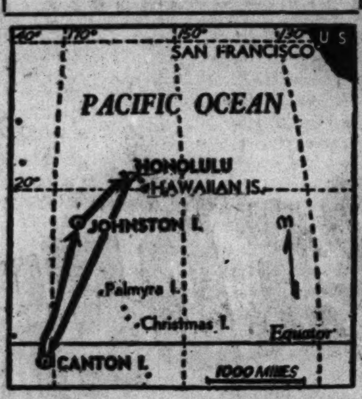
"Viipuri was unforgettable during the hours of the occupation," wrote the correspondent of Red Star, the army organ, who marched with the columns which seized the city as fighting ended Wednesday.

"Side by side are raging flames and tall buildings still untouched by fire emerging from the cream colored smoke.

"Our troops enter the city, preceded by sappers clearing the way. The Red army columns pass the charred ruins of houses in the suburbs with the Red banner already floating above them. Gradually Red flags, waving in the wind, are raised on more and more housetops.

"Our troops, growing in numbers, gather in mass meetings on the street corners."

Fly to New Base



Straight solid line marks route of planes to Canton island and other line shows return course.

HONOLULU, Hawaii, March 15 (AP). Six navy patrol-bombers landed safely at Canton island, south of the equator, after a mass flight of nearly 2,000 miles from Honolulu, naval officers disclosed today. The landing yesterday was the first arrival of American naval planes at the mid-Pacific aviation base jointly controlled by England and the United States. The trip also marked the first flight across the equator in the Pacific by United States warplanes. The squadron was expected to fly north to Johnston island, where the navy is building a seaplane base, and then to make the final 750 mile hop back to Hawaii. The journey was a forerunner of the flight of a full squadron of planes sometime before June from the Pearl Harbor here to Manila.

BRITISH SUPPLY MINISTRY TO BAR INSIDE DICKERS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 15.—Leslie Burgin, supply minister, today informed parliament that he was drafting new regulations making it unlawful for any one to attempt to obtain a commission on the ground that he could bring influence on a public servant. Burgin's announcement followed charges that commission brokers had boasted that they had an inside track in his office. Penalties for infraction of the impending laws will be two years' imprisonment and a $2,000 fine.

Despite Burgin's announcement in the house of commons, demands for his resignation were heard tonight.

Herbert Morrison, a Laborite, made accusations that Capt. C. R. Ullman, Sir Charles Allom, munitions contractor, and others had endeavored to obtain commissions.

SENATOR URGES RECALL OF OUR ENVOY TO RUSSIA

Washington, D. C., March 15 (AP).—Congressional sympathy for Finland found expression today in proposals to sever diplomatic relations with soviet Russia and to lend the Finns money to rehabilitate their bombed cities and care for their stricken people.

Senator D. Worth Clark [D., Idaho] proposed in a resolution that the United States withdraw its ambassador from Moscow. He charged that Russia had "flagrantly, openly and almost admittedly" violated its 1933 pledges not to interfere in the internal affairs of the United States.

Senator Prentiss M. Brown [D., Mich.], offered a bill to permit Finland to use loans from the Export-Import bank to rebuild cities, pay other expenses of reconstruction, or even purchase defense materials.

FRENCH PREMIER PLEDGES HARDER WAR ON GERMANY

Wins Confidence Vote; Hint Cabinet Shakeup.

PARIS, March 15 (AP).—With French war cabinet changes reported in the offing, Premier Edouard Daladier emerged tonight from a two-day secret senate quiz on his war policies backed by a clean vote of confidence, 240 to 0, that he would wage war against Germany with "increasing energy."

The session, which began amidst widespread calls for action on the western front, ended with renewed hints that Daladier would make some changes in his war cabinet by Easter. There were a number of abstentions from the vote among the 310 members of the senate.

Gamelin May Get Post.

Parliamentary sources voiced belief that Gen. Maurice Gustave Gamelin, commander in chief of the British and French armies in France, would take over the war portfolio now held by Daladier. This would leave a battle-scarred veteran of many wars, Gen. Alphonse Georges, 64 years old, in command of the allied land forces.

There has been criticism of Daladier because he holds too many jobs. He is premier, minister of war, national defense, and foreign affairs.

The unanimous expression by the senate today, however, gave Daladier an endorsement of the free hand given his government by the chamber of deputies after a similar secret debate Feb. 10.

Daladier had to defend his policies before the senate against criticism made sharper by the failure of England and France to act in time to aid Finland.

Hails Finland's Fight.

The senate also unanimously expressed its admiration of Finland's fight against Russia.

The vote was divided into two sections—one on Finland and another on Daladier—and the question then was approved in its entirety by a show of hands. The text of the motion:

"The senate, addressing to heroic Finland the esteem of its admiration and the faith it holds in her destines; trusting in the government, in close accord with our allies, to conduct the war with increasing energy to the complete victory that will assure the liberty of all nations, passes to the order of the day."

Deputies Seek Explanation.

The chamber of deputies was expected to demand next week further enlightenment on the rôle of the western powers in the Finnish war and peace. The deputies today approved an appropriation of $1,155,000,000 for military expenses in the second quarter of 1940. For the first quarter $1,159,170,700 previously was appropriated.

Bohemia-Moravia Marks 1st Anniversary Under Reich

PRAGUE, March 15 (AP).—The German protectorate of Bohemia-Moravia marked its first anniversary under reich rule today in an atmosphere which authorities likened to "Sunday quiet." Authorities said there were no demonstrations by Czechs. Prague had a military parade.

FALL INJURIES FATAL.

80,000 JEWS PUT INTO GHETTOS BY NAZIS IN CRACOW

Many Families Live in Same House.

CRACOW, March 15.—Some 80,000 Jews living in Cracow—capital of the Polish and Jewish area of Poland—gradually are being pushed into ghettos under the strict National Socialist [Nazi] régime of Gov. Hans Frank.

Virtually cut off from all communication with Jews in Germany and other parts of the world, Jews in Cracow have been thrown entirely on their own resources. They are living in a socialistic form of community. The poor Jews live off the rich and the rich live off the liquid resources left by the German régime.

A picture of conditions of Jews in Cracow is furnished by the Warschauer Zeitung, official organ of the district.

Many Live Under One Roof.

Jews in the German provinces of former Poland are being transported to this district. Many are settling, temporarily at least, in Cracow, where lack of housing has forced many families to live under the same roof.

Moreover, the Jews are being evicted from their homes and concentrated in one section of the city which some day is destined to become an exclusive Jewish district, or ghetto.

All Jews must wear white armbands bearing the blue star of David. Failure to wear the insignia, it is said, can lead to serious punishment. Its use serves two purposes—public identification of all non-Aryans and proof that they have been registered in a government card index system.

Work for Food Tickets.

All able bodied Jews have been put to work by the authorities. The poor must work for food tickets and financial support. The work is supervised by the city, which pays the Jewish organization according to the number of workers employed. Seven Jewish kitchens distribute 8,000 meals twice a day.

About one-tenth of all Jews in Cracow are supported in this manner. Clothing for the poor is taken from those who have more than they need. Taxes are imposed according to income. Those in the higher brackets are required to pay heavily.

Jews also are compelled to use three bathing establishments set aside for them and 49 cheap lodging houses which furnish refuge for about 4,000 a night. The Jewish hospital has 100 beds. There are three orphanages and one old people's home.

U. S. MANUFACTURERS SUSPEND TALKS WITH BRITISH PLANE BUYERS

New York, March 15 (AP).—American manufacturers who have been dickering with French and British purchasing missions for the sale of a billion dollars worth of warplanes suspended their talks today.

It was understood the negotiations, at least for late model planes which the empires hoped to obtain, would not be resumed unless next week's congressional inquiry into the sale of aircraft abroad is held in a "favorable" atmosphere.

Representatives of at least eight plane and engine makers, who remained uncommunicative, left the city after less than five days of conversations. The sudden suspension may also have been connected with the possibility of a general European peace move in the wake of the termination of the Russo-Finnish war.

SAVED BY NEIGHBOR.

Kankakee, Ill., March 15 [Special].—Mrs. Adhemar Tetrault of Bourbonnais was found unconscious on the floor of her bedroom today, overcome by furnace gas. Timely arrival of a neighbor, Mrs. Madeline Wolffe, saved her life. A physician was called and revived Mrs. Tetrault.

DOUBLE KILLING IN GEORGIA LAID TO KLAN RIDERS

Floggings in Other Cases Blamed on Them.

Atlanta, Ga., March 13 (AP).—City police attempted today to link a Ku Klux Klan "whipping crew" to a recent dual slaying, and an American Legionnaire demanded the resignation of Sheriff Mott Aldredge, claiming he failed to curb floggings and tolerated Klansmen among his deputies.

While the Fulton county grand jury awaited new bills of indictment in a score of flogging cases uncovered by the fatal beating of an East Point barber last week, Solicitor General John Boykin said he was investigating reports of several more lashings administered to labor organizers.

Slain in Lovers' Lane.

Police Captain Ben W. Seabrook expressed conviction night riding terrorists killed attractive Sarah Rawls and Benton Ford in a lovers' lane near McDonough two weeks ago.

"I already have strong evidence indicating that a whipping crew was drawn into the case by the jealousy of a close relative of one of the Klansmen," he said.

Seabrook said it was his theory that four Klansmen, who also are suspected in the East Point whipping cases, trailed the couple to the isolated lane in the belief that Ford was another man, rival of their friend for the affections of Miss Rawls.

Girl Beaten to Death.

When they attempted to lash Ford, a powerful man, he resisted so strongly they killed him in the fight and then bludgeoned the girl to death because she knew them, Seabrook theorized.

He said he already had questioned the suspected men and was keeping them under surveillance.

Drop Friday Fasting During War for French Catholics

PARIS, March 15.—Beginning on Easter and extending until the end of European hostilities, Catholics in France may dispense with the Friday fasting, the archbishop of Paris decreed today. Recent government restrictions providing for three consecutive meatless days, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, meant devout Catholics had to go meatless four days a week.

PLAN BIG OFFENSIVE ON WESTERN FRONT: A WAR AGAINST RATS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, March 15.—The quiet on the western front is about to be awakened by a "microbe war" waged by the sanitary corps against rats which have invaded Strasbourg. The army turned cats loose in the deserted city, but they failed to wipe out the pests. It was announced today that the Pasteur institue has developed a virulent culture which it is offering the sanitary corps. Bread steeped in the culture will be left in places frequented by the rats. This is expected to kill most of the rats in three days. Cats and dogs then will be turned loose to "clean up" the survivors.

ADOLPH HITTLER GIVES FUEHRER'S AIDS A HEADACHE

GENEVA, March 15.—Adolf Hittler, 70 years old, a Lithuanian Jew, is causing Nazi authorities in German occupied Poland considerable embarrassment, the Jewish People's paper of Zurich said today. The paper declared that when the war began Hittler was visiting the village of Wloclawec. Since that time, the paper said, he has been asking German authorities for a visa so he could return to Lithuania.

According to the article, the objection to granting the visa is that Hittler's name resembles that of Fuehrer Hitler too closely for the Nazis either to risk the Fuehrer's displeasure or possibly a mistaken sense of humor on the part of the Lithuanian border guards.

The paper said that when Hitler came to power many Polish Jews with the family name of Hittler petitioned Polish authorities for permission to change their name. The Poles granted the permission when the petitioner's first name was Adolf.

Woman Red Is Snubbed by Federation of Clubs

Indianapolis, Ind., March 15 [Special]. — The District Federation of Clubs at its meeting today assailed communism when a young woman who gave her name as Miss Imogene Poston and said she represented the communist party, demanding the privilege of speaking for her party. The members immediately protested and "no's" drowned out the speaker. She and a companion started to leave. By request they remained to hear unanimous indorsement of the recommendation of the district board that the communist party be removed from the Indiana ballot.

BIOFF CASE NOW UP TO GOVERNOR AND HIGH COURT

Prystalski Denies Plea to Avoid Jail Term.

Willie Bioff's hope to escape from serving an 18 year old Bridewell sentence for pandering now rests with the Illinois Supreme court and Gov. Horner. The west coast movie labor leader was left with this last resort yesterday by Chief Justice John Prystalski of the Criminal court.

Judge Prystalski refused to free Bioff from serving the old jail term of six months, imposed in 1922. The court dismissed Bioff's petition for a writ of habeas corpus, holding that this was only a matter for executive clemency, since the courts have no pardoning power.

Will File New Plea.

At the request of Bioff's lawyer, State Senator Abe Marovitz, high priced Criminal court attorney, the judge delayed entering his order until March 25. This will permit Marovitz to proceed with his announced intention of filing an original habeas corpus action with the Supreme court which, in effect, amounts to an appeal.

Bioff meanwhile was permitted to remain at liberty on his $5,000 bond. The former protégé of Jack Zuta, slain west side vice lord, said he probably would remain in Chicago instead of returning to Hollywood, where he represents 35,000 unionists in labor negotiations. Bioff said he would conduct his affairs by telephone.

Informed of the court order, Jackson Parks, spokesman for the conference of studio unions in Hollywood, said:

"Bioff will remain chairman and will continue to direct film labor negotiations, even if he has to do it from a jail cell."

No Jurisdiction, Says Judge.

In an informal opinion Judge Prystalski said he had consulted all the available law and had come to the conclusion that his court has no jurisdiction to release Bioff by habeas corpus. He then reviewed at length the court testimony.

After his conviction in 1922 Bioff served a few days in jail, then obtained his release on bond, pending appeal. The case was affirmed in the Appellate court in February, 1923, but no order was ever issued for Bioff's arrest. Testimony at the present court sessions inferred that Bioff's boss, Zuta, had succeeded in having the judgment forgotten.

"The record shows," said Judge Prystalski, "that this man is quite a factor in Los Angeles labor circles. He has married and led a decent life and has not been involved in any crime since his conviction.

Up to State Executive.

"The position of Bioff is that the state abandoned judgment by failing to enforce it after 16 or 18 years had passed. I am of the opinion that such a situation can only be realized thru the pardoning power of the executive department."

Bioff and his attorney seemed stunned by the court's decision. Attorney Marovitz rested his head on the counsel table. Bioff's drooped disconsolately.

INDICT DENTIST ACCUSED BY 720 TEETH BUYERS

Sylvan B. Heininger, a dentist at 440 Huron street, advertised that dental plates from his skilled hands would enable their possessors to "masticate, chew, talk, laugh, and smile" as if the teeth were natural. But 720 customers thruout the country snapped back with complaints that the choppers were ill fitting and uncomfortable.

These accusations were made yesterday in an indictment returned by the federal grand jury before Judge Charles E. Woodward, charging Heininger with mail fraud.

Assistant United States Attorney A. Bradley Eben said Heininger's income from March, 1933, to April, 1939, was $661,000. The plates cost from $5 to $35. His brother-in-law, John Alger, and his sister, Mrs. Josephine Alger, who operate a dental laboratory at 1562 North Wells street, were indicted recently on similar charges.

2 BANDITS RAID AUTO FIRM; COW 7; FLEE WITH $350

Two bandits terrorized five men and two women yesterday in a raid on two floors of the quarters of Bruns and Collins, Inc., auto accessory firm at 2532 Cottage Grove avenue. One of the gunmen covered C. H. Bruns, the owner, Miss Adeline Pecis, switchboard operator, and two clerks on the first floor. The other bandit ran upstairs, forced Raymond Barry, bookkeeper, to surrender $300, and then forced Barry and another man and woman to join the others downstairs.

Delay Woman's Hearing on Court Hall Shooting

A charge of assault to kill against Mrs. Aino Orgo Tossavainen, 734 Briar place, was continued yesterday by Judge Jay A. Schiller in Felony court until March 25, pending the outcome of wounds she inflicted on Mrs. Mabel Buchanan, foster mother of Mrs. Tossavainen's daughter, Carmen, 4. Mrs. Tossavainen shot Mrs. Buchanan Wednesday in a corridor outside the Juvenile court.

STATE ACCUSED OF WIRE TAPPING IN JURY FIX CASE

Accusations that the state's attorney's office obtained evidence in a jury fixing case by tapping telephone wires were made yesterday before Judge James F. Fardy. Attorneys representing seven defendants charged with the fixing, which allegedly occurred while an 11th ward vote fraud case was being tried, contended that such evidence was outlawed by court decisions and could not be used.

The argument was made in connection with a defense motion that the state submit a bill of particulars and a list of witnesses. Judge James F. Fardy gave the defendants 10 days to file briefs supporting their position and gave the state 10 days more to answer. The court promised to rule on the point April 12.

The defendants are Attorney George Crane, John Howe, suspended state policeman; Marvin Olson, an ex-convict; Samuel Orlando, 11th ward Democratic politician; James Creed, former court bailiff, and two jurors, Mrs. Martha Aumond and James McNamara.

SANITY TEST FOR SLAYER OF ARMY COLONEL'S WIFE

Columbia, S. C., March 15 (AP).—Mrs. May Walker Burleson, 51 years old, of Galxeston, Tex., held here in the fatal shooting of her divorced husband's second wife, Mrs. Richard C. Burleson, was committed to the state hospital for the insane today for 30 days of observation on order of Circuit Judge G. Duncan Bellinger.

The court order was issued on motion of attorneys for Mrs. Burleson, after Dr. P. E. Payne, city health officer, said in an affidavit he believed "she is of unsound mind."

The order was granted with the consent of Solicitor A. F. Spigner of the 5th circuit.

Mrs. Burleson was moved from a private institution, where she was placed several days ago.

Mrs. Burleson was ordered held for General Sessions court last night after a coroner's jury found she fired the shot that killed the second Mrs. Burleson, wife of a United States army colonel, in the Jefferson hotel cafeteria March 8.

ALLMAN MAKES GEORGE TEELING A POLICE CAPTAIN

Police Commissioner Allman issued orders yesterday promoting Lieut. George A. Teeling, head of the stolen auto section, to captain. Teeling will fill a vacancy caused by the retirement of Capt. Charles Essig of Rogers Park. Teeling will remain in charge of the stolen auto section.

Four sergeants were made lieutenants and were transferred. They are John P. Burns, Warren avenue to Irving Park; Joseph J. Murrin, West North avenue to Lawndale; John P. Bush, South Wabash to Hyde Park, and George T. Kelly, Gresham to Englewood.

Four patrolmen were promoted to sergeants. They are Cyril M. Donovan, assigned to the office of Mayor Kelly; El[illegible]th W. Erickson, sent from Sheffield avenue to Rogers Park; Joseph J. Vojtech, from New City to Desplaines street, and Edward R. Satunas, from Chicago Lawn to Hyde Park.

BALL POOL HEAD STATE WITNESS AGAINST M'CREA

Detroit, Mich., March 15 [Special].—Leo J. [Jack] Gagnon, operator of the National Sports Junior Baseball pool, testified today that a promise that he would be immune from prosecution had induced him to appear as a witness against Prosecutor Duncan McCrea and 11 others charged with conspiracy to operate the pool.

Gagnon's admission was given on cross-examination in the examination being held before Judge Homer Ferguson, whose one man grand jury brought the indictment.

Gagnon and several others are listed as co-conspirators in the grand jury warrants, but not as defendants.

On direct examination, Gagnon has claimed that approximately $57,000 a year was paid to law enforcement officers for the privilege of operating the pool.

THE LEGISLATURE SHOULD BE IN SPRINGFIELD.

If the Illinois legislature were in session, doubts regarding competency of the state government raised by Gov. Horner's ill health might be the more easily and more satisfactorily resolved. The governor has been incapacitated for nearly a year and a half. Part of this time he was out of the state. For another period he was virtually quarantined in Highland Park, on the north shore, protected by doctors' orders from even social visits. This isolation from normal daily life has continued in Springfield and only rarely has Mr. Horner appeared to take any part in directing the affairs of the state.

The people must have a very confused idea of how the routine of state government is carried on and only the closest friends of the governor know whether he is able to act as governor. Even when he was out of the state the lieutenant governor did not take over the conduct of the office but joined in some sort of an administrative junto extemporized off the record to carry out what was called the governor's policy.

Sympathy for Mr. Horner in his ill health has been a restraint on inquiry. Fair minded people have not wanted to increase his difficulties or add to his discomfort by making demands upon him or by pressing questions regarding him.

If the affairs of the state were proceeding without disturbing incidents and if the administration were without untoward events, it is probable that there would be no serious question raised now. But the state's affairs are not in a satisfactory condition. They are disquieting. The situation is one which all of Mr. Horner's friends are convinced would not exist if he could have kept things constantly under his eye and control.

Citizens are beginning to ask if there is a way by which the facts both as to the governor's condition and as to the methods of administration can be ascertained. When Woodrow Wilson's illness raised the question of possible disability, congress sent a committee of inquiry which found him a very sick man but allowed the nation to understand that no procedure was required.

Altho it was understood last fall that a special session would be called to deal with certain emergencies, including an amendment to the old age assistance law which had been vetoed under a misapprehension of what congress would do, the months have gone by without the call. It has been assumed that Mr. Horner did not feel equal to it.

He has delegated his authority on occasion, such as the meeting of the state certifying board which recognized the illegal Roosevelt candidacy, to persons for whom no legal provision can be found. They have acted in his place without precedent or warrant.

The lack of a directing head was revealed in the progress of the typhoid epidemic at the Manteno state hospital for the insane. Mr. Horner, actively at work at his desk, would have perceived the meaning of the conditions there long before they could have taken 60 lives. Only the insiders, the men of the group admitted to see Mr. Horner, know how the state is being governed.

If there is no evidence or promise that Mr. Horner will be back at his desk shortly, it would seem almost imperative that some authoritative inquiry be made into the state of his health and the status of administration. For this purpose the legislature would be the proper source of authority. If the assembly were in session it could appoint a committee to discover and make known the facts. If Lieut. Gov. Stelle should assume the prerogative of governor for the purpose of calling the assembly to Springfield the validity of the call would be questioned. The legality of the session would be attacked. But if the legislators responded and if they appointed a committee to make the necessary inquiries, in a fair manner and a fair spirit, a refusal to aid that inquiry would seem to be palpably inconsistent with what the welfare of the state demands. The men surrounding the governor might do everything they could in opposition. In doing so they would reveal their bad faith and alarm for their personal political fortunes.

Thru the legal questions raised by the convening of the legislature at the call of the lieutenant governor acting in the place of the governor there might be a judicial approach to the whole question of competency of administration. It is not unjust and unsympathetic to Gov. Horner to say that a continuance of government as it has existed in Illinois for the last 17 months is injurious to the state, productive of disorder and scandal, inviting malfeasance, and is to be regarded as intolerable.

If Mr. Horner is not soon at his desk, the legislators should be at theirs. Apparently action by Mr. Stelle will be required.

YIELD FROM THE INCOME TAX.

The roof of the national debt stands at 45 billion dollars. Each month we get closer and closer to it. The government now owes 2 billion dollars more than it did at the beginning of the present fiscal year on July 1 last. By keeping business men in a constant state of jitters the government has been able to restrict private borrowing to very low figures. Having little competition for banking funds, the government is able to borrow at extremely low rates. But even so, the interest on the federal debt this year will amount to over a billion dollars.

That is a figure of some significance to those of our suffering citizens who yesterday made the down payment on their annual income tax. The tax ought to bring a very substantial sum, because, tho it amounts to only 2 per cent on a $5,000 per year income of a married man, it progresses steeply to the highest level of exaction ever imposed by this or any other government. At $25,000 it is 10 per cent; at $100,000 it is 32 per cent; at $500,000 it is 61 per cent; at 1 million dollars it is 68 per cent, and at 5 million dollars it is 76 per cent.

From such high rates, after the second best year in Mr. Roosevelt's administration, the government will be able to collect about 900 million dollars. Tho yesterday was a sad and difficult day for many of us, and tho we face as sad and as difficult days again in June, September, and December, what the government takes from us as individuals this year won't even be enough to pay the interest on the debt. When a government which is continuing to pile up new debts is not able to extort enough from its citizens to pay interest on old debts, the state of its finances can only be described as desperate.

MR. WELLES HITS THE TRAIL BACK.

Mr. Sumner Welles is headed back. After he has seen Mussolini and Ciano again, and rechecked his impressions and information, if any, he will sail for home. The American undersecretary of state was discreet and apparently made himself eligible for any bits of fact or thought the European rulers cared to give him. He said that nothing conveyed to him would be repeated to any one until he reported to Mr. Roosevelt. Therefore, interested persons can only guess at what may come out of his mission.

The best guess is that it will amount to nothing more than another parade of Mr. Roosevelt's ambitions along the highway for the observation of the circus loving public. Mr. Roosevelt is building himself up on the international stage for whatever may come of it later. He uses Europe as a diversion which, if properly managed, will draw attention away from the domestic scene. He tries to assume a trusteeship abroad to avoid a full accounting for his trusteeship at home.

What could have been expected of Mr. Welles' European travels? Mr. Bullitt in France and Mr. Kennedy in England must feel that they have wasted a great deal of banana oil if they are not now esteemed in Paris and London as capable of forwarding everything that Daladier and Chamberlain desire Mr. Roosevelt to know. Hitler and Mussolini are fellows who might make a special use of a special occasion and have more to say to some one approaching them with extraordinary credentials and more than usual diplomatic front. That happens occasionally when odd characters and erratic men are in the transaction.

The American ambassadorial post in Berlin is, for the time, empty, and Mr. Welles may have been barked at by the fuehrer to some purpose. It is the fairest inference from all that is known that Mr. Roosevelt didn't expect to learn anything, but did expect to increase his prestige abroad and at home. That would be the least consequential thing that could happen.

The most dangerous possibility would be that Mr. Roosevelt, following in the footsteps of Mr. Wilson, would seek to lead the American people to believe again that the world would be unsafe unless the British and the French wrote the peace terms, and to believe that America must again undertake to make that possible.

AIRPLANES FOR GUNS.

The British and French say that one limitation upon their airplane purchases will be the defense requirements of the United States. This country naturally has the prior lien on the production of its own industries, and while there may be a tendency in the national administration to subordinate our own interests to the necessities of Europe, there should be none.

However, our own interests dictate that this country suspend its purchases of military and naval aircraft. Combat experience in Europe is bound to cause vast improvement in design. If we do not buy now we will be in a position to take advantage of the technical advance so stimulated at a later date. If we do buy now we will only fill our hangars with planes that will be obsolete by the time they are delivered.

Nevertheless, there is a seller's market in the airplane industry at the moment. Patriotism and common prudence demand that our government take full advantage of it to strengthen our own national defense. If reports from Europe are correct, our airplane designers have little to learn from Great Britain or France until more extensive combat tests have given them some new ideas.

In another field the United States is far behind the French in particular and the British to a lesser extent. That is in the design of artillery. Some time ago the purchasing mission indicated that it was not interested in purchasing any American artillery. The reason given, at least by implication, was that the French have better guns in their second line or reserve supply than we have in active service.

Artillery designs do not change radically, yet our own ordnance department has failed sadly to keep pace with developments in this field. We are still attempting to modernize the 75s that our former allies sawed off on us at the close of the last war, while this gun is rapidly being replaced with heavier caliber weapons abroad. Our heavy artillery is still more antiquated, and our supply of it negligible.

Before granting export licenses for the planes which the British and French wish to buy our government should receive in return the designs of the modern French artillery.

Editorial of the Day

NO ENEMY TO HATE.

[Daily Oklahoman.]

There is not a nation on the face of the globe that the United States regards as its blood enemy and hates accordingly. Possibly we would have a greater measure of solidarity among our citizens if we did have some generally hated foreign enemy. In that event the American people might not be so generally and disgustingly disposed to hate one another. All European nationals hate most or all of their neighbors, and as a result of that European countries have a national solidarity that causes them to stand united 100 per cent against a world in arms. We have no general hatred for the nations of the world or for any particular nation. And in consequence we have multitudinous bunds consumed by a mortal hatred for Catholics and Protestants, and Jews and Negroes, and cities and states, and sections and parties, and factions and what have you. Maybe if we had just one foreign country to hate furiously we would not have so many hatreds for one another. However, a mortal hatred for some foreign power would not be any credit to the American people.

TWINS IN HISTORY?

Did you ever wonder why twins, who are so prevalent in plots for plays and novels, are so rare in history? For it is a fact that few, if any, footsteps in the sands of time have been left by twins, whether in double or single harness.

In a search for twins who have become subjects for historians, you can make a flying start with the mythological Castor and Pollux, whose father was Zeus disguised as a swan; and you can get as far as the founding of Rome by the legendary Romulus and Remus, who may have been human beings instead of demigods. Then you will have to mark time thru the ages, picking up nothing but small fry.

The biologists who have specialized in the study of twinning—or shall we say plural births, to include the Five Prodigies of Ontario?—are not much help in this matter. They are not aware of any twins who have worn crowns, won battles and elections, or become immortal geniuses. They excuse themselves by saying that interest in twins is a fairly modern side line of science; and that in the olden, golden days nobody bothered about collecting data on the subject. But this argument does not hold, because people have been talking about twins ever since Castor and Pollux became a sign of the zodiac; and when we say "By jimminy," we are using an ancient Latin oath, "By Gemini"—the Heavenly Twins.

In the 17th century there were the Bach twins, prominent German musicians, father and uncle respectively of the great Johann Sebastian Bach. Today, there are the Piccards, Swiss scientists who make balloon flights into the stratosphere. . . . We can skip the college athletes—the Murphys of the U. of C., tennis, the Gueppes of Marquette and the Orfs of Missouri, football, etc.; and the occasional twin sister teams of the stage. . . . Where are the truly eminent twins?

Here's a candidate for the list, in medicine: Dr. Isaac Arthur Abt of Chicago, a famous pediatrician. Any other nominations?

TOP O' THE MORNIN'.

(Lines in honor of tomorrow's anniversary.)

The top o' the mornin' to ye! An' where is a morn so fair
As the mornin' o' good Saint Pathrick's day, wid a whiff o' the spring in the air!
Of the spring itself ye are the morn—an' we'll wander an Irish mile,
An' I'll buy ye a twist o' shamrock leaves for the love o' the little ould Isle.

The top o' the mornin' to ye! An' where is a sight so fair
As the mornin' o' good Saint Pathrick's day an' yerself wid the green in yer hair!
Do ye mind the gorse, an' the daffodils, an' the blue o' the Irish say?
Faith, darlint! the grand little Isle herself will be wearin' the green today!

Pan o' the Panamint.

Irish Greetings for St. Patrick's Day.

St. Patrick's day and the green isle where the shamrock grows suggest these quaint Gaelic greetings, complimentary phrases, or wishes, which may be heard among the simple, happy folk of countryside and marketplace:

"May you never die till a gooseberry skin makes a nightcap for you."

"May ye live long, die happy, never grow ragged, nor squint."

"May the devil fly with the roof of the house where you and I aren't welcome."

"Good luck before you, bad luck behind you, and the grace of God to guard and guide you."

"May the tree not yet be planted that'll make a coffin for ye."

A benediction over a newborn babe: "May he hear the angels' wings rustle, the Little Heart of Corn."

Arthur W. O'Neill.

THOUGHT FOR PALM SUNDAY.

Hark! The multitude is singing!
Look! With palms they deck the way!
Hear their glad hosannas ringing
For the long-awaited day!

"Hail the King!" they shout, rejoicing,
"Thus 'twas prophesied of old!"
Joyously their triumph voicing
As the prophets had foretold.

Roman soldiers in the offing
Watch the wild, unruly throng;
See the King and whisper, scoffing,
"This man cannot rule for long!"

"This man is no king!" they mutter,
"Just a rabble-rousing knave;
Some brave words they've heard him utter Give them hope that he can save."

Gone the Romans who defied Him;
Gone the scoffers, hard, unjust;
Gone the jeering judge who tried Him—
All forgotten, turned to dust.

Yet today He rules in glory,
In rejoicing hearts of men,
While in golden song and story
Glad hosannas ring again!

LIVER IN ULCERATIVE COLITIS.

Ulcerative colitis continues to be one of our most annoying problems. While much light has been shed upon the nature of the condition, nevertheless all cases do not appear to be "set in motion" by a bacterial infection. True enough, microbes may be found in the stools in profusion, but we are not always able to bring about improvement by means of vaccines.

Somehow or other the colon—in certain persons—seems to possess less resistance than in others. For example, those who have experienced an acute bowel disturbance—such as dysentery—may later develop a true colitis. Then again, others who are nervous and highstrung may suffer the symptoms in severe degree—with great prostration and fatigue—subsequent to excitement or nervous shock.

Among the measures that have been utilized to combat this ailment have been vaccines made from organisms found growing in the patient's own body, high vitamin feedings, and sulfanilamide. Not long ago attention was called to a woman of 42 who has now been free of trouble for more than a year—thru the use of sulfanilamide. Prior to its employment she had been a semi-invalid for nearly a decade.

Now comes the suggestion that liver extract will be helpful. It furnishes a high proportion of vitamin B complex, which serves to enhance the resistance of the mucous lining of the bowel and, at the same time, reënforces and strengthens the nervous impulses to that part of the body. Furthermore, if the episodes are on an allergic basis [because of some food], this material may diminish sensitivity in marked degree.

Recently Cheney reported on a group of individuals with whom the malady had persisted for a long time. In other words, chronic diarrhea was the rule. Few exhibited periods of remission altho this is not at all an uncommon circumstance. Twenty-five subjects were studied and most of them have been followed long enough to permit of some conclusions.

Strangely enough, liver by mouth proved ineffectual. At first the extract was given in concentrated form hypodermically two or three times a week until complete cessation of symptoms occurred. Thereafter, the maintenance dose was fixed at whatever the patient required. Sometimes a single injection once every two or three weeks held all manifestations in check.

As a rule, signs of improvement were observed after the fourth or fifth "shot." The number of stools decreased, appetite increased, and gain in weight began. Those who were gravely ill showed the most remarkable change for the better; while patients who were up and about—carrying on their usual activities—were usually slower to respond. The diet was as high in calories as the patient could take and dishes were selected which contained as little residue [fiber] as possible. This conforms with the standard colitis régime. Paregoric was prescribed when needed. Nothing was introduced by rectum, as more harm than good resulted from this procedure.

Obviously, we would not expect that amebic infections would be relieved, altho when a chemical was resorted to that destroyed the protozoa considerable amelioration ensued.

We must look upon liver as aiding nutrition, as supplying some of the elements which the patient has no doubt been losing [because of dysentery] for months—possibly years. It may be regarded as one of the factors that is demanded to transform a fair state of health into recovery.

There is reason to believe that the unconcentrated extract is of more value than that which is highly refined. Certainly cases that have resisted other methods should be given the benefit of this program.

CRACKED SKIN.

Mrs. B. writes: How can cracking of the skin of the fingers be cured in a patient 64 years old? Is it a blood condition?

REPLY.

Not exactly. Commonly referred to as "eczema"—the malady has many origins. Some irritant [such as soap, cold water, house dust]—or in fact, any substance to which the epidermis is sensitive—may be responsible. Wear rubber gloves when working about the kitchen and cotton gloves when doing routine housework. Keep the parts anointed constantly with zinc oxide ointment. A light coating will suffice.

BURNING FEET.

M. R. writes: Immediately upon retiring my feet start to burn so that I cannot keep them covered. This occurs summer and winter. My circulation is good. Can you suggest cause and remedy?

REPLY.

Some disturbance of the blood supply to the extremities is responsible. Use hot foot baths and massage, and ask your physician to check your circulation.

NUTRITION.

R. A. writes:

1. What factors contribute to good nutrition? 2. What are the chief functions of food when taken into the body?

REPLY.

1. Good food, good digestion, and a generous allowance of peace and quiet. 2. To supply energy and to replace waste.

HEARTBURN.

H. C. L. writes: Does excessive heartburn indicate an ulcer or a cancer?

REPLY.

As a rule, neither. There may be too much acid in the gastric juice. Ask your physician to check your symptoms.

TOO LITTLE THYROID.

T. C. writes: In myxedema, is it necessary to take thyroid substance all one's life?

REPLY.

It may be.

TODAY IN HISTORY

March 16, 1802.

Congress provided for establishment of the military academy at West Point. West Point had been a strategic center for control of the Hudson valley in the revolution, and had been Gen. Washington's headquarters for a time. At the close of the war military leaders agreed that it should always be fortified. Washington recommended that this be accomplished thru establishment of a military school. The academy, with 10 cadets, was opened July 4, 1802.

A STATISTIC TO END STATISTICS.

New York, March 11.—If, instead of asking us a lot of impertinent personal questions which cannot possibly do anybody any good and only irritate us, the sixteenth census would question us along the line suggested below, I believe it would assemble some data which would enable us to cut the expense of government nearly in half.

Talking recently with a group of business men we discovered that with the exception of the reports of the weather bureau, none of us ever looks into a statistical or "fact finding" government report from one year's end to another. In my attic I have an old Indian bureau report of 1890 with some interesting pictures in it, and I also have some geodetic survey maps—and this is about typical of the others in this group. Our hunch is that we are spending billions supporting government bureaus whose work is of so little value that the public never sees it and seldom uses it.

Why not make inquiry of each person interviewed as to what government bureaus he finds useful, interesting, or valuable. The results would be extremely enlightening.

DANIA GIRLS AND TOMATOES.

Dania, Fla., March 11.—Your Saturday's [March 9] edition prints Associated Press wirephoto of the girls' tomato day fight held at Dania, Fla., Thursday, March 7. However, you give credit for the event to Miami, Fla. I have had charge of the publicity for this annual event for 13 years, and this is the first time a large city like Miami has taken our small town, crowd producing contests for their very own, or did you or the Associated Press do it?

Dania, a town of 4,000 population, annually stages a tomato day festival in recognition of the thousands of growers, packers, and shippers of tomatoes, of which we ship some 4,000 cars annually. Among the many unusual stunts free to the public we stage an annual tomato fight between 20 lovely high school girls. The girls you show are all Dania girls. The affair is strictly Dania's. All we make goes to charity and civic improvements. Let Miami keep her race tracks, but give Dania [18 miles north of Miami] credit for this tomato festival.

DO RELIEFERS GAMBLE?

Chicago, March 10.—Three gambling bosses recently were indicted on the charge of evading $1,000,000 in income taxes. They were accused of having made a fortune operating policy gambling in certain sections of the south side where half the people are on relief or WPA. It is a crime that the politicians have permitted so much of the taxpayers' hard earned money, intended for the relief of the destitute, to go into the pockets of a few wealthy gamblers.

BILL OF FARE.

Kewanee, Ill., March 11.—Mr. Swann's plaintive wail strikes a sympathetic note in my soul.

We have roast pork with sweet potatoes, real pork gravy, and sometimes dressing, at our house quite frequently. I know my sister would be more than pleased to satisfy his nostalgic longing if, when in our vicinity, he should drop in. Also, she would throw in an old-fashioned cherry pie for good measure.

M. D.

DR. CUTTER'S VOCABULARY.

Glen Ellyn, Ill., March 13.—I ask a boon. Will you please use your good offices to induce good Dr. Cutter to use words which the average reader understands? It has been said that the average mental age of newspaper readers is 12 years. Maybe we of The Tribune rate a bit higher. Let us hope!

But, unless we have studied medicine, how are we to know what he means when he writes of the "renal apparatus," or the "alimentary tract," or the "ingestion" of something?

By worrying Mr. Webster and certain friends I find that when he says "renal apparatus" he means the kidneys and what goes with them; that the "alimentary tract" is the stomach and bowels, and that "ingestion" means taking into the stomach, or swallowing.

But is a 12 year old expected to know what he means when he writes of "epidermis," and "oral cavity," and "idiosyncrasies," and, O, a lot of things for which there are doubtless short, simple words that we simple ones would understand?

If we can't get simpler words, how about a glossary?

A HAZARDOUS OCCUPATION.

Chicago, March 13.—The shooting by a young mother of the foster mother who was caring for her small child brings forcibly to our attention the danger with which welfare workers are constantly faced.

Not that anything can be done about it, but it seems to me that those short sighted persons who are forever criticizing the social worker should take note of incidents like this which dramatize the difficulties of those engaged in welfare work.

It takes incidents like the murder of Caroline Wallace a few years ago and the shooting this week to make some of us realize what our social workers are up against in doing their day's work.

MEMORIES.

Chicago, March 8.—The wrecking of the Great Northern hotel brings back memories of about 55 years ago. There was a one story building where the Great Northern hotel now stands, on the southeast corner of Quincy and Dearborn streets. It was occupied by a grocer and butcher. I have been trying to recall the name. I believe it was Magner & Winslow. I worked in C. F. Gunther's candy shop at 212 South State and used to go there at noon to get something for my lunch.

GOVERNMENT BY MOTTO.

Lake Linden, Mich., March 12.—Let's look into this settling of the world's problems by means of Latin quotations as suggested by a contributor a few days ago.

"Redde unicuique suum" sounds simple. It may be resolved into "Tibi tuum, meum mihi." But the big rub comes in when we try to determine what's tuum and what's meum.

All we need then do is to induce England to tell India, Japan to tell China, Hitler to tell Poland, Stalin to tell Finland—and all down the line: "Tibi tuum." Very simple, indeed!

THE BIG SNOW OF '39.

Oak Park, Ill., March 13.—H. M. M. of Maywood asked for the date of the big snowstorm of 1939. The storm began about 10 o'clock the night of Jan. 29 [Sunday] after a dark, sloppy, windy day. It continued all night and most of the next day. I do keep a diary and had good reason to remember that storm, as I cavorted around in the snow on the 30th and froze both legs badly. I'm old enough to know better and should leave playing in the snow to the children.

ESTATE DISTRIBUTION.

Chicago, March 15 [Legal Friend of the People].—An estate has been on record in the Probate court for 15 months. The lawyer, who is administrator and executor of the estate, had received court order to sell the stock of the estate, which he has done.

1. How can one go about getting a distribution of the monies of the estate?
2. Administrator claims court calendar is so crowded it may be months or another year before probate judge gets to act on the final accounting of the estate.
3. Is the Probate court calendar so crowded?
4. Who is the probate judge?
5. How can one force him [administrator] to distribute money he is holding which should be distributed to two brothers and a sister?

G. K.

1. In general, the first step would be to ask the personal representative to push the matter and the second step would be to ask the clerk of the court to push the personal representative.
2. This would not be an adequate ground for such delay in the Probate court of Cook county.
3. You do not state where the case is being handled.

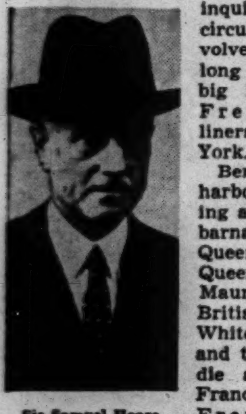
N.Y. DISTURBED BY PRESENCE OF 5 EMPIRE LINERS

Inquiry Is Demanded Into Future Plans.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 15.—Demands were voiced here today for a public inquiry into the circumstances involved in the long stay of five big British and French ocean liners in New York.



Sir Samuel Hoare.

Berthed in the harbor and raising a big crop of barnacles are the Queen Elizabeth, Queen Mary, and Mauretania of the British Cunard White Star lines and the Normandie and Ile de France of the French line. They are valued at 136 million dollars and are five of the ten largest vessels in the world. How long these huge war refugees will stay here, apparently, no one knows.

Hoare Hints at Service.

Speculation over the motives behind the dash of the Queen Elizabeth from Scotland to New York last week has increased since Sir Samuel Hoare, lord privy seal, hinted in the house of commons two days ago that Britain had in mind using the world's largest liner for various mysterious missions before the war was over.

"I would not like to say the Queen Elizabeth will not be useful for several purposes in the war later on, dispatches quoted Sir Samuel as saying.

This led to a demand for an inquiry from Herman G. Schwarz, counsel to the taxpayers' union, which is protesting the cost of police protection for the foreign ships. Schwarz called attention to reports in shipping circles that the boats were being held for use as troopships if the United States goes into war or as security on loans to the empires.

Big Bill for New York Taxpayers.

"If there is anything to these reports the public is entitled to know about it," declared Schwarz. "Meanwhile, New York City taxpayers are paying $1,300 a day to protect them here. There is plenty of crime in the city to keep the police busy instead of acting as watchmen for these boats. The foreign lines should pay for such protection."

Recalling that the Leviathan carried a top load of 10,000 troops during the war, Schwarz said it was entirely feasible that the five superliners laid up in port here now could ferry across two or three divisions of an American expeditionary force if this country is drawn into the conflict.

British and French shipping officials in New York City are keeping mum about plans along this line, if any. They are under orders for strictest secrecy from the wartime admiralty. The usual explanation for the liners being here is that they are out of reach of German bombing planes.

Hold Old German Liners.

The last report of the maritime commission to congress, dated Oct. 25, 1939, disclosed that four ex-German passenger vessels seized during the world war were being held at Solomon's Island, Maryland, for possible use.

"These ships are maintained in sufficient state of preservation with respect to the condition of their hulls, boilers, machinery, and appurtenances to make them available for use in the event of a national emergency," the commission stated.

Assemblyman John A. Devany, a Bronx Democrat, has introduced a resolution in the New York legislature providing for seizure of the empires' liners in payment of the war debts from Great Britain and France.

INVENTOR GIVEN SECOND HEARING ON SECRET BOMB

Baltimore, Md., March 15 [Special].—Lester Barlow, Baltimore inventor, made preparations today to return to Washington, D. C., on Monday to appear before a joint congressional committee which will investigate his new high explosive aerial bomb.

Barlow described his invention before the senate military affairs committee last Wednesday but when it was learned the formula never before had been revealed the committee voted to destroy the transcript of his explanation and burned the notes in a waste basket on the committee table.

The bomb contains a new liquid oxygen-carbon explosive which is said to be many times as destructive as TNT or any other explosive known to military science.

COUPLE HUNTED FOR ABANDONING INFANT IN HOTEL

Gary police sought yesterday for the parents of a boy about 3 weeks old who was abandoned in the Washington hotel at 6th avenue and Washington street, in Gary.

A couple registered shortly after midnight as "Mr. R. Jacobson and wife, Logansport, Ind." The woman was carrying the baby, swathed in warm blankets and sleeping peacefully. They paid the clerk, M. J. Curran, in advance for the room, because they had no luggage.

About 1 a. m. the man and woman reappeared in the lobby and told Curran they were going out to eat. They did not return. Logansport police were unable to find an R. Jacobson. The baby was taken to Methodist hospital.

Front Views and Profiles

Clientele.

Producer Gilbert Miller, in town to see Miss Helen Hayes, leading lady in his current production, Ladies and Gentlemen, tells the story of the Hungarian aristocrat who occasionally stopped at a resort hotel in Hungary. On his latest visit he sat in the lounge one night after dinner, adjusted his monocle, looked over the crowd disparagingly, and later said to the proprietor:

"Ferenc, what a run-down looking lot of patrons you have this year. I'm surprised to see the class that is frequenting your establishment now."

"You are right, excellency," said the proprietor. "Each season it's been getting worse. And this season we have next year's crowd."

Cynic.

A Chicago writer was in the office of Sydney Justin Harris when Harris telephoned a friend to ask him to go with him to hear Mrs. Roosevelt speak at the Civic Opera house.

"I can't. I'm going to attend the dinner of the Friends of American Writers that night," answered the friend. Harris repeated the remark to the author.

"I didn't know American writers had any friends," he said dryly. "Where are they meeting—in a telephone booth?"

Romance Note.

We hope this is only a prelude to the story: Yesterday morning a young man employed in the laboratories of one of the big meat packing companies was busy making routine tests on eggs when he found, scribbled on one of them, in pencil:

Boyden, Iowa. Anna Mae Welangut. I am lonesome.

If there's any follow-up, Anna Mae, will you let us know?

Six Year Old's Closeup.

Six year old Glen Bertolini of the Spalding School for Crippled Children visited Lillian Gish on the stage set of Life with Father five minutes before curtain time and sold her a sheaf of Easter seals in behalf of the 40,000 crippled children in Illinois. The next morning at kindergarten Glen's teachers pressed him for a description of the star. He declined to make comment at first, but later he burst out with, "Boy, O boy, did I see a funny lady last night! She had blue crayon under her eyes!"

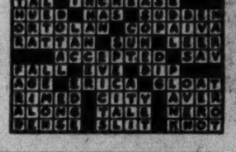
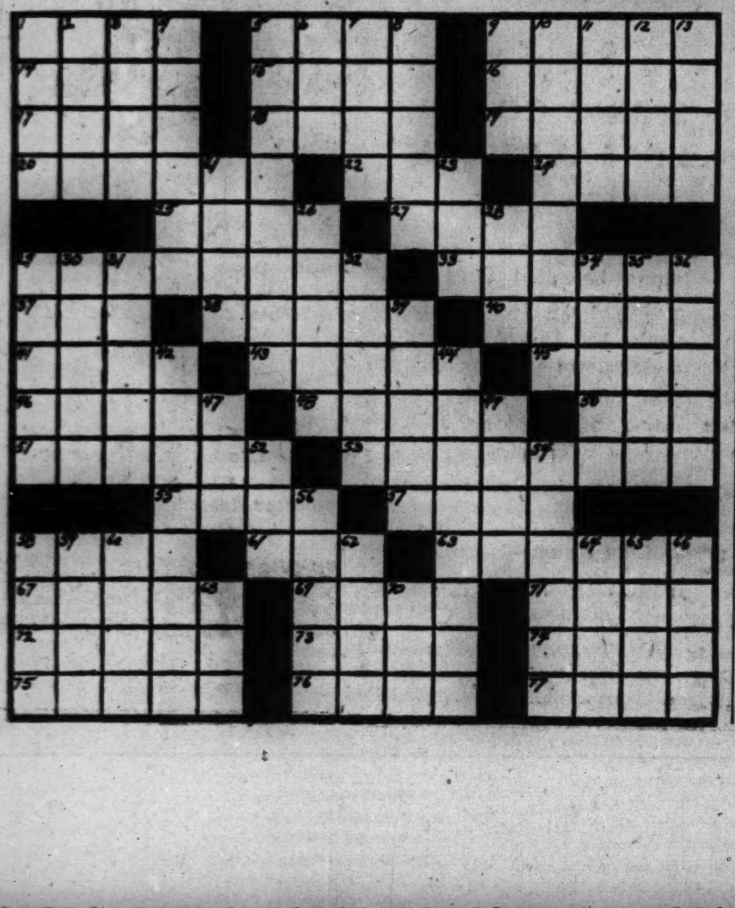
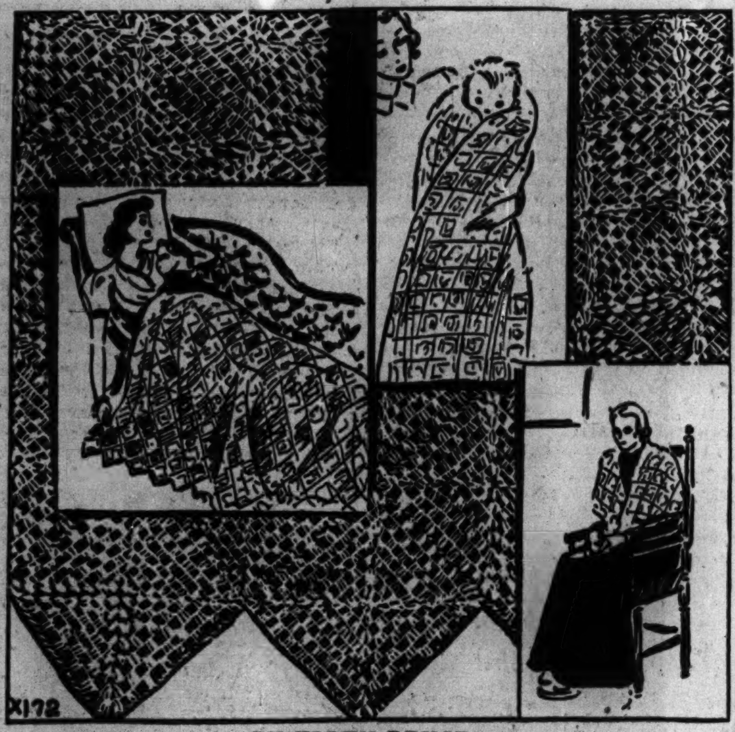
PUZZLE OF FRIDAY, MARCH 15, SOLVED





Afghan in Shell Stitch



BY ELLEN BRUCE.

There are those who like afghans feather light and definitely feminine. This shell pattern lends itself admirably to lightweight wools. The pattern is one of those simple, double crochet motifs and is worked into a shell design. When the square medallions are set together, one can discern a myriad of different designs. The blocks may be of the same color, or varied to suit individual taste.

For instructions in crocheting the shell stitch afghan, No. X-172, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1940: By Ely Culbertson.]

"A singleton king always wins" is a saying that has been repeated by hundreds of disconsolate finessers, but in an expert game the holder of the king often is the disconsolate one. It cannot be denied that when the odds favor the finesse the expert loses to a singleton king just as any dub does. But sometimes the expert can ferret out the singleton as tho he could see thru the backs of the cards.

In today's hand note how easy it was for South to avoid the losing trump finesse.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 diamond	Pass	Pass	2 clubs
2 diamonds	2 hearts	Pass	4 hearts
Pass	Pass	Pass

West opened the seven of diamonds, East winning with the king. East cashed the ace of diamonds and then the ace of spades. He could tell that it would do no good to lead a third round of diamonds, since South had to have at least the ten of hearts for his bid. But not only was it true that a third diamond lead could do no good to his side—it could do a great deal of harm. For if South ruffed with the ten and West could not overruff, the location of the king of hearts would be revealed and South would not take a trump finesse. East therefore led the nine of spades at trick four.

But South had been noting the fall of cards as acutely as any one and had come to the same conclusion as East. West obviously had no more diamonds and East's failure to lead a third round proved that West could not overruff him and also that East knew this fact. East therefore must have started with the king of hearts and South's only hope was to drop it under the ace.

The second spade lead was therefore won in the dummy and the ace of trumps was laid down. East's face and his king of hearts fell together.

I. Q. Status Is Often Misused, Misunderstood

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS
[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"If you have an I. Q. test for a 4 year old I would be very grateful if you would send it along," reads a letter on my desk. It is one of a number I have received from mothers, the age of the child varying from 2 or 3 to 9 or 10.

In the first place the I. Q. [intelligence quotient] tests must be given by a psychologist or some one trained to give and interpret these tests. In the second place, I think it is a mistake for parents to concern themselves with intelligence tests for their children, unless there is some definite suspicion of a subnormal intellect. I do not see what is to be gained. Certainly, in the past, too many children have been saddled with an I. Q. which they were expected to live down to.

While, at one time, it was definitely held by psychologists that a child's I. Q. never could change, and this regardless of the most favorable educational and cultural environment, this belief is no longer held.

Not only parents but teachers sometimes draw unfortunate conclusions and are unwisely influenced by the results of intelligence tests. I have seen instances of that in at least two schools with which I have had personal contacts, and only today I had come to me a most amazing letter in connection with this matter of the I. Q.

"My dear Mrs. Bevans: I am very anxious to get some information as to the current trend in progressive education as far as the I. Q. is concerned. I have an 11 year old boy who recently completed the 6th grade at what is purported to be a progressive school. At the closing exercises I was astounded when the principal announced my son as the winner of a prize as the result of having received the highest I. Q. in his division. I have been under the impression that the main purpose of the I. Q. was to aid the faculty in classifying the students correctly, and planning their programs according to their native capacities. I did not know it was for public consumption.

"I feel that youngsters not understanding the full meaning might develop some false conceptions which might prove harmful. For instance, my son is inclined to be a little cocky naturally, and since the public announcement he fancies himself as some sort of genius or other. By careful handling, I believe, I can readjust him, however I am also thinking of the child who did not do so well. Is it not possible that he may develop an inferiority complex? Possibly there are other angles to this perplexing problem of which I am not aware. Perhaps psychologists can offer some logical explanation for this strange procedure. However, I should appreciate your commenting on it in one of your future columns."

The writer of this letter is quite correct in his understanding of the purpose of the I. Q., and the school quite in the wrong.

So, because there are so many hazy and even erroneous ideas on the subject of the I. Q., I believe it would be helpful if I wrote an article or two on the subject, which I shall do in a few days.

Sons and Daughters of Eire to Select Queen Tonight

The contest to select a queen of the Sons and Daughters of Eire [Ireland], which had been scheduled for tomorrow night at the Merry Garden ballroom, was advanced yesterday to tonight. This was done because some of the Chicago colleens objected to competing on Palm Sunday, which falls this year with St. Patrick's day. Lorraine McCann, twice recipient of the "shamrock crown," is again a contestant.

Collar and Cuff Sets Decorate Reefer Coats

BY REA SEEGER.

A new to-do over fragile white wisps for all dark clothes brings out so many different ideas they can't be counted. For the first time in years you can find collar and cuff sets made expressly for coat duty. Reefers, streamlined models with buttons down the front as the only trim, are particularly good backgrounds for such white accents.

See the spanking white smooth piqué tailored affairs, coat collars to either pin or sew in position . . . they are cut with exaggerated width over the chest lapels and roll over in a grand manner, some of them swooping down over the chest to the belt.

Deep cavalier cuffs teamed with a wide collar are made of fine English piqué and then edged with coarse lace, the lace boasting one of these unpronouncable names, but it is the most effective design imaginable. Cut-out embroidery designs make other sets that have sharp pointed edges like a sugar cookie . . . the lapels of the coat are covered with this frosting and the results are positively eye-blinding with the matching deep cuffs.

Less dress parade finds are made of waffle piqué with inch deep ruffles or old fashioned quilling around the edge . . . the wider and bigger the collars and cuffs the smarter.

Stunning frills and matching cuffs of Appenzell embroidery are another high fashion decoration that is even more popular than last spring for this white stuff with the designs outlined in a pale grey blue thread assures a most romantic contrast. Round collars and lapel frills and deep matching cuffs are ideal white hopes for the success of either coat or simple two piece suits.

New this week are the button-on narrow round collars with a deep jabot of fine sheer white organdy edged with a double row of baby dress lace. The jabot itself is sensationally full frothing in double cascades out of the vee neckline of a suit or coat. Very smooth linen also is used for these new white accents, in single collars wide and dramatic as well as the sets of collar and cavalier cuffs.

CATHOLIC MASSES.

Holy Name cathedral, 700 North State street.

St. Patrick's church, Adams and Des Plaines streets.

St. Mary's church, 910 South Wabash avenue.

Assumption church, 325 West Illinois street.

From the sermon by the Rev. Joseph L. Knutson of Lake Mills, Ia., preached yesterday at the Erlanger theater:

"God is still watching over his people. When the forces of evil seek to ensnare his children he commands 'Let these go!' When we hear this intercession it is important that we go while we have the chance. It is just here that many Christians get into difficulty. They think that they are strong enough to witness for Christ in an institution of fellowship whose spirit is at enmity with God.

"If we do not go when God bids us, it will not be long until we sit like Peter among the enemies of Christ and swear that we never knew him."

Fashion Group Issues Invitations to Annual Style Show on April 4

"The Fashion Group Nominates" is the heading of the invitation received to the group's annual fashion show, to be held on April 4 at luncheon time. The Gold room of the Congress hotel will be the place.

The group has chosen the candidates for its fashion platform for spring from American and European designers' collections. Mrs. Charles W. Dempster was the first to make a reservation for the luncheon and show, remembering that the other two shows were sold out almost as soon as the invitations were issued. Reservations may be made by telephoning Central 1257.

Skeeters Close Season at Lake Geneva Tonight

BY JUDITH CASS.

OUR correspondent at Lake Geneva sends word that the biggest and most successful ice boating season enjoyed by the Skeeter club will close tonight with a dinner-dance and the presentation of trophies. The affair will be given at Spence's, in Williams Bay. Jack Vilas Jr., winner of the International Skeeter regatta last month, is the acknowledged champion among the Lake Geneva skeeter skippers and will be awarded the handsome perpetual trophy donated by Adolph Frederick Gartz Jr., who is young Mr. Vilas' father-in-law.

Mr. Gartz will not be present to present the trophy, for he and Mrs. Gartz are in California, but they will return to Jerseyhurst, their Lake Geneva home, in time to spend Easter there.

With the passing of the ice boating season interest now veers to summer plans at Lake Geneva. The Sangston Hettlers again have leased the Benoni Reynolds house on the lake shore in the city of Lake Geneva. Their next door neighbors will be Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Robbins, who have taken the house occupied last year by the William O. Hunts. Mr. and Mrs. John Eliot Warner, who had the Sidney Smith cottage last summer, have purchased the Henry M. Byllesby estate on the south shore and already are spending week-ends there.

Find Rhubarb Shoots in Sunny Places.

A few brave rhubarb and iris shoots can be seen in sunny places where the snow has melted, our news gatherer at the lake reports, so there is much talk of gardens and garden clubs. Mrs. William Nelson Pelouze is representing the Lake Geneva Garden club at the big flower show in New York this week. She probably will go to Baltimore in May for the annual meeting of the Garden Club of America. The Lake Genevans who go to Baltimore expect to visit Edgecombe in McLean, Va., altho it is not included in the official list of gardens to be open to the visitors. Edgecombe is the home of Miss Helen Jones, formerly of Chicago and Lake Geneva.

Mrs. William F. Petersen, Mrs. Arthur W. Wakeley, Mrs. Frederick Clifford, Miss Harriet Clifford, Mrs. William H. Emery, Miss Edith Kohlsaat, and Mrs. E. N. McDonnell are among the members of the Lake Geneva Garden club who plan to go to Baltimore. Miss Kohlsaat and her sister, Mrs. Harry L. Wells, spend much time at the lake even in winter. Feeding the birds is one of their winter activities, and consequently they have flocks of the little feathered creatures around their home all the time.

Recently an opossum has joined the group of woodpeckers, who are fed suet, and some one insists that she has seen a deer partaking of the feast. It is many years since deer have been found around Lake Geneva, however. The late John J. Mitchell owned the last herd at the lake, but he gave them to the Lincoln park zoo nearly 30 years ago.

I. Newton Perrys Going to Manila.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Newton Perry and Miss Sally Perry will sail on April 5 in the President Coolidge to spend five months in Manila, where their elder daughter and her husband, the Harold Kneedlers, live.

The Perrys will see for the first time their newest grandchild, who was born in November in Manila. Brewster Perry arrived at home about 10 days ago after having spent a year in China, Japan, and Manila. The European war prevented his completing a tour of the world.

The home of the late Mrs. William J. Chalmers will be occupied for a month after Easter by the former Joan Williams and her husband, Dr. Hamilton Merrill of New York. Dr. Merrill is coming west to take a course of study here and his wife will be busy settling the estate of her late grandmother.

Mrs. Walter Haug, the former Margery Nicol, and her baby are arriving next week from Australia. Mr. Haug will follow soon. His wife is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Killian V. R. Nicol.

Samuel Gale Taylors Parents of Son.

Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Gale Taylor III. are being congratulated on the birth of a son, their first child, yesterday at the Henrotin hospital. Mrs. Taylor is the former Miss Eleanor Roberts.

★ THRU THE LOOKING GLASS ★

We find women keener than ever on the subject of exercise for the good of the figure. But the fact that exercise courses usually come high has been a source of anguish to many women who'd love to try this very sound method of silhouette remolding but feel they can't spend too much money.

This situation is now working out quite well. The demand for corrective exercise instruction and the popularity of the courses has increased the supply and lowered the costs. We hear more and more often of exercise salons—and good ones—that are now able to give instruction at a price that would have been impossibly low just a few years ago.

For example, as a new service at one of the largest of our beauty salons there are some wonderfully well worked out courses that are distinctly inexpensive. A competent instructor first shows you your posture and figure defects; then she drills you in the rhythmic exercises that lead so truly to their basic correction. We've always thought this one of the happiest possible combinations of pleasure and the pursuit of a good figure.

Following the exercise period there is massage. In itself this scientific molding does good things for your measurements, but perhaps what we like best about good massage is its ability to soothe the spirit and unkink the nerves.

But the news value of the story of the new service is this: It's priced down around where it should be for the woman who hasn't a great deal of money to spend! With the approaching spring fashions casting long, slim shadows before them, exercise courses that are inexpensive should be grand news for many of us.

Adviser Lists Ways to Gain Coveted Poise

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Now for a summary of our week's effort to discipline our sometimes jerky, sometimes jittery, often graceless bodies into exhibitions of a gayer, younger springtime of life.

It was poise we were working for in the interests of not only a better disciplined body but of a calmer, easier way of life. Poise does supply the latter. And poise is the basis of charm and a more endearing personality.

Our brief course was not complicated. Our theory is that you have to have your physical self well in hand before you can exude charm or personality. So we stressed the importance of the walk. But in order to acquire the grace and ease of carriage which today is the distinguishing feature of our most distinguished beauties, we cautioned that long neglected muscles have to be retrained for service.

The abdominal muscles, particularly, were a point of attack because of the fact that one never sees a poor carriage of body but it is accompanied by a bulging or definitely protruding abdomen. We are going to start a campaign some day calling women's attention to their slackening and slackened abdominal muscles, as their attention has been called to the slackened chinline as the real teller of tales. That protruding, fatweighted abdomen is a more noticeable age sign than is the chin. A youthful figure never, never has it.

But because women have the corset to rely on, it probably is the most exercise neglected part of the body. In the course of the day the legs exercise in walking, the arms in reaching, stretching, and so on. But the abdominal muscles jailed behind corset bars just flop, and while Allah be praised for modern corseting, if it is a truly disciplined body that's wanted or needed, those muscles must be hardened. Too, a corset that has you jailed along with the excess fat isn't going to permit a free expression of poise.

After the abdominal muscles have been disciplined we suggest, then, that back strengthening exercises be adopted so that one really can hold herself tall and distinguished looking for that grand entrance.

Good Morning!

"The Road to Singapore" provides a joggy tour. Smooth and amusing in some spots, crude and uninteresting in others. But it gives the observer food for a couple of pleasant thoughts., i. e., that Bob Hope and Bing Crosby really make a swell comedy team and should be billed together often and that Dorothy Lamour, when one can see her—meaning minus concealing pounds of goo-ey makeup—is a right pretty girl.

She looks better in this film than in any of her recent ventures and, in a completely silly rôle, gives an astonishingly sincere and pleasing performance.

Mr. Crosby as the wanderlusting son of a big ship owner—or have it your own way, an owner of big ships—and Mr. Hope as his sailor side kick, who like the Bing prefers to neither toil nor spin, escape from the highfalutin' New York social atmosphere in which Bing finds breathing so difficult AND with his determined society girl fiancée they make joyous way to the tropics. . . .

Here they meet Dorothy, dance catspaw for a handsome Apache sort of chap whose rough treatment of his fair partner irks our Rover boys and brings about a battle that results in Dot's becoming housekeeper for her protectors. . . .

WHICH leads to the thises and thatses comprising the rest of the action. Both lads, of course, lose their hearts to the glamorous ex-café entertainer. . . .

From here on the picture shall take you by the hand and show you the way. . . .

"The Road to Singapore" has several scenes that are, really, hilariously funny. But the story, in the main, is—just one of those things.

See you tomorrow.

Looking at Hollywood by Ed Sullivan

Water Under the Bridge.

Virginia City, Nev., March 16.—The last time I went on one of these Warner junkets was for the world premier of "Dodge City" [at the city from which the film got its name], and honesty compels me to report that all was not as cracked up to be.

For years, I'd read of Boot Hill, famcus cemetery filled with notorious characters at Dodge City, but the actual sight was disheartening in the extreme. . . . Boot Hill, occupying a small corner in the town, looked like something the Warner publicity department had whipped up for the occasion. . . . It had a Coney Island quality to it that was suspiciously phony.

Ever since visiting Boot Hill, I've had my private doubts about the bold, bad men who roamed the west. . . . An Edgar Hoover or Tom Dewey probably would have rounded them all up with nothing but a folded newspaper for a weapon.

So when Bob Taplinger invited me on this "Virginia City" junket, an invitation followed by a formal and engraved bid from the governor of Nevada, I smelled a rodent. . . . I couldn't stand the depressing effect of another Boot Hill incident.

Mr. Taplinger resolved this correspondent's fears with a very practical question: "What have you got to lose?", he asked. . . . Well, sir, he had me there. . . . So here I am in Virginia City and Piper's opera houre is a big improvement over that phony cemetery at Dodge City.

This Piper's opera house was an important theatrical landmark fifty years ago because it was the only theater at which touring professionals could break their hop from Denver to San Francisco, or vice versa. . . . Crowded with gold miners engaged in working the rich Comstock lode, Piper's opera house could pay the tariff for such attractions as Joe Jefferson, Patti, Edwin Booth, James O'Neill.

The gold miners might not know what the star was emoting about; it was sufficient that he was celebrated in the east. . . . Like the autograph hounds of today, the Virginia City miners were interested only in celebrities, whatever their entertainment value and they paid top prices, in gold disemboweled from the earth.

On that stage strode nearly every name of importance. Frank Mayo made a successful appearance and so too did Hobart Bosworth, Joe Jefferson, Fay Templeton, Tony Pastor, Nat Goodwin, Patti, Modjeska, Adah Monken, General Tom Thumb, Buffalo Bill, Palmer's comedians, O'Brien's Mastodon Minstrels, Lew Dockstadter, Jim Jeffries, and James J. Corbett.

Virginia City and Piper's sought "top" names with an avidity that has seldom been equaled anywhere. It didn't seem to matter what the nature of the entertainment or lecture was so long as it was celebrated. With an amazing disregard for the fundamentals of show business this theater took everything and every one in its stride.

What important, commercially minded theater of today would consider following the British blondes with a crusading lecture by Henry Ward Beecher, or put the bitter Colonel Robert Ingersoll on a bill with Tony Pastor? Piper even had the erudite Henry George on his bill. He didn't know much about George, so he advertised him as "the smartest man the world ever knew—tickets $5, seats near the bar $10."

The brooding Modjeska played here before a congestion of rough miners still sweating from their labors two thousand feet below earth, their boots clogged with steaming mud and their hair matted with the dust of gold—and silver-bearing kaolin, clay, granite and porphyry.

Here Modjeska enjoyed one of the most profitable evenings of her career. When she took her final bow she retired to her dressing room and counted out $5,000 in gold coins—the fruit of the Comstock lode.

In nearly every case these rough miners paid top prices for their entertainment. The usual admission price, judging from old posters, was about five dollars, altho the seats next the bar came as high as ten or fifteen dollars. When Victoria Loftus played her British blondes at Piper's for an intermingling of early "oomph" and culture, the prices went as high as fifty dollars for the first row of seats.

Perhaps no other theater in the world was as unorthodox in its presentations. One week Mark Twain, not yet the editor of Virginia City's Territorial Enterprise, lectured on the subject of the tropical islands. A few weeks later Tony Pastor brought his burlesque show, and he was followed in a very short time by the crusading Henry Ward Beecher.

There are no records left at Piper's. Disastrous fires which gutted the town destroyed its records of appearances. Yet there are old timers still in Virginia City who remember how great a crowd welcomed Edwin Booth on the occasion of his introduction of Shakespeare to this audience.

While Booth was dramatizing some one stole into the crowd and reported a disastrous Indian raid in the neighborhood of Carson City. Most every one then left to join an expedition of reprisal. All except the legendary Eilley Orrum, the crystal ball reading "Queen of the Comstock." Indian raid or no Indian raid, Eilley was going to get her Shakespeare whether she liked it or not.

This same Eilley mixed a quaint brew of fanatic morality with liberalism. When the British blondes came in with Victoria Loftus she insisted that they be housed in the cribs on "D" street, "Because blondes were loose characters, no matter what country they come from."

But her sense of morality took many fantastic turns. A group of Dutch chorus girls appeared at the opera house and Eilley saw that they were comfortably housed. "Dutch girls are very moral," was the way she explained this piece of Samaritanism. "I'd trust them with my own husband."

There was the case of John Millain, an actor, destitute and French. He had murdered a beautiful wanton in her bed, and Eilley, considering that he had saved every moral minded man and husband in Virginia City from sin, rose in his defense. She gave a banquet in his honor at her $250,000 home and staged a benefit for him. But the miners hanged Millain after he had dined, obviously as a warning against those who would encourage extra curricular entertainment.

Confiding in Best Beau Not Best Policy

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

There are some things, young women, that you should consider long and seriously before relating them to your best beau. And even then, don't tell him, would be our advice.

Prominent among the things on which we suggest withold your confidence is that of telling of an unpleasant encounter with another man. Yes, we mean when that man makes an untoward suggestion or remark. What inspires you to relate the incident to that man who chooses you out of all women as the ideal girl? Is it not to spur him on to an exhibition of jealousy? Is it, perhaps, to boost your own rating as a devastating femme? Is it a desire to let your man think that he is not the only one who finds you irresistible?

Better study the motive, anyway, and discard it as unworthy of yourself as well as of your beloved's faith in you. To prove our point that silence were the better part of valor, Robert tells that he is engaged and planned to marry the girl in June. She stood for everything fine in his mind. A girl of inestimable character, irreproachable, and all that. To sustain our theory that an ugly confidence may breed ugly suspicion, Robert confesses deep chagrin over the fact that his dream girl would speak again to the man who plainly insulted her.

"I asked her what reply she made to the man's remarks and she said: 'I just smiled. I didn't think he really meant it. I think he just likes to talk.'

A young woman may tell that to another young woman, but even her woman confident would have a doubt about the girl's actual worthiness of character. But to tell it to a man—

Says Robert: "I became furious at her answer because, in all the time I've known her I never dreamed of making a remark to her that wasn't respectful. I expected her to say that she told the man politely but firmly to refrain from such remarks in future."

And that's what any decent man would expect.

SYNOPSIS.

Framed by his enemy, Santee Bales, Sam Teacher, outlaw cowboy, shoots the bank robber dressed to resemble him. The United States commissioner offers him the governor's full pardon for all the crimes accredited to him if he will persuade obstinate Matt Drury to sell the railroad the right of way thru one of his canyons. Sam accepts—on his own high terms of $25,000, in addition to full pardon. He knows the governor needs the railroad to get votes and Drury's money to finance his next campaign. Sam gets a job on Drury's ranch and uses the name of Jim Melody so the other cowboys won't know his identity. Defending a horse, Sam gets into a fight with Drury's worthless son, Steve. [illegible] spoiled his pretty daughter, Celia. Steve is to get a small stake and go on his own; Celia is to work and run the house. Bales, who tried to get Sam to double-cross the governor and get the title to the canyon himself, gets young Steve into a crooked poker game. The game ends with Steve the loser and Steve going into partnership with Bales, ostensibly to raise horses. Celia has a run-in with her dad and packs to leave home.

INSTALMENT XII.

A DEPARTURE.

Sam walked over to the buckboard. Celia looked at him and said, "There's one consolation about leaving this place. I won't have to look at you."

"That goes double," Sam replied.

He picked up the reins, ready to climb in. "You're not taking me!" Celia said quickly, looking at Pearly.

Pearly shifted his feet and nodded.

"I won't go!" Celia said, stepping away from the buckboard.

"Matt's orders," Pearly said gently. "He's the only man I can spare."

"But can't you drive me yourself?"

"I'm goin' over the books with your dad," Pearly said.

Celia looked at Sam, her black eyes wicked with anger. "I suppose this is a little idea of your own," she sneered.

Sam shook his head gravely. "No, ma'am. I offered to shovel manure all day to get out of it."

Celia's face colored. Sam climbed into the buckboard, sat down, and looked up at her. "The sooner we get it over with, the better we'll both like it," he drawled, adding, "There ain't any back on this seat. You can face backward and I'll face forward."

Under his mustache, Pearly grinned. He came over and hoisted the valise into the buckboard and waited to assist Celia.

"I'd like a saddle horse," Celia said abruptly.

"Good," Sam said, putting the reins down.

"All right," Pearly said.

"No, I don't either," Celia flared. I won't be bluffed out by any swaggering little bully like you!" She climbed swiftly onto the seat and sat down. "Good-by, Pearly," she said. "Come and see me."

Pearly waved and Sam clucked the team into motion. They drove out under the cottonwoods toward the east, the dusty road ribboning out before them. A ground breeze, swelling up from the south, swayed the grama grass and sent tiny dust devils skittering across the road. Sam resolved that nothing would induce him to talk to her, but when, after a 10 minute silence, she said, "I think you're behind all this," he forgot his intentions.

He turned to look at her and found that she was watching him with carefully hostile eyes. "That's likely, ain't it?" he sneered.

"If it's any satisfaction to you, I've left home."

"It's some," Sam admitted.

"And Steve has, too."

"Well, well."

"Furthermore," Celia added, her voice rising, "he's going to make a success."

"Of what? Beatin' horses?"

"Breaking them!"

Sam nodded gravely.

"He's starting a horse ranch with a man in town. His partner puts up the capital and Steve supplies the mounts."

"Who puts up the work?"

"They hire it," Celia said coldly. "Dad's giving them a strip of land for the ranch."

"This partner a stranger?" Sam asked.

"Yes, why?"

"Nobody that knew your brother would throw in with him in any business—short of a slaughter house."

Celia didn't speak for a moment, and then she said in a tight, passionate voice, "You're the most insulting man I ever knew!"

"I'm learnin' fast," Sam drawled. "If I could stay around you another week I'd be right good at it."

Celia's surprise overcame her anger. "I? Insulting?"

"Some," Sam admitted. He took a deep breath and began, "Besides that, you're dead wrong. The only folks that has a right to demand things like you do is a queen—and sister, you ain't a queen. A queen is a nice lady, so I've heard my mother say. She's generous and kind and pretty and folks can't help lovin' her. You ain't nice. You're selfish and mean, too. You're pretty, all right, but so is a rattlesnake in its way." He shook his head. "There. I've been wantin' to get that off my chest before I saw you for the last time. Now let's talk about pullin' the wings off flies, trippin' cripples, and scarin babies—things you like."

Celia didn't answer. These last two hours had not been pleasant ones for her. It wasn't so much that she had been forbidden things she wanted; it was that she couldn't help seeing people were speaking the truth about her. Her father had hurt her there at the house. And now this Sam Teacher had hurt her again. She was sensible enough to know that it was partly her vanity that was hurt, but it went beyond that. Something was wrong with her. When all the props were pulled out from under her, and she was just an ordinary girl with ordinary clothes and ordinary possessions, she seemed to herself to be something of a shallow braggart, a shrew and a thoroly unlikable person.

Where another girl would have cried, Celia did not. Sam thought it was because she cared so little for any one's opinion that nothing could touch her, and he was mainly right. But the seed had been planted, the seed of doubt in herself, and she was silent.

The Lovejoys lived in Trabajo in a large frame house behind the plaza. Sam pulled up at the gate and held the reins while Celia climbed out. He handed her the valise and she took it without thanking him.

"Some day," she said quietly, looking him straight in the eye, "there's going to be trouble between us. It won't be name-calling trouble, either."

"Some day," Sam drawled, "you're going to meet a man you want to marry, and you'll do it. But he's goin' to carry a wagon spoke around with him, and every time you open your mouth he'll take a swipe at you. He'll beat you and drag you around by the hair and every time you get in a temper he'll throw you in the horse trough." A slow smile spread over his face. "You'd be pretty nice to know, after he gets thru with you. But if you don't meet him, you'll probably get so mad some time you'll swell up and bust. And when they pick you up, they'll find you're about as big as a handkerchief. The rest of you was just wind."

Celia threw her valise at him then. He dodged it easily, and then, with a certain wry dignity, drove off, leaving her standing by the road speechless for once, her valise making a little mound in the dust of the street.

Sam had three errands to do for Pearly and, after finishing them, he put the buckboard in at the tie rail before the Chamisa saloon and went inside.

Charley, who had been looking out the window, came away as Sam entered and bellied up to the bar and took his order.

"Ain't them Star 22 horses?" Charley asked idly, as he served the drink. Sam said they were and Charley asked him if he was a new hand and Sam said he was and they shook hands.

Charley leaned against the back bar then and lazily picked his teeth. "Well, looks like the young kid has finally set hisself up in business, don't it?" he observed.

"Looks that way."

"He'll make a go of it, all right," Charley said.

Sam smiled faintly. "He never made a go of a poker game, even, where his chances were 50 per cent better than in anything else."

"O, it ain't him," Charley said. "Hell, he don't count. It's the man he's throwed in with. Knows what he's doin' and how to do it, I reckon."

"He better," Sam said. He put a half dollar on the counter, ready to go.

"Well, Bales'll pull him thru," Charley said. "So long, Melody."

Sam, half turned, stopped and turned back to the bar. "Who'll pull him thru?"

"Bales. Santee Bales. That's his partner's name."

Sam nodded and strolled out the door, trying not to make his step seem hurried. He got into the buckboard, backed out, swung around and put in at the feed stable up the street.

"I want a horse and saddle," he told the hostler, "and be damn quick about it. A good horse, a stayer."

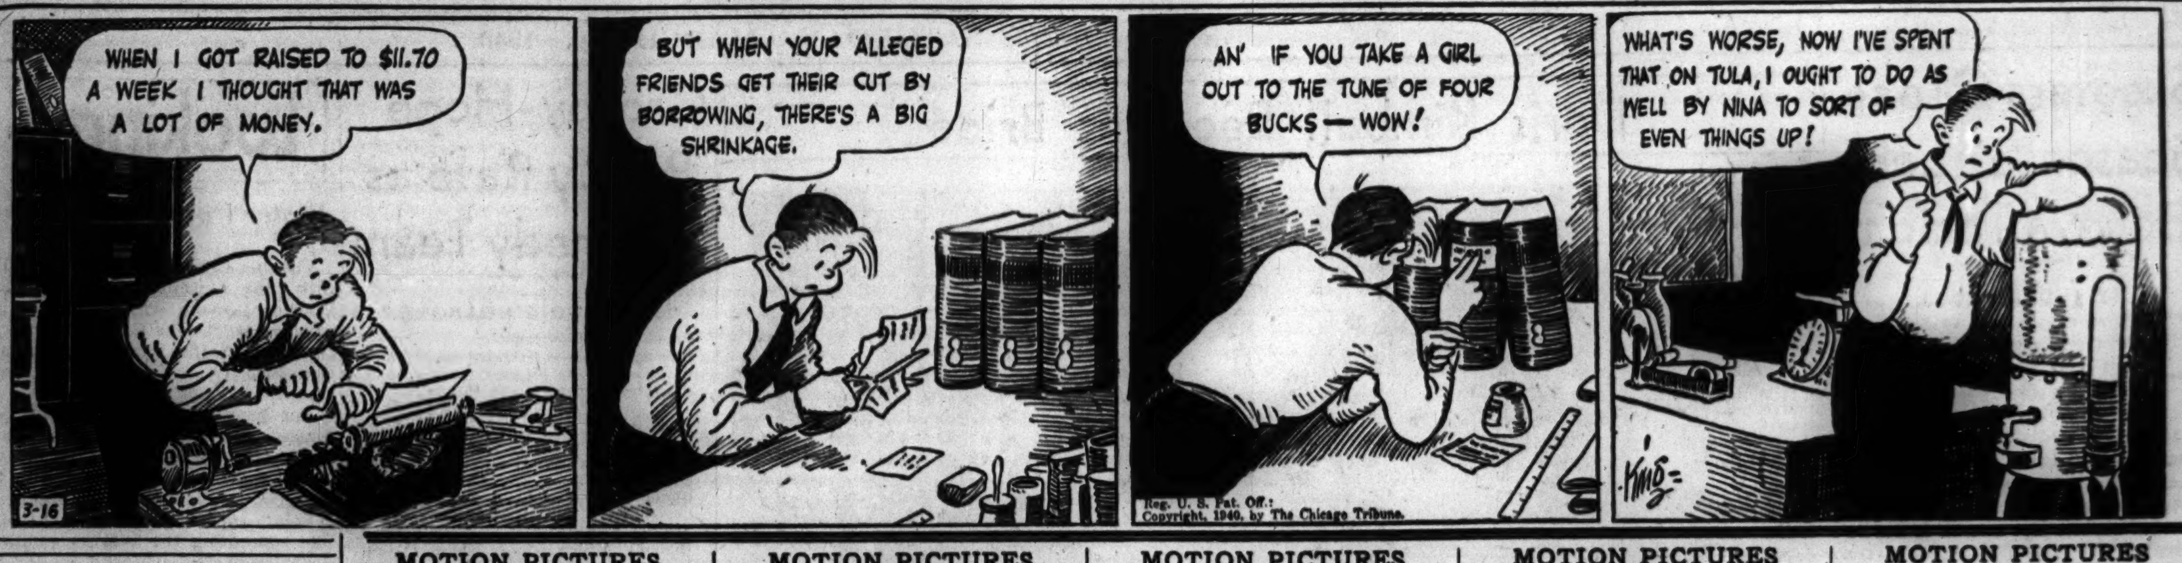
GASOLINE ALLEY—DOUBLE TROUBLE



Janice Logan Thanks Those Who Helped Her Crash Movies

Hollywood, Cal., March 15 (AP).—Janice Logan, the "best undressed girl of 1939," is also the most grateful of any year.

Janice, Chicago beauty, gave a dinner party for nine men who helped her break into motion pictures and presented each with a gift—an engraved cigaret lighter.

The beneficiaries, touched at this un-Hollywoodlike behavior, expressed delighted amazement. Said Cameraman Henry Hallanberger, who directed her first movie test:

"I've been at Paramount studio for 23 years and this is the first time an actress has invited me to have my picture taken with her."

"I'd like to make 1,000 feet of sound track of her laughter," added Arties Jacobsen, talen director.

"She is the best laugher I have ever heard, the first real person to come along since Clara Bow."

Actor J. Carroll Naish, who worked with her on her first picture, said:

"I have never worked with any one who tried harder or with any one I'd be happier to help."

Miss Logan, daughter of Stuart Logan, prominent Chicagoan, made her film debut recently in "Dr. Cyclops."

BREAKFAST BRIGHTENERS: Here are two ideas fresh from the jam pot: [1] Serve jam instead of sugar on cooked breakfast cereal. The effect is colorful, flavorful and funful for children who don't usually get excited about cereals. [2] Heat and blend ¼ cup butter with ½ cup preserves [apricot, pineapple, blueberry, raspberry, strawberry, or any other you prefer] to make a supersirup for pancakes and waffles.

And did you know that the French-Canadians who work in the sugar camps like to poach their eggs in maple sirup?

Next time you serve grapefruit halves for breakfast, cut around the skin and between the segments the night before and pour as much grape juice as the traffic will bear over each half. Very pretty and good!

NEW DESSERT PRODUCT: Rennet custard desserts in six flavors now are being marketed by a well known manufacturer of canned baby foods. Rennet puddings are extra easy to make. The sweetened and flavored powder is stirred into lukewarm milk, poured immediately into serving dishes, and allowed to set for 10 minutes. Because they are so very easily digested, these are planned for children's consumption, but they're so good adults will enjoy them, too. The six flavors are vanilla, chocolate, raspberry, lemon, orange, and maple.

Very rich and crunchy are these new chocolate chip cookies. The recipe is one worked out by a long established chocolate manufacturer for his new semisweet product.

Chocolate Chip Cookies.

1 8-ounce package semisweet chocolate
½ cup butter or other shortening
½ cup granulated sugar
¼ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1 egg, well beaten
1 cup sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon soda
½ cup choppen nutmeats
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cut chocolate into small pieces. Cream butter and sugars together until light and fluffy. Add egg and mix thoroly. Sift flour with salt and soda and add to creamed mixture in two parts. Mix well. Add chopped chocolate, nut meats and vanilla. Drop onto a greased baking sheet, leaving two inches between cookies. Bake in a moderately hot [375 degrees] oven for 10 to 12 minutes, or until cookies are done.

Is the carving knife all sharpened and ready to bite into that tender Easter ham? For the husband who carves, or would like to learn [or even the husband you'd like to have learn] there is this department's new booklet of carving instructions. "Easy Lessons in Carving" tells all about selecting carving tools and steeling the blade, and gives complete directions with diagrams for carving all kinds of roasts, steaks, and economy cuts. What's more, the booklet is yours for only 7 cents in stamps.

WANT A SYLLABUB CHURN? We have a letter from a reader who knows a little store down in Georgia that handles the churns. If any other reader should want one of them write us and she'll send the address. Incidentally, her Georgia spelling of this bit of fluff dessert is "silla-bub."

Dance League.

Members of the National Dance league will give a demonstration of spring dance steps and fashions from 3 to 6 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the North ballroom of the Stevens hotel. Ideas for spring recital and dance parties, including the "Pinocchio" cotillion and "Jiminy Cricket" will be shown.

On the House

New materials and new-old ones flock on to the home building field, but plaster walls are still a fine finish for any room, bath, and kitchen included. . . . You can do so many things with a plastered wall. . . . "Trowel" it in imitation of tile if you wish and then enamel it. . . . Paint it or cover it with wall paper, linoleum, rubber tile, or wall board designed to simulate a dozen and one different materials.

LOUISE BARGELT.

The Housewife

If you have maple furniture in your dining room or dinette, or if you have other pieces that are early American in flavor you'll want a set of the attractive cork back place mats that display copies of old Currier and Ives prints, in colors. These mats are easy to keep clean. You simply wipe them off with a damp cloth. And they're perfect with your old American pressed glass plates, or with any simple china.

Simple Model for the Home

WOMAN'S AND MISS' HOME FROCK.

This simple model for home or casual daytime wear is as easy as A B C to make, and it uses a minimum of inexpensive material. The trimming may be as fancy or as simple as you please. We recommend ready-to-use rickrack braid in scalloped effect, as shown. The unusual belt may be slipped thru notches to tie in front. Pockets are optional.

Style No. 2768 is designed for sizes 14 and 16, and 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, and 46 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 3⅛ yards of 39 inch material for dress, with 2¼ yards of binding or ¼ yard of 35 inch material for collar.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Praises Show of Palette and Chisel Group

ELEANOR JEWETT.

The annual water color exhibition at the Palette and Chisel Academy of Fine Arts, 1012 North Dearborn street, is a sparkling show. The pictures are small and choice.

This group of men has a high standard for shows and rarely disappoints us. In water color they seem particularly fine.

The current exhibit is diversified in theme and gay in atmosphere. These are pleasant paintings, well done, cheerful, timely and the sort of thing you feel an urge to pocket and hang upon your own wall at home.

If one had to make a choice perhaps favorites might be "Silhouettes" and "No Man's Land," by Arnold E. Turtle, "Patience," by Maurice Greenberg, "The Path to the Sea," by J. Jeffery Grant, "Lincoln Park," by Frank Beatty, "Snow Time in Grand Detour," by Holger W. Jensen, "Concarneau," by Othmar Hoffler," "Mount Adams," by Anthony Buchta, and "Down in Natchez," by Eugene J. McKee.

The exhibition of water colors and oils by Lydia D. Pohl at the Drake hotel, under the auspices of the All Illinois Society of the Fine Arts, is another pleasant exhibit.

The water colors are particularly nice, being colorful and fresh and done with an apparently unpremeditated dash that makes them carry vigorously. "In the Springtime," "January Snow," "February Flowers," "Old Quebec," and "Distant Rain" are among the most delightful.

William H. Mosby, instructor in painting and drawing at the American Academy of Art, is showing an interesting group of work at the Tudor gallery, Chicago Woman's club. The Brittany landscapes are most intriguing. Mr. Mosby is an excellent draftsman and an authentic colorist; his work carries conviction.

An extremely modern show is that by Georg Redlich at the Chicago Woman's Aid, 185 North Wabash avenue. If you like modern painting, do not miss this exhibit. There are daring adventures in color and drawing on these walls.

A very charming exhibit is that of paintings by Jean Spencer at the Marshall Field galleries. An unusual talent is revealed.

The Chicago branch of the American Association of University Women will have Dr. Walter H. Macpherson, pastor of St. John's church in Joliet, and Miss Betty Browning of THE TRIBUNE as speakers at a luncheon meeting today at the Chicago Woman's club.

MAKI SETS 3 MILE RECORD IN CHICAGO RACE

WHITE SOX BEAT CUBS IN TENTH, 11-10; EVEN SERIES

SOUTH SIDERS GET 7 RUNS FOR RIGNEY IN 8TH

Losers Smash Out Four Homers.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., March 15.—The Cubs proved today that they can wilt in the presence of the White Sox in March, even as they wilt in October. Leading, 9 to 3, going into the last of the eighth the Cubs trudged away in the 10th, victims of an 11 to 10 spanking.

Al Todd.

The sudden ending in the 10th followed a pass to Jimmy Webb with one out. Taft Wright sent Jim to third with a single to center and Bob Kennedy scored him with a drive off Phil Cavarretta's glove.

The Cubs weren't very happy about the outcome, especially seven runs the Sox made in the eighth. They were so sad, in fact, they showed no elation over four homers they had made, including one which Bill Nicholson made off Johnny Rigney to tie the score in the first of the ninth. The other homers were knocked by Augie Galan off Bill Dietrich in the first inning; and by Dominic Dallessandro and Al Todd off Harry Boyles in the fourth and fifth innings, respectively.

Olsen Is the Goat.

Pitcher Vern Olsen was the goat tho Al Epperly was the loser. Rigney pitched four innings to establish himself as the winner. He yielded only two hits, Nicholson's homer, and a single by Barney Olsen, which followed the homer in the ninth.

The outcome evened the series at one victory each, the Cubs having won, 14 to 7, in yesterday's opener.

The Cubs were leading, 5 to 1, when the starting pitchers, Root and Dietrich, ended their three inning stints.

Galan's homer over the right field screen with two out in the first inning got the Cubs off to a lead but it didn't survive the inning. In the Sox half Hayes singled and Kuhel was hit by a pitched ball. Hayes went to second on Kreevich's fly and another by Solters sent Jackie home with the tying run.

Bill Has Some Trouble.

Dietrich had one putout to go in the third to round out an impressive workout. Rogell and Herman furnished easy outs, then Galan, Nicholson, Dallessandro, Russell, Todd, and Sturgeon knocked successive singles, the net being four runs.

A Legend of Old Erin.

Should Palm Sunday and St. Patrick's day
Ever fall together,
Shure for any and all of Ireland
It's a promise of fair weather;
For when these dates do coincide,
It's a legend as old as Dundee,
Before that self-same year is out
Auld Ireland will be free!
So, rejoice all you O'Connors,
You Callaghans and Flynns,
Get out your very best dudeens,
You Dolans and you Quinns;
For if you scan your calendar,
There's nary an "if" or "whether,"
You'll note that in this very year,
Those two dates fall together.

I know not whence this legend came,
Ancient as fair Killarney,
Of course like many another tip,
It may be only "blarney";
But as long as there's light in Irish eyes
What matters anything,
For there'll always be freedom in Irish souls
While Irish hearts can sing!

New York, March 15 (AP). — The Buddy Baer-Valentin Campolo fight, scheduled for Wednesday at Madison Square Garden, was abandoned today when the Argentine heavyweight was sent to bed with grippe and an arm injury.

Campolo's physician advised him to remain in bed at least two weeks to recover from pains in the back and the left arm, resulting from an injury he received while sparring Thursday. Dr. William Walker of the New York Athletic commission, also examined Campolo.

Promoter Mike Jacobs began looking for a substitute, listing Nathan Mann, Abe Simon, and Jack Marshall as possible opponents for Baer.

Detroit, Mich., March 15 (AP).—A third period fight in which all players except the goalies participated enlivened a 4 to 3 victory the Chicago Blackhawks scored over the Detroit Red Wings tonight. The fight, which had been brewing since early in the National Hockey league game when the Blackhawks held the upper hand, broke out with less than 2 minutes of play remaining.

A few seconds before the fisticuffs Modere Bruneteau, who had figured in two of the Red Wings' scores, was sent to the penalty box for interference. This touched off the spark and almost at once Art Wiebe, Chicago defense man, and Syd Abel, Detroit wing man, traded punches.

Everybody Battles.

Players of both teams entered the fray, along with officials and spectators who leaned over the boards swinging. It was more than a minute before order was restored. Only Goalies Cecil [Tiny] Thompson of Detroit and Paul Goodman missed the fun.

The mêlée climaxed a wild third period in which officials dealt out 12 penalties, including those for fighting, as the Red Wings tried desperately to overhaul the Blackhawks. They almost succeeded, scoring three goals in 75 seconds after trailing, 4 to 0.

The victory ended Detroit's home season and left the Red Wings with a record this season of five defeats and two ties in seven games with the Blackhawks. The last game between the two clubs is scheduled in Chicago Stadium Sunday.

Cooper Starts Scoring.

Chicago scored just before the first period ended on a goal by Joe Cooper and added another in the next when Doug Bentley tallied as Goalie Thompson was sprawled on the ice.

The Blackhawks rang up two more in the first three minutes of the final period on goals by Chad and Bob Carse and appeared to be well on the way to a walkaway when the Red Wings, using five forwards, opened up. Chicago was two short at the time. Howe was credited with the first goal. Twelve seconds later Alex Motter counted. Then Bruneteau followed with a goal. Ebbie Goodfellow, Detroit's high scoring defense man, drew assists on all of the scores.

Italians Fight for Chance to Battle Chicago on April 10

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

NOVARA, Italy, March 15.—Italy's finest amateur boxers tonight began their battle for national championships in this picturesque little town set down amid the Alps in the Po valley. As a capacity crowd cheered almost constantly, 25 fights were held in the opening program of the three day tournament.

These opening bouts indicated Italy will send a strong team against the champions of three other neutral countries, Norway, Sweden, and Hungary, in the special elimination tournament in Rome on Wednesday. The winners of this meet will sail the next day from Naples to meet Chicago's Golden Gloves champions in the Stadium on April 10 in the ninth annual International Golden Gloves show under the sponsorship of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

Veterans Win Easily.

On the site where King Carlo Alberto abdicated in favor of his son, Victor Emanuel, after defeat by the Austrians in 1849, two veteran international boxers, Guido Nardecchia and Ulderico Sergo, led the favorites into the second round without difficulty. The big crowd in the Faraggiana theater stood up and applauded as the brilliant pair disposed of their first round opponents.

Boxing was unknown in Novara until two years ago when Mayor Count Gerardo Leonardi, a member of the Italian Boxing federation, began to conduct events for the citizens. The city now has become as famous as an amateur boxing center as it is for its rice fields and textile factories.

Guido Likes America.

Each boxer in this Italian national meet represents his home district. Nardecchia, who hopes to make his third trip to Chicago, where he won as a flyweight in 1938 but lost as a bantamweight last year, defeated Frederico Macciouc, flyweight champion of Sardinia, tonight. Sergo, 1936 Olympic bantamweight champion, is seeking the Italian featherweight title this year.

Nardecchia and Sergo are confident they will have no difficulty in the elimination tournament Wednesday. Another Italian favorite, Luigi Musina, light heavyweight champion, who was the outstanding fighter on last year's International Golden Gloves team, already has qualified for the Rome tournament.

Paoletti Makes a Hit.

Arturo Paoletti of Venice became one of the favorites for the Italian bantamweight title as he defeated Julio Martioli of Marche. Paoletti handled Martioli with ease and won decisively. Another interesting bout on tonight's program saw Federico Cortonesi defeat Tristan Romagnoli of Toscone.

Italian amateur boxing officials here for the national tournament have expressed confidence that Italians will dominate the European team which will fight in Chicago next month. Four of the eight places on the international squad last year were won by Italian boxers.

BOXERS DON'T MINCE PUNCHES—

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Champaign, Ill., March 15.—A new name will be added to the long list of Illinois prep basketball champions tomorrow night. This was assured tonight when Dundee, only former winner of the title to reach the 33d annual state tournament, was eliminated in the quarter-finals by a brilliant Granite City team, 35 to 30.

Dundee had averaged 50 points for 27 previous games and set a state tourney record total of 72 in the first round yesterday. Granite City, however, controled its own rebound shots and seldom permitted Dundee's famous fast break to get under way.

Score Tied Nine Times.

Andy Phillip, regarded as the all-around star for the first two rounds of the meet, teamed with Daniel Eftimoff and George Gages to control most of the stray shots and passes under both baskets to help throttle Dundee's speed.

The lead changed six times and the score was tied nine times. Dundee led at the third quarter, 28 to 26, but after Granite City tied it up 20 seconds later the 1938 title holders never could regain the lead. Evon Parsaghian and Hagopian put Granite City in front by four points, Kenneth Menke counting Dundee's only goal of the period with two minutes to play. Hagopian then broke loose on a stalling play to clinch the decision with another field goal. Dick Menke of Dundee fouled Phillip with 20 seconds left, and Phillip converted to make the Granite City total 35.

Granite City will oppose Moline and Champaign will meet Herrin in the semi-finals tomorrow afternoon, with the victors to battle in the finals tomorrow night.

Moline Beats Lewistown.

Moline scored a 49 to 32 triumph tonight over Lewistown, first round conqueror of Hebron. Herrin eliminated Paris, 1939 runnerup, 29 to 22,

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

A Finn can fight, as all the world now knows, and he can run, too, as 2,500 track fans who watched the strides of fleet Taisto Maki last night in the University of Chicago fieldhouse are aware. The ruddy faced Maki, now ranked as the world's No. 1 distance runner, showed his spikes to Tommy Deckard, former Indiana university star, in the special three-mile match race which climaxed the 42d annual indoor track and field games of the Central A. A. U.

Maki's time for the 24 laps around the eighth-mile dirt track in the fieldhouse was 14 minutes, 1.9 seconds. That figure is six seconds over the time of 13.55.9 set recently by Greg Rice of Notre Dame, which is the world's indoor record for 3 miles on a board track. Maki's performance was announced as a new world's mark for the distance on dirt footing. Among five outdoor Maki marks now up for world acceptance is the three mile figure of 13:42.4.

Nurmi Tries Out Track.

Last night's match against Deckard was Maki's second in a trans-continental tour of this country. A week ago Wednesday, in San Francisco, Taisto ran away from a couple of California collegians, in 14:15, lapping them after the second mile. After Maki's triumph, another Finn pulled off his sweat rig and pranced around the track a couple of times. He was Paavo Nurmi, the greatest of them all who thrilled American audiences more than a decade ago. Nurmi is Maki's coach during the current tour, all receipts of which go to the Finnish relief fund.

Thruout Maki's run last night Nurmi stood opposite the pole vault pit, near the first turn of the course, clocking his protége at every turn. When it became obvious that Taisto was going to coast to his planned performance of approximately 14 seconds, the baldish 43 year old sat down.

Deckard Drops Behind.

Maki's times for the twelve quarter mile portions of the race were 1:08, 2:19, 3:30, 4:40, 5:52, 7:00, 8:11, 9:22, 10:36, 11:42, 12:53, and 14:01.9. The slender Deckard made a contest out of it for two miles, trailing Maki by from two to three yards, until the 17th lap, in which Taisto turned on the heat and opened up a lead of 15 yards. By the time he was half way thru the 21st lap, the Finnish star held a half lap advantage, increasing that to three-quarters at the finish.

The University of Chicago won the Central A. A. U. championship with a total of 22 points, beating out the Maroon alumni by one point. Illinois State Normal scored 15 points for third, and Ogden Park was fourth with 10.

2 PREP BASKET TITLES WILL BE DECIDED TONIGHT

Catholic, Public League Finalists to Clash.

Prep basketball fans tonight will watch the coronation of two Chicago championship quintets. Two thousand will see the game between Leo and St. Philip for the Catholic league senior title in De La Salle gymnasium, 35th street and Michigan avenue. An additional 2,000 are expected to gather in the 132d Infantry armory, Rockwell and Madison streets, for the Public School league junior title between Manley and Marshall.

Leo, winner of the south division crown in the Catholic league, and St. Philip, which triumphed in the north zone, will be Chicago's representatives in the 17th annual national Catholic tournament which opens in Loyola university gymnasium on March 27. Leo was runnerup for the title last year, losing to Central Catholic of Fort Wayne, Ind.

Mullen Returns to Leo.

Leo's squad will be strengthened for the game by the return of Walter Mullen, veteran guard, who suffered a broken thumb last month. However, Coach Vince Dowd plans to open the contest with the same quintet which took the sectional title. The players include Jim Farrell and Henry Baranowski, guards; Bill Hunt and Norm Hawkey, forwards, and Stan Patrick, center.

St. Philip, which is seeking its second city championship, will present Sol Rizzo and Ray [Lefty] Olsewski at forwards; Eddie Kinsella and Elmer Kosiba at guards, and Bernie Kennedy at center. Rizzo and Olsewski, speedy little sharpshooters, have led the West Siders to 11 consecutive victories.

Expect Scoring Duel.

The Manley-Marshall game is expected to develop into a scoring duel between Leonard Rodnick, Manley forward, and Herb Siegel, Marshall guard. Both teams had impressive records during their sectional campaigns. Marshall won the west division title with nine straight triumphs, while Manley took the central zone crown with eight victories.

In addition to the basketball title, the Public School also will decide its junior and senior indoor track championships in the University of Chicago fieldhouse, starting at noon. Tilden is the defending senior titleholder, and Crane in the junior division.

St. Patrick's Wins Catholic Junior Title

St. Patrick defeated Mount Carmel, 31 to 24, last night in the De LaSalle gymnasium to win the junior division championship of the Catholic High school basketball league.

A fourth period attack in which the west siders scored 15 points while holding the Carmel quintet to 4, assured them of victory. The score was tied at 6 all in the first quarter. Carmel led, 15 to 11, at half time, and 20 to 16 at the conclusion of the third period.

Pacing St. Patrick's attack was Peter [Bo] McElligott and Frank D'Agostino, the former making 11 points, and the latter 9. It also was the 36th out of 37 victories for St. Patrick, the only loss coming early in the season during the Fenwick tournament when Mount Carmel won.

The Big Four

Map shows the four schools which will play in the semi-finals of the Illinois High school basketball tournament in Champaign today, and the enrollment of each school.

Granite City Beats Dundee in State Meet

and Champaign beat Salem, 34 to 30, in the afternoon.

A record quarter-final attendance total of 13,158 witnessed the two sessions, exceeding the mark of 12,437 set in 1938. A crowd of 6,624 was on hand this afternoon and 6,534 tonight.

Another tourney record was established when three losers in regional tourney finals two weeks ago reached the semi-finals. These are Granite City, Herrin, and Champaign. This mark was certain even before the evening's final, since Dundee also was a regional runnerup.

Miller Is Moline Hero.

Bob Miller, pint sized sophomore substitute, was Moline's hero. With Lewistown trailing, 28 to 27, Miller made his first scoring effort. Three times in succession he connected, while Bob Johnson added two baskets, giving Moline five goals in less than three minutes. Miller made it four straight to start the final period and then, with the score 40 to 29, Lewistown's star guard, Tony Butkovich, was banished on personal fouls. Moline led at the half, 23 to 18, after the score was tied three times and the lead changed hands eight times.

Champaign won despite a nine minute scoring lapse in the second half, during which time a 17 point lead was whittled down to 2. John Tarrant, whose eight goals helped crush Crane Tech in the opening round, counted five more, plus two free throws. The last of Tarrant's field goals came in the final minute to check the second of Salem's counter rallies. His first four were factors in giving the Maroons a 27 to 10 advantage three minutes after the third quarter opened. It was Champaign's last scoring until Salem had pulled up to 28 to 26 midway in the fourth period. Dick Gray of Salem scored 13 points; Don McVey of Champaign got 11.

Paris Offense Stalls.

Paris practically equaled Champaign's record, going scoreless for 8½ minutes in the last half, but had no surplus to spare, trailing, 19 to 17, when this stretch started. Before Paris could score again Herrin built up a 29 to 17 advantage and protected it thru the last four minutes, altho its defense yielded two goals.

Dallas Lillich, with 14 points, and Fred Campbell, with 13, accounted for all but two of Herrin's points. Paris scored only five field goals, but converted 12 out of 15 free throws. Herrin dropped in 9 out of 20. Altho Paris got away to a 4 to 0 lead, Herrin led at half time, 15 to 12. Verne Swinford, Paris regular, was banished on fouls 20 seconds after the second quarter opened, and his successor, Max Pederson, lasted only seven minutes before he, too, committed his fourth foul.

GOLDEN GLOVERS FIGHT FOR SHOT AT EAST'S STARS

O'Connell and Paterson Please Coaches in Drill.

BY HOWARD BARRY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 15. — Chicago's Golden Gloves fighters stood up and slugged for three rounds of three minutes, each this afternoon in the hardest workout of their rigorous preparation for Monday night's intercity matches with New York's team. For two hours the thud of gloves went on as the champions battered the alternates and the alternates battered the champions, one group attempting to maintain its prestige while the other sought to impress the coaches in the bitter intrasquad battle for the 16 fighting assignments.

At the end of the session, Head Coach Johnny Behr announced that he will select the team tomorrow from the squad of 30 which has come to New York ready to uphold Chicago's fame in the thirteenth annual meeting of the two Golden Gloves organizations.

O'Connell Is Ready Now.

Several of the boys who performed well in the Chicago tournament but who failed to win titles have been going particularly well during their sparring sessions in Stillman's gymnasium. Among these are Eddie O'Connell, Bill Peterson, and Ray Brown.

After reaching the third round of the Tournament of Champions, O'Connell was taken ill and was unable to return for his next engagement. However, he had displayed so much boxing ability and fighting spirit before his mishap that he was picked as a member of the intercity squad. He has vindicated the judgment of the coaches by giving one first rate exhibition after another during the workouts.

Peterson, a splendidly built, hard hitting heavyweight who has just come up this season, had the hard luck to run into Cornelius Young during the fights for the Chicago sectional championships in the Coliseum. Otherwise he might have gone much farther than he did.

Brown Bids for a Place.

After winning the Chicago sectional title, Brown failed to survive the Tournament of Champions in the Stadium, but he is another youngster who has impressed the coaches so favorably that he is considered a likely choice for one of the bantamweight assignments.

While studying the capabilities of the boxers, the coaches are looking beyond Monday night's bouts. They have in mind the choice of a team for the international matches which will be held in the Chicago Stadium April 10. The best fighters of Europe's neutral countries will be brought over for this event.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE SWIMMERS HOLD TOURNEY TODAY

Swimmers of Illinois colleges will gather in Naperville today for the annual Illinois College conference meet which will be held in the pool of Merner fieldhouse on the campus of North Central college. Members of the Illinois College conference include Lake Forest, Wheaton, North Central, Augustana, Illinois Wesleyan, Millikin, Bradley Tech, Monmouth, Knox and Illinois college.

Lead by Harold Henning, the North Central team is considered the strongest contender to capture the title won last year by Illinois college. Henning, National A. A. U. junior 100 meter backstroke champion, also swims in the shorter distance free style events. Hooper White of Aurora, captain of the North Central team, will defend the I. C. C. diving title he won last year. Bradley Tech's strong team is led by George Davis, supported by Bob Cooper, Kenneth Olson and Kenneth Hippe.

POPE WILL MEET DIXON TODAY IN SQUASH FINALS

J. Dudley Pope of the Dartmouth Alumni club will meet Homer L. Dixon Jr. of the Chicago Athletic association, for the Chicago singles squash racquets championship this afternoon in the Lake Shore Athletic club.

Pope won his semi-final match yesterday from Joe Jannotta of the Chicago A. A., 9-15, 15-10, 17-16, 18-16. Dixon gained the final round by turning back Bill Jones of Lake Shore, 17-15, 14-15, 15-9, 15-8. In the consolation finals, preceding the title match, W. P. Boysen of the Chicago Dearborn club meets L. B. Walton of the Chicago Town and Tennis club.

HOPPE, CHAMACO CONTINUE PACE IN CUE TOURNEY

Leaders Win 3d in Row; Layton, Reiselt Victors.

Willie Hoppe last night came to the defense of the old line billiardists in the world three cushion tournament in Bensinger's 131 South Wabash avenue emporium. His defense was a stirring 50 to 26 triumph over young Jake Schaefer of Cleveland, who isn't so young any more. The match went 49 innings.

The victory, Hoppe's third straight, forced Joe Chamaco, a comparative youngster from Mexico City, to sit over and share the lead with the New York veteran. In an afternoon match Chamaco, who won the national championship last year in a tournament held in lieu of the usual world congress of the stars, had captured his third straight match by defeating Art Rubin of New York, 50 to 38.

The two are the only unbeaten competitors in the field of 11. Hoppe will have an opportunity to take an undisputed lead this afternoon when he meets Rubin, whose sole enjoyment thus far has been an upset victory over Welker Cochran, generally recognized as the world champion, altho Chamaco disputes this claim. Chamaco doesn't play until tomorrow.

Otto Reiselt of Philadelphia scored his second victory in five starts when he beat Tiff Denton of Kansas City in the opening evening game, 50 to 43, in 57 innings. With the score tied at 43-all, Reiselt ran six and followed with an ace for the game point. Score by innings:

Polo Leaders Risk Rank in Double Header

The leaders in their respective divisions will play in tonight's Metropolitan Polo league double-header in the 124th Field Artillery armory, with the Artillery trio meeting Oak Brook and the Ranchers taking on the Chicago Shamrocks.

Boasting six victories against one defeat, the 124th team of Lieuts. Don Rice, William D. Fergus and Russell Rasmussen will face the surprise contender of the senior division in Oak Brook, which a week ago scored a 9 to 4 upset triumph over the Ramblers.

Hannah May Not Play.

Jim Hannah, Dan Peacock and Jack Armstrong have been announced as the starting lineup for Oak Brook, but there is a strong likelihood that Hannah's place will be taken by either Capt. Bill Everett or Claude Mackey.

Aside from their victory over the Ramblers, the Oak Brook poloists point to a 13 to 6 trouncing administered to the 124th team by the Evanston Polo club as evidence that the gunners can be beaten.

The St. Patrick's day spirit will prevail when the Shamrocks, led by Maj. Leslie R. Ireland, take the field in the evening's opener. Maj. Ireland's mates will be W. J. Schmidt and Lieut. Edgar Friedheim.

A Great Day for the Irish.

Considerably more Hibernian will be the opposition battle front of the Ranchers, an all-brother combination of Mike and Jim Healy, twins, and Tom Healy, who led their division by a half game.

Both of these are in the running for the four to six goal title.

DAY, QUARLES MATCHED; WILL MEET MARCH 29

Bout Is Scheduled on Zale-Brown Card.

Norment Quarles, Hendersonville, N. C., lightweight, and Davey Day, recognized as No. 1 contender by the National Boxing association, last night were matched to meet in a 10 round bout in Chicago Stadium March 29. Day has agreed to make the division limit of 135 pounds for the first time in two years.

The New York commission recently refused to recognize Day as a lightweight, naming Lew Jenkins of Sweetwater, Tex., foremost challenger for a title match with Champion Lou Ambers. Ambers is booked to defend his championship against Jenkins in Madison Square Garden May 10, but it appears the N. B. A. will refuse to give the bout title approval.

The Stadium card March 29 will be headed by a 10 round event between Tony Zale of Gary and Ben Brown of Atlanta, Ga.

Milt Aron, leading contender for a shot at Henry Armstrong's welterweight championship, may have to cancel a scheduled match with Cal Cagni in Philadelphia March 25 because of a bruised left hand, injured in his 10 round victory over Bep Van Klaveren in the Coliseum on Thursday, Dr. Samuel Lerner said last night. At the same time it was revealed plans for a rematch between Aron and Fritzie Zivic in an outdoor arena next May may be discarded because of Zivic's unimpressive showing against Johnny Barbara on the Coliseum card. The Pittsburgh boxer won a 10 round decision after Barbara had scored two knockdowns.

Promoter Irving Schoenwald said the show broke even. Revised net receipts were $7,606. Aron was paid 20 per cent of this sum, $1,521.20, Van Klaveren collected a $1,000 guarantee and then returned to New York to receive treatment for face cuts. Zivic was paid $750 for the Barbara victory. Barbara received $500, as did Willie Reddish, Philadelphia heavyweight, who was knocked out in five rounds by Lem Franklin. Franklin was paid $350.

Henry Wacker, Chicago heavyweight, has been matched to fight Willie Muldune, 1938 intercity Golden Gloves light heavyweight winner, in an eight round contest in Marigold Gardens Monday. . . . Ralph [Ruffy] Silverstein and Ole Olson have been added to the wrestling card topped by Rudy Dusek and Maurice Tillet, so-called French Angel, in the Coliseum Wednesday.

THIS SHOULD BE OCTOBER; GIANTS BEAT YANKS, 3-2

Ken O'Dea Hits Single in Tenth Inning.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 15 [Special].—In their first meeting in more than two years the Giants today beat the Yankees, 3 to 2, in 10 innings. The teams last met in the world series of 1937.

The Yankees took a two run lead, scoring once in the first and again in the third, but the Giants pulled even in the fourth and fifth and won out in the tenth when Ken O'Dea looped a single to center after Morrie Jones, Jersey City candidate for a Giant berth, had tripled.

In the first the Yankees wrested a run from Cliff Melton on a pass, a base hit, a passed ball, and Tommy Henrich's single. They picked up another in the third on Joe DiMaggio's double and another one by Henrich.

After Johnny Murphy had turned the Giants back for three innings Steve Sundra passed Witek in the fourth. Then Whitehead singled and Bob Seeds, hitting for Melton, drove in Witek. The Giants tied it up in the fifth on Johnny Rucker's single, an infield out, and Babe Young's single.

Hy Vandenberg and Harry Gumbert held the Yanks safe, while Spud Chandler held his own until the 10th. Score:

New York [N.]	..000 110 000 1—3	9	0
New York [A.]	..101 000 000 0—2	7	0

Batteries—Melton, Vandenberg, Gumbert, and Danning, O'Dea; Murphy, Sundra, Chandler, Carpenter and Jorgens.

RED SOX WIN AGAIN, 7-5.

Clearwater, Fla., March 15 [Special].—The Boston Red Sox humbled the Brooklyn Dodgers for the third straight time today, 7 to 5.

Going into the fifth inning with the score tied at 2-all, the Dodgers faltered, Boston scoring twice on no hits when Bobby Doerr's grounder eluded Pete Coscarart for an error on what would have been the third out. Sam Nahem, on the mound for Brooklyn at the time, had issued three passes—one intentional, filling the bases.

Roy Cullenbine hit a home run in the seventh for Brooklyn. Score:

Boston [A.]	.........002 020 210—7	9	2
Brooklyn [N.]	.....200 000 201—5	14	1

Batteries—Hash, Harris, Butland and Lacey; Wyatt, Nahem Ferrell, Fitzsimmons and Mancuso, Hartje.

INDIANS BLANK SENATORS, 2-0.

Fort Myers, Fla., March 15 (AP).—Cleveland shut out Washington, 2 to 0, today. It was the Indians' first exhibition game against a major league club. First inning singles by Lou Boudreau, Roy Weatherly and Jeff Heath brought the only scoring. Bill Zuber held the Senators to three hits in three innings. Harry Eisenstat followed him and filled the bases with none out in the fifth, but fanned Jimmy Wasdell and Buddy Lewis hit into a double play. Johnny Humphries pitched the last three innings for Cleveland. Score:

Washington [A.]	...000 000 000—0	8	0
Cleveland [A.]	......200 000 00*—2	6	0

Batteries—Jacobs, Wynn, Torres and Early, Evans; Zuber, Eisenstat, Humphries and Hemsley, Helf.

PIRATES DOWN A'S, 6-5.

Anaheim, Cal., March 15 (AP).—The Pittsburgh Pirates shoved over five runs in the sixth inning today to beat the Philadelphia Athletics, 6 to 5. Johnny Rizzo's single with the bases full and Arky Vaughan's double were the big blows. Score:

Pittsburgh	..............100 005 000—6	6	1
Philadelphia	...........000 220 001—5	10	1

Batteries—Butcher, Klinger and Davis; Babich, Hogsett, Ross and Hancken, Warner.

TIGER ROOKIE WINS, 5-2.

Lakeland, Fla., March 15 (AP).—Young Dick Conger blanked the St. Louis Cardinals for five innings today as the Detroit Tigers scored a 5 to 2 victory. It was Conger's second fine mound performance for Detroit.

Conger, a west coast collegian, has never played professional ball. The last pitcher to move from the sandlots to the majors in one jump was Bob Feller of Cleveland.

A rookie and a veteran gave Conger able help. Pat Mullin, centerfielder, and Birdie Tebbetts, veteran catcher, each hit a home run and between them batted in all the Tiger scores. Score:

St. Louis [N.]	.....000 000 020—2	7	4
Detroit [A.]	......020 100 02*—5	12	2

Batteries—McGee, Lanier and Scheffing; Conger, Nelson and Tebbetts, Parsons.

EXPECT RECORDS TO FALL TODAY IN BUTLER GAMES

Indianapolis, Ind., March 15 [Special].—Several new records are expected at the eighth annual Butler university relays in the Butler fieldhouse tomorrow. Some heats will be run in the afternoon, but most action will come in the evening.

As in recent years, Michigan and Indiana will lead the fight for team honors. Michigan has 30 entries; Indiana, 22; Pittsburgh, 27; Purdue, 24; Notre Dame, 19; Michigan State, 17; Ohio State, 15; Drake, 9; Illinois, 4.

College section: Miami, 22; Earlham, 22; Butler, 19; DePauw, 18; Emporia, Kas., Teachers, 18; Wabash, 11; Wayne, 9; Western Michigan State Teachers, 9; Toledo, 7; Wichita, 7; Ohio university, 6; Indiana State Teachers, 6; Michigan Normal, 5; Ball State Teachers, 2; St. Joseph, 2; Rose Polytechnic, 2.

Ed Smith of Wisconsin is expected to set a new high hurdles record and either Smith, or Don Olsen, Illinois; Stanley Kelley, Michigan, or Charles Marshall, Butler, may set a new low hurdles mark. Michigan is expected to lower the university mile record, and Indiana seeks new marks in the university two mile and university distance. Greg Rice may trim the mile and a half specialty. The college sprint medley will be run here the first time.

MOON MULLINS—A SLIGHT ERROR

Knott, Bryant to Open Third Sox-Cub Duel

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angels, Cal., March 15.—The White Sox and Cubs will play the third number of their spring set tomorrow and then they will not meet again for a week. Tomorrow's Sox pitching will be in charge of Jack Knott, Pete Appleton, the ex-Senator; and Eddy [Lefty] Smith. Clay Bryant, Vance Page, and Julio Bonetti expect to take care of the Cubs' pitching.

Bill Lee of the Cub staff made inroads today on Trainer Doc Lotshaw's supply of sweet scented arnica. During the pregame practice a batted ball plunked the handsome southerner squarely between the eyes.

Stan Hack, who eventually will be back at his old third base post, joined the Cubs today, having been delayed by a slight operation. He absorbed a little batting practice to inaugurate his spring conditioning and believes he may claim his job in about 10 days.

Eric McNair, Sox third baseman, who had to go on vacation today because of the arm ailment which developed almost a week ago, did no throwing today. He used the time to undergo some muscle stretching.

Earl Gilmore, who owns the new park occupied by the Hollywood club, will toss a barbecue tomorrow evening, the guest of honor being Connie Mack. The Athletics play the Hollywood Stars in the afternoon. The Sox and Cubs have been told the latchstring will be out for them.

Bob Kennedy, the Sox youngster with the widely publicized arm, today put on an exhibition that made some of the weak winged fellows wince. He unloaded a series of rifle shots from third to first base and the arm isn't as strong as it will be after a little more training.

When that fellow, Diz Dean, arrives Sunday, he may be told that there will not be a uniform available until the next day. Some of the Cub officials are beginning to believe this would be a swell way in which to foil Diz's scheme to strut in for a share of the Connie Mack day ballyhoo. The Cubs play the Athletics here that afternoon.

So far as is known, there have been no developments in the case of Hank Leiber, the Cubs' lone holdout, who is sitting tight in his tent in Phoenix, Ariz. Hank never did have much faith in spring training, so probably will continue his Sitting Bull rôle until the team reaches Phoenix, March 30.

Armour Tech's Relays Attract 600 Stars Today

Athletes from 41 colleges and universities will make today's 12th annual Armour Tech relays in the University of Chicago fieldhouse a record breaker for participants, with 600. This is a 50 per cent increase over last year, John J. Schommer, chairman of the committee in charge of the games and director of athletics at Armour, said last night.

Charles [Chuck] Fenske, new American mile king, will try to break the three-quarter mile record in a special race. He will be paced by Edward Buxton and Jerome Bauer, Wisconsin half-milers. The world record is held by Lloyd Hahn at 3:03.4. Buxton and several others will meet in a half mile special event. The Badger star won the Big Ten conference 880 yards in 1:54.4.

Elmer Hackney of Kansas State, who set an Armour relay shot put record of 51 feet 9¼ inches last year, will compete. Due to an injured right wrist he will throw the ball from his left side. He has tossed it more than 50 feet since turning southpaw. Another Armour Tech relays record holder will be Walter Shelton, colored sprinter from Marquette university who won the 70 yard dash in 1939 in :07.1. Some of his competitors will be John Davenport of Chicago, Myron Piker of Northwestern and Gene Littler of Nebraska.

Other returning champions of last year are Bob Shurilla of Marquette, winner of the low hurdles, and Joe Finch of Northwestern, who took the high hurdles.

Competition in the college division for the team title is expected to be keen. Michigan Normal is the defending champion, while Loyola of Chicago and Pittsburg, Kas., Teachers are considered the main threats.

Preliminaries will start at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The first final event is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. In addition a special rela yrace will be held tion a special relay race will be held teams who qualify in the city high school meet this morning. Junior college teams also will clash in a sprint medley relay.

pass to Nicholson, and Dallessandro's homer gave the Cubs three runs in Boyles' first inning.

Boyles encountered some more rough going in the fifth, when Todd led off with a smash which hit a house across the street from the left field wall.

The Sox touched up French a bit after two were out in the fifth. A single by Kuhel, a double by Kreevich, and a plunk in the ribs for Solters loaded the bases, whereupon Appling smacked a single to right, scoring Kuhel and Kreevich.

Olsen yielded no hits or runs in the seventh. So the eighth was quite shocking to the youth. Webb led off with his first of two hits of the inning, and walks to Wright and Kennedy loaded the bases. Turner smashed a single off Olsen's hand and the scoring orgy had started. Rigney flied out but Herman dropped a double play ball and the Sox kept marching on. Leiter and Rosenthal singled and Epperly replaced V. Olsen. Solters flied to B. Olsen but Webb tripled to give the Sox their seventh run of the inning and a 10 to 9 edge. Wright walked but was forced by Kennedy.

In the Cub ninth Rigney tossed out Gleeson but Nicholson drove his score tying homer into the street beyond the right field wall. B. Olsen singled and reached second on a wild pitch, but Cavarretta popped to Webb then Collins walked and was forced by Merullo.

Woods and Waters By Bob Becker

Sportsmen and chamber of commerce executives of Marinette, Wis., and Menominee, Mich., have decided to hold another smelt carnival this year, according to an announcement just made by these communities. It will be the fifth annual smelt carnival to be held on the banks of the Menominee river. The big fishing party will start April 12 and continue thru April 22 in order to get two weekends in the celebration.

Jack Boyle of Marinette writes that the "smelt are expected to start their run into the Menominee river [which separates Marinette and Menominee] around the 8th of April and from the 12th on they should fairly swarm up the river from bank to bank."

Boyle and Franklin Merritt, secretary of the Menominee Chamber of Commerce, announce that the program for the smelt dipping festival will include a number of entertainment features.

There will be fireworks displays nearly every evening during the celebration. Bonfires will be lighted along the banks of the river after dark, so everybody who wants to dip smelt during the evening run of these fish can see what he's doing.

Parades, free smelt luncheons, band music, and outdoor vaudeville also are on the program. The two towns which annually join in putting on a party for visiting smelt fishermen are going to crown a "Smelt Queen," too.

Altho Marinette and Menominee usually have about 25,000 people dipping smelt during their fishing carnival in April, there never is any shortage of these fish because the smelt in Lake Michigan seem to be increasing each year and one may dip just about as many as he can use. Dip nets which will be lowered into the stream during the run already are being installed on the big bridge over the Menominee river.

In former years it was possible to rent one of these rigs for a small sum and dip smelt from the bridge itself. Midwest fishermen who want further information about the smelt run around Marinette and Menominee and the equipment needed to get these edible small fish should write to Jack Boyle at Marinette.

LAGGARD INCOME TAX PAYERS JAM REVENUE OFFICES

Collections Well Ahead of Last Year.

Taxpayers who waited until the last day to file their 1939 income tax returns thronged the office of Carter H. Harrison, collector of internal revenue, in the United States courthouse yesterday.

In long lines they stood waiting patiently for advice from 150 deputy collectors before reaching the cashiers' cages. Those who were still there when the office closed at 7:30 p. m. dropped their returns in the mail box.

100,000 Returns by Mail.

All returns postmarked before the midnight deadline last night will not be subject to penalties. Yesterday 100,000 returns were received by mail; today the total is expected to exceed 125,000.

Collections to midnight amounted to $48,179,389 on 204,325 taxable returns. In the corresponding period last year there were 143,423 returns and $37,029,999 in collections.

The largest return from a corporation was received yesterday—a quarterly payment of $225,000 on a $900,000 return. Revenue agents estimated this meant a yearly profit of $3,000,000. Another corporation paid a quarterly instalment on $750,000, six made partial payments on $500,000 each, and more than a score made partial payments on returns ranging from $200,000 to $300,000.

Individual Payment of $112,500.

The largest return from an individual was received yesterday on a tax of $450,000. This taxpayer sent a check of $112,500 for his first quarter's payment.

As of yesterday, 1,000 corporations had filed returns on earnings of more than $25,000 a year. This was an increase of 300 over all of last year for this group. A similar increase occurred in the group with earnings of less than $25,000, the comparable figures being 3,300 and 2,400.

DOBBIN STAGES SMASHING FINISH TO HIS COMEBACK

San Francisco, Cal., March 15 (AP).—A runaway horse, that old-time thriller, played a return engagement today, and when the excitement among Market street and Civic center crowds was over police counted a toll of one man injured and two autos smashed.

It began when Morris Hannen's junk wagon got a wheel hooked in the bumper of an auto driven by Paul Cole. The horse jerked the wagon loose and Hannen hit the pavement.

Then the horse snorted, and with its tail up, started off thru Civic center, wagon and all.

A collision with Tom Georgeatos' auto failed to halt it. A little farther on, the horse left the wagon entangled in the wreckage of Charles Doyle's auto, and raced on to a driving finish, with police cars in pursuit. Police caught up in front of the Opera house.

The horse's owner was badly bruised.

MARSHALL DUE TODAY; SINGS ON W-G-N TOMORROW

Everett Marshall, operatic and concert baritone, will arrive in Chicago today by plane for his broadcast tomorrow afternoon over W-G-N and the coast to coast network of the Mutual Broadcasting System on the Fifth Row Center program, from 5 to 5:30 o'clock.

Marshall has interrupted a vacation in Havana, Cuba, for the broadcast. The show will salute St. Patrick's day. The noted singer will sing three numbers, "Danny Boy," "Where the River Shannon Flows," and "Wagon Wheels." He originated the latter several years ago in the Ziegfeld Follies.

Co-starred with the singer on the program will be the famous University of Notre Dame Glee club, an aggregation of 40 voices, directed by Prof. Daniel H. Pedtke.

Northwest Side Residents Ask Bus Line Extension

A delegation of 15 northwest side residents, headed by Ald. William J. Cowhey [41st], urged the Illinois commerce commission yesterday to authorize a trolley bus extension in Narragansett avenue from Irving Park road to Nagle street and Milwaukee avenue. The delegation, appearing before Examiner Benjamin Morris, asserted that transportation facilities on the northwest side are inadequate.

Newly Chosen President of Costa Rica Will Visit U. S.

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, March 15 (AP).—President elect Rafael Angel Calderon will sail from Port Limon tomorrow on a good-will visit to the United States. He will confer with President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull on matters of "Pan-American coöperation." Calderon will be inaugurated in May.

Louisville, Ky., March 15 (AP).—Mrs. Bradie Johnson of Shively, who said she was married at 12, was divorced today at 17. Special Judge Gilbert Burnett granted her freedom from Clarence M. Johnson, 25, on the plea that her husband was cruel. She is the mother of a 10 months old child.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Trail Blazer

OKLAHOMA DAM IS WATCHED BY 3 GUARD OFFICERS

Oklahoma City, Okla., March 15 (AP).—Three National Guard officers, exercising no military control because their orders were being obeyed, took up a watchful waiting vigil tonight as work continued on the last arch of the 20 million dollar Grand river dam.

They were there to see that the six gates of the massive structure stayed open so the stream could flow thru and not back up over state roads and bridges against the orders of Gov. Leon C. Phillips. With the issue of keeping the stream open tossed into court, the governor's martial law declaration stood, but only as a threat.

The governor has demanded that the Public Works administration insure payment of $889,275 to the state if Oklahoma is found entitled to collect for relocating roads and bridges to be flooded. He obtained a District court order yesterday against closing the dam.

The martial law proclamation was issued Wednesday but Adj. Gen. Louis A. Ledbetter said "the situation didn't require" its enforcement. He was assured no move would be made to violate the only military order—to keep the river flowing.

DAIRY GRANTED TIME TO ANSWER INJUNCTION SUIT

Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward gave the Wrightwood Dairy 20 days yesterday to file an answer to the government's suit for an injunction which would put the dairy out of business unless it complies with a federal milk marketing order.

Judge Woodward denied the motion of Attorney Alvin E. Stein, representing the dairy, to dismiss the injunction petition. Mary Connor Myer, a solicitor for the department of agriculture, opposed successfully Stein's contention that the dairy was engaged only in intrastate business and that the government had no jurisdiction.

The dairy is at 2942 North Ashland avenue. Several weeks ago it was cited for failure to file monthly reports of purchases and sales of various classes of milk with the milk market administrator here. The reports are required under the federal marketing agreement which took effect last Sept. 1 and under which the secretary of agriculture fixes the price of milk paid to producers.

ORDERED TO PAY ALIMONY; SAVED IN LEAP ATTEMPT

George Prokaski, 30 years old, yesterday attempted to leap from a window in the ninth floor corridor outside the courtroom of Judge Rudolph Desort after he had been ordered to pay $10 a week temporary alimony to his wife, Mrs. Violet Prokaski. He was seized and pulled back by Deputy Sheriff Julius Lenz.

Judge Desort then ordered a mental examination for Prokaski, who lives at 4354 Wood street.

At the hearing earlier, Mrs. Prokaski, who has a divorce bill pending, testified that last week, while her husband was sleeping, she took from him a revolver loaded with dumdum bullets. The court issued an injunction restraining Prokaski from molesting her.

LOWER FLANAGAN BOND IN INCOME TAX FRAUD CASE

Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe yesterday reduced the bond of John M. Flanagan, gambling house boss for the Skidmore-Johnson interests, who is under indictment for income tax evasion, from $25,000 to $10,000.

GUILTY AS SLAYER OF WIFE AND HIS THREE CHILDREN

Los Angeles, Cal., March 15 (AP).—Laurel H. Crawford, accused of killing his wife and three children for $30,500 insurance, was convicted today by a superior court jury which recommended life imprisonment. The jury deliberated 13 hours.

Crawford was accused of driving his car off a cliff on Mt. Wilson highway last Dec. 11. He had claimed faulty brakes caused the plunge.

The jury had only two alternatives, to convict him of first degree murder or free him, or to recommend death or life in prison. It found him guilty of first degree murder on all four counts.

Crawford, 41 years old, was the only one in the car to escape. His wife, Elva, and children, Alice, 13, Paul, 10, and Helen, 8, were dead when rescuers reached them. Also dead was Ralph Barnett, 61, a roomer at Crawford's Pasadena home.

SOX GETS HERO'S REWARD (DOG'S); HE SAVED A LIFE

There was an extra helping of ground steak and a choice selection of bones yesterday for Sox, the terrier mascot at the sanitary district pumping station in Wilmette harbor.

Sox got a big dinner as a reward for all his barking Thursday night. He did so much of it that Harley Davis, policeman on watch at the harbor, and Joseph Fink, the night engineer, followed him.

They found Fred Schmidt clinging to chains west of the Sheridan road bridge. He had fallen in the water [illegible] and was too weak to lose his hold on the chains when Sox brought the rescuers. Schmidt was taken to his home at 4567 Elston avenue.

WILLKIE ASSAILS THOSE WHO ARE FALSE LIBERALS

San Francisco, Cal., March 15 (AP).—True liberals are persons who believe men should be free—not those who call themselves liberals and try to "concentrate power in the hands of a single individual," Wendell L. Willkie told the Commonwealth club today.

The president of Commonwealth and Southern corporation asserted, "It is time for the American people to take up the revolution their forefathers started, and to carry it further."

"The answer [to current problems] under our democratic system," he said, "is for government to get off the back of the people's industry with its unscientific taxation, its arbitrary and capricious regulations and controls, its wasteful, extravagant and competitive public expenditures, and its constant harassment of business."

Willkie told interviewers he was not seeking the Republican presidential nomination, but would take it if offered along with a program consistent with his views.

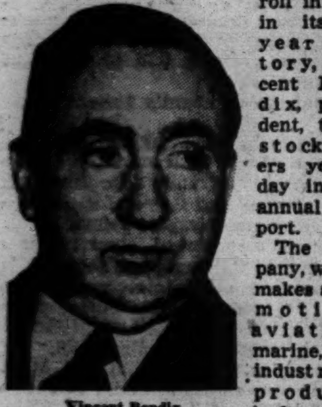
BENDIX PROFIT, SALES, PAY ROLL SET NEW RECORD

Income Is $4,485,971 in Last Year.

Bendix Aviation corporation had the largest earnings, sales, and pay roll in 1939 in its 11 year history, Vincent Bendix, president, told stockholders yesterday in his annual report.



Vincent Bendix.

The company, which makes automotive, aviation, marine, and industrial products, had net income of $4,485,971, equal to $2.14 a common share, compared with $156,047, or 7 cents a share, in 1938, Bendix said.

Net sales, including royalty and other operating income, climbed to $41,726,547 from $30,893,546 in 1938. This was a gain of 35 per cent.

Shares In Improvement.

"The corporation shared appreciably in the improvement in the automotive and aviation industries during the year," Bendix said. "Sales of automotive products in 1939 reflected a 53 per cent increase over 1938, while sales of aviation products continued their upward trend to increase about 27 per cent.

"Approximately 85 per cent of the gross revenues of the corporation was obtained from customers located in the United States and Canada, and 15 per cent directly from overseas customers.

"In the latter half of 1939, the effect of the national defense program as well as foreign defense purchases was evident in the demand for and sale of our aviation products. Unfilled orders were about $37,000,000 as of Dec. 31, 1939, an increase of about $25,000,000 in the last six months of 1939."

Auto Volume Under Capacity.

Bendix said the automotive volume has been running less than the rated capacity of the plants, but that the aviation divisions have been operating in excess of rated capacity, despite additions to plants and instalation of new equipment.

Pay rolls, including salaries as well as wages, totaled $16,362,636 in 1939, compared with $12,362,416 in 1938, and the number of employés increased 35 per cent to an average of 11,244 in December from 8,339 in January, 1939.

4 NATIONS TAKE INTER-AMERICAN BANK QUOTAS

Washington, D. C., March 15 [Special].—The possibility that congress would be asked at this session to authorize United States participation in the proposed Inter-American bank to stabilize exchange and commercial transactions in the western hemisphere was strengthened today when four nations advised the Inter-American economic advisory committee that they would subscribe their allotted share to the bank.

The nations were Brazil with 50 shares, the United States with 50 shares, Mexico with 35, and Colombia with 30.

Each share represents a contribution to the proposed institution's capital of $100,000. The bank's charter requires five subscribing countries with 145 shares to start the bank, and these four nations offered 165 shares. The adherence of a fifth nation was regarded as certain. The committee extend time for answers to April 1.

BRITISH MONEY SINKS TO NEW LOW FOR 7 YEARS

The British pound sank to a new seven year low mark of $3.69¾ yesterday in foreign exchange dealings at New York but recovered 1 cent to close at $3.70¾, a net decline of 1¼ cents.

Sterling has lost 15¼ cents in terms of the American dollar since Monday as a result of heavy selling in the unofficial market. This liquidation has been attributed to the decree of the Bank of England last Saturday outlawing "free" sterling [bought at prices below the bank's official rate of $4.03½] from British foreign trade after March 25.

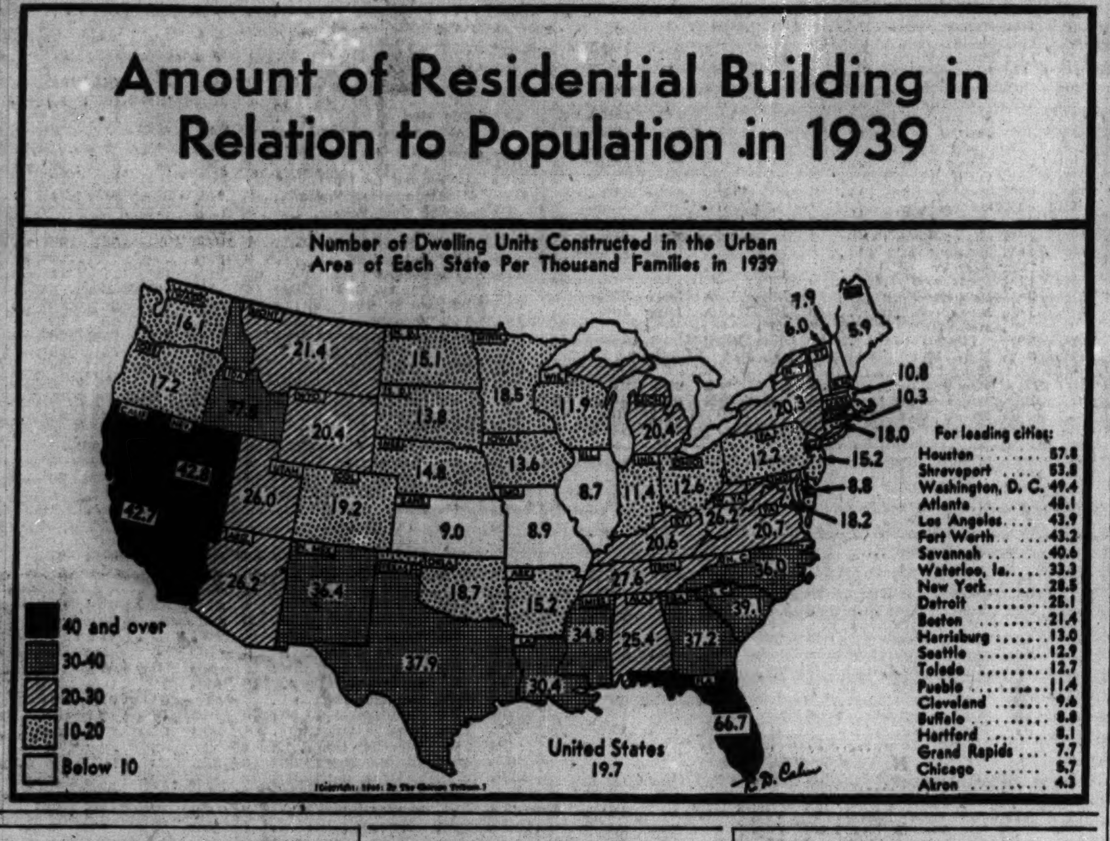
Currencies tied to the pound again declined, the Canadian dollar losing ¼ cent at 81¾ cents.

Automobile and Truck Production Mounting

Ward's Automotive Reports, Inc., estimated this week's production of automobiles and trucks at 105,720, compared with 103,560 in the preceding week and 86,725 in the corresponding 1939 week. The figures cover the United States and Canada. Ward's said the industry expects only a small increase in production between now and March 31.

Hudson Motor's Retail Sales Up 62 Per Cent

Hudson Motor Car company reported yesterday that its retail sales of cars in the United States in December, January, and February totaled 20,297, the largest for those months in three years and 62 per cent larger than in the three month period a year earlier.



Loan by RFC to Big Giannini Bank Indicated

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 15.—Settlement of the differences between the Bank of America National Trust and Savings association and the controler of the currency involves a loan from the Reconstruction Finance corporation to provide new capital for the bank, it was understood here today.

Announcement of an amicable settlement of the long and bitter dispute between the largest banking unit of the A. P. Giannini financial empire and the controler's office was made in San Francisco yesterday by L. M. Giannini, president of the bank and son of A. P. Giannini, former New Dealer who split with the administration and ran into difficulties with the treasury, justice department, and Securities and Exchange commission.

Loan Believed Likely.

Altho one of the 10 points laid down by the controler and agreed to by the bank calls for the RFC to purchase or loan on preferred stock amounting to 30 million dollars prior to April 1, it was understood among banking authorities here that the RFC would most likely make a direct loan to the bank which would be retired later from the proceeds of new stock issued.

It was believed that the RFC preferred not to take and hold preferred stock of the institution, altho that was the common practice in providing financial aid for banks after the 1933 crisis.

Whether Bank of America will issue common or preferred stock to provide the 30 millions in additional capitalization has not been decided, according to banking authorities.

Views on Federal Probe.

Officials of the SEC said that the settlement will not have any effect on the government's action against Transamerica corporation, the Giannini top holding company, which holds 42 per cent of Bank of America's capital stock. The SEC has been aided by the justice department in investigating Transamerica on charges of filing false and misleading information with the commission. The SEC also probed Bank of America as a subsidiary. The inquiry is now proceeding on the west coast.

As late as this January, L. M. Giannini and Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, who has the controler's office under his wing, were engaged in a verbal feud. Giannini accused Morgenthau of "persecution" and threatened to convert the national bank into a state bank. Morgenthau retaliated by advocating legislation to abolish bank holding companies, of which Bank of America is one.

Peace Possibilities Seen.

The possibility that the government's action against Transamerica might also be composed without a fight to the finish was seen here, despite the assertion of SEC officials to the contrary. It was recalled that James Roosevelt, eldest son of the President, and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, the President's wife, lunched publicly with the elder Giannini last fall, leading observers to believe that the breach between the President and Giannini was being mended. The elder Giannini was a contributor to the Democratic party in 1933 and 1935.

REPORTS LARGER PROFIT

Transamerica corporation, holding company for the Giannini banking interests, reported yesterday that it had net income of $7,443,672 in 1939, equal to 69 cents a share. In 1938 profit was $7,039,681, or about 66 cents a share.

The 1939 figure includes $615,464 of reserves for doubtful notes receivable and includes $1,985,890 as Transamerica's share of net profit of nonconsolidated subsidiaries in excess of dividends received.

The report showed that the parent company and its consolidated subsidiaries held 1,017,825 shares of Bank of America on Dec. 31. This represented a reduction of 288,046 shares compared with a year earlier. Their holdings in National City Bank of New York were reduced 46,181 shares to a total of 494,720 shares.

Dispose of Stocks.

The corporation and the consolidated subsidiaries disposed of all of their 10,688 shares of General Foods corporation stock, the report showed. Also disposed of were 2,700 shares of Frisco railway and 34,696 shares of Union Oil of California.

The nonconsolidated subsidiaries disposed of 5,000 shares of General Foods, 260 shares of Frisco, and 13,400 shaes of Union Oil.

UNION STATION BOND ISSUE SOLD BY KUHN, LOEB

ICC Orders Hearing on Refinancing.

New York, March 15 (AP).—Kuhn, Loeb & Co., Wall Street securities underwriting firm, announced that the $16,000,000 of Chicago Union Station first mortgage 3¼ per cent bonds publicly offered today by a syndicate which they headed, have been sold.

Such announcements usually indicate that bonds offered have been subscribed in full by secondary distributors and individual investors.

Offer Attracts Attention.

This offering attracted close Wall Street attention in view of the small interest manifested in the issue when investment dealers were invited to bid for it competitively early this week. Halsey, Stuart & Co., Chicago investment firm made the only tender, which was rejected.

Later the Terminal company decided to accept a bid from Kuhn, Loeb & Co. This was identical with a tender made by the same firm last month when the station company was considering selling the issue on a 3¼ per cent interest basis.

ICC Orders Hearing.

Washington, D. C., March 15 [Special].—The Interstate Commerce commission today ordered a hearing on March 23 into today's offering of refunding bonds of the Chicago Union Station company which has become involved in the competitive bidding controversy.

In ordering a hearing before Examiner A. C. Devoe, the ICC department from its usual practice of not holding hearings on security offerings unless a formal protest has been filed.

It was learned that the ICC acted in this case because the bonds to be refunded have been called for April 1, and it desired to be in a position to dispose of any objections which might be raised without interfering with the terminal's financing plans.

JAP, ARGENTINE ACCORD BLOW TO UNITED STATES

BUENOS AIRES, March 15 (AP).—Japan and Argentina tonight effected a commercial agreement which struck a severe blow at United States hopes of reëntering the rich Argentine market on a scale large enough to supplant European nations.

An exchange of notes opened the way for the entry of Japanese textiles and manufactured products into the Argentine market. The agreement provides for Japan to purchase 30,000,000 yen [about $6,900,000] of Argentine raw materials in 1940—three times the total of 1939. In return Argentina agreed to regulate the granting of import permits in order to admit Japanese cotton textiles, chemicals, heavy industrial machinery, and other manufactured goods.

Trade experts said the treaty would in effect leave the United States the only important nation which does not receive partial or complete favored nation treatment from Argentina.

The contract, which will represent an expenditure of $1,701,159, will be allotted in various orders to the Electro-Motive corporation, the American Locomotive company, the Baldwin Locomotive company, the General Electric company, and the Whitcomb Locomotive company.

The Illinois Central system has placed an order for 62 covered top hopper bottom freight cars, worth $250,000, with the General American Transportation corporation. Deliveries will be made beginning in May.

New York, March 15 [Special].—Stockholders of the Colgate-Palmolive-Peet company today approved by a large majority vote the first part of its recapitalization program, and adjourned until Thursday. The plan provides for the sale of 125,000 shares of preferred stock of a new class at a lower dividend rate than the present 125,000 shares of $6 dividend preferred stock.

BIG STOCK ISSUE BY MONTGOMERY WARD EXPECTED

Sales Growth Cause, Says Report.

Montgomery Ward & Co. contemplates the issuance of a substantial amount of common stock to finance its rapidly expanding sales, officials of the company disclosed yesterday. It is expected that the total may be near $25,000,000.

The plans of the company are discussed by Sewell L. Avery, chairman of the board, in the annual report to stockholders which is now being printed.

"The opportunity for profitable growth suggests that the obtaining of additional working capital will soon be advisable," Avery, who is out of town, says in the report.

Details Not Arranged.

Officials of the company—the nation's second largest mail order house—declared that the amount of the issue, the method of offering, and the time have not been determined.

"Our minds have been filled with the conviction that the company profitably can use additional working capital," said one executive. "The growth in our sales has been remarkable. We have been able to finance our expanding operations thru the retention of profits in the business."

Montgomery Ward's sales for the fiscal year ended Jan 31 totaled $501,819,199, an increase of $69,005,698 over the preceding year's volume. The total for the first time exceeded the billion dollar mark. January, 1940, sales of $29,984,030 also set a record for the month. The gain over January, 1939, was $5,215,485.

Expanding List of Stores.

In addition to operating the nation's second largest mail order business, the company has a chain of stores thruout the country. It recently decided to expand the number of its small stores by about 100. These stores are to be created largely from sales shops set up in small towns last year to assist mail order customers in writing their orders.

These shops were staffed by one or two clerks and provided with catalogs. The new stores would sell principally hardware items, shoes, clothing, and other staple items.

The company also in the last year established a number of department stores in such cities as Detroit which require substantial amounts of capital.

In 1936 Montgomery Ward issued $26,086,000 of common stock for the purpose of replenishing working capital depleted by the workings of the federal tax on undistributed profits which caused the company to distribute a large part of its earnings in dividends. The issue consisted of 652,143 shares, which were offered to stockholders, officers, and employés at $40 a share. The common stock closed yesterday at $53.12½.

BUSINESS CENSUS 80 PCT. FINISHED IN CHICAGO AREA

The 1939 decennial census of business and the biennial manufacturers' survey are about 80 per cent finished in the Chicago region, George W. Schreech, area manager, said yesterday. The census bureau has sent no deadline, he said, and date of completion will depend upon the reply of companies which would incur loss or suffer inconvenience if required to interrupt normal procedure for preparation of the records by a certain time.

Burlington's Newest Speeder

The Burlington railroad is testing this new streamliner, the Silver Streak. It will replace the Pioneer Zephyr between Kansas City, Omaha, and Lincoln.

Texas Co. Oil Output Hits All Time High

Texas corporation, one of the leading oil producing, refining, and distributing companies, announced in its annual report yesterday that its earnings increased $9,747,771 in 1939 and that production set a company record.

T. Rieber.

Several other corporations, including Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company, reported larger profits for 1939 than for 1938.

T. Rieber, chairman of Texas corporation, and W. S. S. Rodgers, president, informed stockholders the company's 1939 net income was $32,886,807, equal, after all charges, to $3.02 a share on the capital stock. Profit in 1938 was $23,139,030, or $2.13 a share.

Illinois Output a Factor.

Illinois operations were to a large extent responsible for the new all-time high level of production, the report said. The corporation's net production of crude oil for the year was 63,428,472 barrels, against 48,159,992 barrels in 1938.

Rieber and Rodgers commented on price trends and taxes. Retail gasoline prices in the first half of 1939 continued the decline which began late in 1937, they said, but firmed at midyear and at the close of 1939 were moderately higher.

Taxes on the petroleum industry and its products were described as excessive and "undeniably greater proportionately than taxes imposed on any other major industry."

Tax Payments Rise.

"Total taxes paid and accrued by the corporation in 1939," the report said, "aggregated $109,779,425, compared with $104,357,013 in 1938. Of the 1939 figure, $93,533,242 represented state and federal sales taxes on gasoline and lubricants. The 1939 taxes were four and one-half times the amount for 1926, the year used by the government as the normal predepression year."

Allis-Chalmers, manufacturer of farm equipment, heavy machinery, and engines, had a profit of $3,719,546, equal to $2.09 a common share, in 1939, compared with $2,553,946, or $1.44 a share, in 1938. Fourth quarter profit was $1,075,673, against a net loss of $830,273 in the 1938 final quarter.

Increased uniformity of operations thruout the year helped increase the earnings, Otto H. Falk, chairman, and Max W. Babb, president, said in their annual report.

Railroad fans will be given an opportunity to ride the train today between Chicago and Aurora. Next week it will carry special parties thruout the Chicago area.

Theodore Johnson, an unemployed Kansas City laborer, won a $250 competition for a name for the train with his suggestion of Silver Streak.

USHA TO BUILD 1,300 LOW COST FARM HOMES

Seek to Aid Families of Small Incomes.

Washington, D. C., March 15 (AP).—President Roosevelt today authorized the United States Housing authority to lend $2.522,000 to finance 1,300 new farm homes in six states.

Heretofore the USHA has handled only city slum clearance and urban low rent housing projects. The rural rehousing is designed to provide modern farm homes to replace tumbledown shanties.

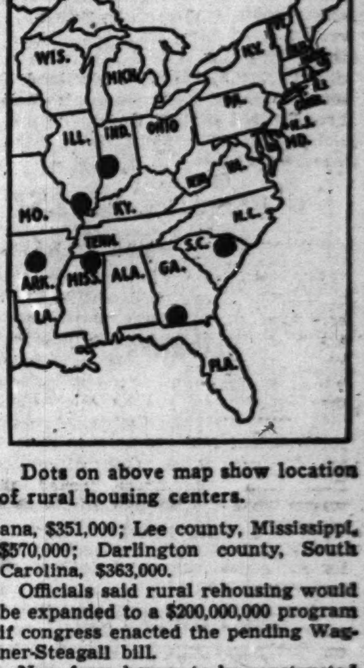
Houses to Be Leased.

Farm families of low income are expected to benefit. Owner-operators, tenants, share croppers, and farm hands alike are eligible for tenancy.

The new houses will be leased to farm families but owned by the county housing authority. Farm owners will be required to deed to the authority one acre of ground on which the house is built.

County housing authorities borrowed the money in today's transaction at 2¾ per cent interest for a period of 60 years, to pay 90 per cent of the $2,805,000 construction cost. The other 10 per cent is to be supplied locally.

The loans are: Lonoke county, Arkansas, $565,000; Thomas county, Georgia, $357,000; Alexander county, Illinois, $316,000; Vigo county, Indiana, $351,000; Lee county, Mississippi, $570,000; Darlington county, South Carolina, $363,000.



Dots on above map show location of rural housing centers.

Officials said rural rehousing would be expanded to a $200,000,000 program if congress enacted the pending Wagner-Steagall bill.

New farm homes to be constructed near Lonoke, Ark., will total 300; Thomasville, Ga., 200; Cairo, Ill., 150; Terre Haute, Ind., 150; Tupelo, Miss., 300, and Florence, S. C., 200.

Average Cost $1,682.

Net construction cost per family dwelling unit is calculated to average $1,682 and range from $1,535 in Georgia to $2,048 in Indiana. This cost includes the house, electrical wiring, a kitchen sink, an outside sealed well, and a sanitary privy.

This latest development in the national slum clearance and low rent housing program marks the climax of months of joint effort by the USHA, the agriculture department, local county housing authorities, and farm and agricultural agencies.

In each case the local county housing authority is to erect a substantial house of simple design. In most cases the dwellings will consist of a living room, dining space, kitchen, and from three to five bedrooms.

Bill Before House Group.

The Wagner-Steagall bill, passed by the senate and now before the house rules committee, would lift the land ownership requirement and also provide that instead of paying rent the farm family might apply rental payments on the purchase price and own the building within 20 years.

If enacted, the bill would increase the authorized lending of USHA from $800,000,000, of which $626,636,000 has been advanced on contract loans to city housing authorities, to $1,600,000,000 and include $200,000,000 for rural rehousing.

Stocks, Bonds

New York Stocks.

New York, March 15 (AP).—Talk of possible European peace in the wake of the Russian-Finnish settlement, combined with lessening optimism in some quarters over business, touched off a selling wave in the stock market today. Some leaders fell 1 to more than 2 points.

The list loafed until around midday when a burst of offerings in steels, motors, aircrafts, and rails unsettled other departments and, for a while, speeded the ticker tape. Pressure soon slackened, however, and, at the close, extreme losses were reduced in many instances. Transfers totaled 882,130 shares, second largest since Feb. 9.

Late in the day aircrafts had to contend with reports that negotiations between the British-French buying mission and plane manufacturers had been suspended. Discussions of orders amounting to nearly $1,000,000,000 had been under way. Among reasons advanced for the break-off were questions in congress regarding sales of new type warplanes to belligerents.

A few amusement stocks, reflecting reports of expanding box office receipts, contested the trend. Loew's touched a new 1940 peak, and resistance was shown by Paramount, 20th Century-Fox and Warner Brothers.

United States Steel and Bethlehem ended near the bottom as forecasts of declining mill operations were heard. An upturn in this week's new auto production failed to aid General Motors or Chrysler, both of which were lower.

New York Bonds.

New York, March 15 (AP).—Gains in some United States government bonds averaged around half a point today as traders withdrew funds from various corporate issues. Altho industrials advanced, many utilities and rails registered declines of major fractions to more than a point in sympathy with a retreat in stocks.

Dollar loans of the Scandinavian countries lost some of their recent gains. Belgium 6s rose three points to 98.

Chicago Stocks.

Prices were mostly lower on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday. Trading quickened to 27,000 shares from 18,000 on the preceding day.

Bank Stocks.

First National shares declined 2 points in bank stock trading yesterday to a bid of 238. Continental Illinois eased half a point at 89. Other issues were steady.

Commodities

Consumption of crude rubber by American rubber manufacturers totaled 49,832 long tons during February, a decrase of 9.4 per cent from the 54,978 total of January but 17.6 per cent greater than the 42,365 tons consumed in February, 1939, the Rubber Manufacturers' association announced yesterday.

The association estimated total domestic stocks at the end of February at 148,776 long tons, approximately a three months' supply at the present rate of consumption. This total was 5.1 per cent smaller than the 156,830 on hand at the end of the previous month and 31.6 per cent under stocks of 217,534 on hand a year ago.

The close of last month, however, saw large supplies of the commodity on their way to American ports. Stocks afloat totaled 112,257 tons, compared with 90,285 a month earlier and 55,814 on the corresponding date a year ago.

Apparently ignoring the decline in domestic supplies last month, however, rubber prices continued to drop yesterday, closing 0.15 to 0.24 cent a pound lower.
unchanged to slightly lower.

Despite high freight rates and foreign exchange restrictions, the completion of two transactions this week with Turkey and Greece for the sale of 7,000 tons of export refined sugar indicated a continued interest in this division of the sugar market.

Rumors of peace, inferring a decline in European demand, influenced a lower price trend in the world futures market yesterday, traders said.

Hides declined 1-3 cent and other staples on the downside included cottonseed oil, wool tops, sugar, cocoa, and silk. Santos coffee and copper were mixed.

WAGE-HOUR ACT CALLED A BAR TO MORE JOBS

Unemployment Insurance Also Assailed.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., March 15.—The federal wage-hour law and unemployment insurance are gigantic obstacles to new and more jobs in industry, H. C. Atkinson, administrator of the Ohio bureau of unemployment, said today at the Wisconsin business conference sponsored by the Wisconsin State Chamber of Commerce.

Under the so-called social welfare legislation, when an employer hires a man he has to assume so many obligations to maintain him that the natural result is that he hires as few as possible, Atkinson said. The man who has a job, he agreed, is better off under the laws, but the man who wants a job has less chance to get one.

Militate Against New Jobs.

"The wage-hour law," he said, "sets minimums which markedly increase the cost of starting beginners in many enterprises. The chance is that new employés may became unemployment compensation charges. The two combined militate against broadening the unemployment field and further the trend to contract employment into as few jobs as possible."

Atkinson recalled that one of the arguments for the enactment of unemployment legislation was that it would reduce relief rolls, but said his experience had proved otherwise. "The most serious indictment I have known against unemployment insurance," Atkinson said, "is that it has contributed to destroying hundreds of thousands if not millions of jobs."

"We have undertaken," he continued, "a broad program of social security legislation, which, while fundamentally sound in purpose and certain to become an integral part of the American democracy, could be wrecked by an unwise effort to cram into 10 years the adjustments and developments which have taken other countries 40 or 50 years to attain."

"Among the effects of pay roll taxation," Atkinson said, "such records as I have seen clearly indicate the tendency has been for employers to reduce the number of employés, to increase the numbers of hours worked per employé in preference to hazarding the creation of new jobs which might prove temporary and thus would create unemployment insurance charges."

Flays Pay Roll Tax.

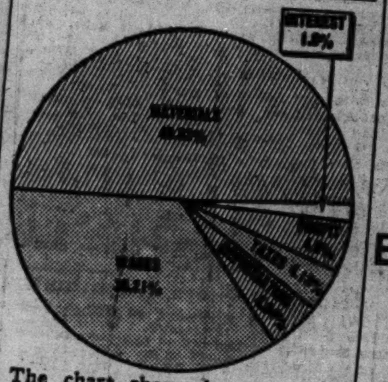
The pay roll tax, the speaker said, in many cases has seemed to be the last straw that threatens extinction of the employer. He asserted the tax often represents the difference between profitable and unprofitable operation and between survival and bankruptcy for the firm.

B. C. Heacock, president of the Caterpillar Tractor company, Peoria, Ill., said there are three principal problems confronting the country, two of which President Roosevelt could quickly solve if he wanted to. They are the problem of government in business, the debt and the European war problems, he said.

"The President could solve the first two if he wished," Heacock said. "As to the European war, we are already in it economically.

"There are at least 500 industries into which the government has stuck its nose. People have no conception of the length to which the government already has gone."

Where the Money Goes



The chart shows how Republic Steel corporation spends its big income.

MATERIALS, PAY TAKE MOST OF FIRM'S INCOME

Steel Maker Explains to Stockholders.

Cleveland, O., March 15 (AP).—For the benefit of its 60,400 stockholders—twice as many as it had nine years ago—Republic Steel corporation explained today what happened to its 1939 gross income of $231,736,957.

Materials and similar expenses took 49.32 per cent; wages and salaries, 35.21 per cent; depreciation and depletion, 4.94 per cent; taxes, 4.13 per cent, and interest, 1.80 per cent.

The remaining 4.6 per cent represented net profit of $10,671,343 for the nation's third largest steel producer, on an average production of 68.2 per cent of capacity.

Domestic consumption of steel has not declined materially and is currently running at a higher rate than the volume of business being received, Tom Girdler, chairman, reported. Continuation of this situation will result in a resumption of buying, he predicted.

Officials were optimistic on the outlook for foreign business and reported that export buying has been generally good. Inquiries have increased materially since the start of the year and prospects point to a continued substantial tonnage of steel for shipment to foreign countries.

CAPITAL STIRRED BY BRITISH BAN ON CANNED FRUIT

Washington, D. C., March 15 [Special].—Sharp resentment was expressed in official circles here today over British announcement that imports of canned and bottled fruit will be virtually forbidden starting Tuesday. The United States is Britain's chief supplier of preserved fruit.

The whole question of wartime obstacles to international commerce, it was said, assumes added importance at a time when President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull are trying to persuade congress to extend the reciprocal trade agreements act for three years.

Lord Lothian, British ambassador, issued a statement ascribing the British restriction order to the necessities of war. "In view of the trade agreement between the two countries," he said, "discussions are taking place with the United States with a view to mitigating the effects of the measures which Britain is compelled to take for war reasons."

WOOD PULP IMPORTS UP.

Wood pulp imports last year were up 18 per cent from 1938 to a total of 2,025,504 tons, but still slightly under the 1937 total, the department of commerce reported. The Scandinavian countries and Canada were the chief suppliers.

HOLDS RECOVERY A PROBLEM FOR LOCAL CENTERS

Economist Cites Success of Ohio Experiment.

Erroneous beliefs about business are the greatest obstacle in the road to recovery, Dr. Alfred P. Haake, industrial economist, said yesterday in explaining that educating people to accept responsibility for their own fates is the only way to save democracy. Recovery is not a national problem, he added.

Speaking to the Executives' club in the Hotel Sherman, Haake, who is director of the National Association of Furniture Manufacturers, described the success of his "business understanding" experiment under way in northeastern Ohio.

Cites Results of Poll.

A poll conducted in this "tough" area, he said, disclosed that 64 per cent of the people believed owners took the greatest portion of the income, and that 78 per cent of the employés believed they received less than 20 per cent of the income.

Thru formation of civic unity associations of community leaders, a regular program and many speeches over a period of six months, public opinion was changed about 20 per cent, he said.

Asserting there is no hope the government will remedy the situation, he said this experiment was the way to recovery. It will come, he said, as we are able to harness the forces for recovery in community after community.

Assails Materialism.

Another real problem, he said, is the decision of whether we want to continue with democracy. Materialism, toward which we are tending, he added, has "pauperized the morale of the whole nation." It has turned us from the practice of helping man to help himself, he said, in favor of waiting for some one to do something for us.

We are in the process of choosing, he said, between Christ and Caesar, representing, respectively, the spiritual, moral, and cultural elements and the material side. Germany took Caesar, he added.

Signing of Bill Permits Morgan to Retain Name

Albany, N. Y., March 15 [Special].—Gov. Herbert H. Lehman today signed a bill permitting J. P. Morgan & Co. to dissolve its 80 year old partnership as a private banking house and continue as a public corporation under the same name. The bill, amending the banking law to permit a private bank to retain as its corporate name upon incorporation, the name under which it did business as a partnership, was necessitated by the existence of another firm of the same name—J. P. Morgan & Co., Inc., an oil burner and air conditioning company in Glendale, Long Island. Without the passage of the measure, the banking house of Morgan would have had to change its name.

BUSINESS BITS

The election of H. Earl Hoover as chairman and L. W. Wallace as vice chairman of the Industrial Research institute was announced yesterday by Maurice Holland, New York executive officer of the institute. Hoover is vice president of the Hoover company, and Wallace is director of engineering and research of the Crane company. Both are of Chicago.

H. Earl Hoover.

The Mutual Trust Life Insurance company of Chicago announced the appointment of Robert H. Wienecke as supervisor of the company's Cook county agencies. He will assume his new duties March 16.

Walter A. Ford, reservations sales representative of Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., has been appointed chief clerk of the regional office, and Melvin Skinner of the reservations sales department, has been made traffic sales representative.

A perfect safety record for 1939 was made by workers of the Central Tea company, according to the Continental Casualty company, with whom the firm is insured.

The Chicago Association of Life Underwriters yesterday conducted a general sales congress at the Hotel La Salle.

W. J. Williamson, general traffic manager of Sears, Roebuck & Co., and A. L. Green, special representative of the freight claim division of the Association of American Railroads, will address a luncheon meeting of the Traffic Club of Chicago Thursday at the Palmer House.

Ernest N. Robinson has been appointed assistant sales manager of the accessory division of Stewart-Warner corporation.

GRAIN MARKET FLUCTUATES ON CROP REPORTS

Peace talk and a sharp decline in securities led to general selling of wheat futures yesterday and prices declined over 1 cent a bushel at one time on the Chicago Board of Trade to a new low since March 5. Short covering and buying on resting orders caused a moderate recovery from the bottom with the close at losses of ⅝ to ¾ cents.

Scandinavia is reported to have bought 500,000 bushels of domestic corn, but this failed to have much effect on the future market which closed ⅛ to ⅝ cent lower. Oats declined ¼ to ⅝ cent.

Selling in the lard market forced futures closing 20 cents per 100 pounds lower. Cash lard was quoted at $5.77 per 100 pounds at the close, the lowest price for that commodity at this season in 40 years with the exception of 1932 and 1933.

Investors' Guide

[Copyright: 1940: By The Chicago Tribune.]

IF BROKER FAILS.

If I leave some stock certificates with my broker for safekeeping would I have any trouble getting them back if he should fail?—N. J.

Answer: Securities owned outright by a customer and left with a member firm of a registered stock exchange must be segregated from the firm's own account and cannot be mingled with the firm's general assets in the event of bankruptcy. Cash balances credited to the customer, however, become part of the firm's funds and the customer becomes a general creditor in bankruptcy proceedings.

DREDGING.

I notice that Great Lakes Dredge & Dock is among those companies on the list of the Chicago Stock exchange which have paid dividends consistently in the last ten years. Kindly give me a report on this company.—Y. B.

Answer: Great Lakes Dredge & Dock company has paid dividends on its capital stock in every year since 1906 with the exception of the war years, 1918 and 1919. The firm was incorporated in 1905 and has engaged in dredging rivers and harbors and in constructing foundations, piers, docks, breakwaters, lighthouses, tunnels, bridges, and other submarine projects.

Operations of the company are concentrated in the Great Lakes except in winter, when ice hampers dredging and construction. Marine construction work and other improvements, however, can be conducted in the New York district where this difficulty is not encountered in cold weather.

The firm has outstanding 552,120 shares of no par capital stock, which alone constitutes capitalization.

Earnings of the company have fluctuated widely, depending mainly on its success in bidding for government contracts for dredging and other river and harbor improvements and for marine construction of private industrial companies on the lakes. Government work has been the principal source of revenue in the last few years.

Comparison of net income, earnings per share and dividends paid per share in recent years follows:

	Net income.	Earned per share.	Dividends per share.
1935	$1,796,000	$3.27	$1.50
1936	622,000	1.13	1.75
1937	1,148,000	2.08	1.50
1938	2,213,000	4.01	3.00

DAY by DAY on the FARM by BOB BECKER

Rabbits Scar the Trees.

March 15, 1940.

One of the inevitable scars of the winter season is noticeable in the wood lots of the Du Page county farm again this spring. Cottontail rabbits have damaged numerous wild crab, hawthorn, and willow trees. The animals seem to have concentrated their depredations in the wooded area north of the big pond.

The damage was not noticeable until early in February. Evidently the rabbits found plenty to eat in the woods until the heavy snows of late January and February. When they weren't able to dig thru the hard crusts of snow they started nibbling on the tender bark of the young trees. Wild crab and hawthorn trees show the most damage. We stood in one spot north of the big pond and counted 22 saplings which had been gnawed at the base. Most of these were from 18 inches to 2½ feet high. The cottontails didn't bother any branches of more than one-half inch in diameter.

Willows Also Suffer.

Numerous willow trees on the shore of the big lake also were damaged. This winter the men pulled several clumps of willows out of the ground around the pond, and these half dead limbs have been gnawed.

This is the odd job season on the farm, and unless the weather changes soon the men may continue to do miscellaneous work around the fields and barns for several weeks. With below freezing temperatures common, the frost isn't going out of the ground, and the longer the ground remains frozen the longer it will be until spring plowing and planting gets under way.

When we visited the farm early in the week one of the men was performing a typical early spring job—pruning grape vines. The other men were removing dead locust trees and underbrush from a wood lot at one corner of the farm, and when that job was completed they had some repair work to be done in one of the big implement barns.

Farm Tools Examined.

At this time of the year the men always look over the tractors, plows, harrows, and other machines needed for spring duty, because when the weather does permit spring chores the men want all the machinery to be in good condition.

The behavior of the Muscovy ducks indicates that they must be looking forward to warm spring days and raising families of fuzzy yellow ducklings, but with low temperatures and howling east winds prevailing the flockmaster discourages such plans. Two Muscovy hens already have deposited eggs in their nests in the duck house, but all have been taken away from them. As soon as the weather moderates the Muscovys will be allowed to keep their eggs, but until then the flockmaster is going to continue stealing from them.

BUILDERS BANK CHANGES HANDS; WILL MOVE SITE

C. Ray Phillips Is Named New President.

Control of National Builders Bank of Chicago will change hands and the bank will be moved to the Field building, John R. Nicholson, attorney, and John Nuveen Jr., bond dealer, announced yesterday. They head a group which is acquiring control. The bank is now at Wacker drive and La Salle street.

The move will be made late in the summer, it was learned, and the bank will take over the safe deposit vaults now operated by the 135 La Salle Safe Deposit company, which is managed by the Field estate. The safe deposit company will become a subsidiary of the bank.

It was officially confirmed late yesterday that C. Ray Phillips, a former vice president of the Foreman State National bank, will be elected president of the National Builders, and Laurance H. Armour, former president of the American National Bank and Trust company, will be chairman.

Made Offer in January.

Early in January Nicholson and Nuveen and associates made an offer to buy 60 per cent of the National Builders bank's common stock at a price of $75 a share, which is of $50 par value.

Yesterday they announced that 4,740.8 shares or more than 59 per cent of the total of 8,000 shares of the stock outstanding had been deposited in escrow for sale under the option. Nicholson and Nuveen said they would exercise the option and buy the 4,740.8 shares.

Take 10 Years Lease.

The anouncement said the new interests have taken a 10 year lease covering about 22,000 square feet of space in the Field building, including 6,000 square feet on the first floor at the corner of Adams and La Salle streets. Part of the space is in the lower arcade. The new location is all air conditioned, the Field building management said.

The lease provides for a fixed rental and a percentage of net profits from the bank's operations.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Colder weather and a rise in wholesale markets for fresh pork were offset yesterday by a rather substantial increase in receipts of hogs at all leading packing centers. Live costs, as a result of the heavier selling by farmers, sank 5 to 15 cents, closing only slightly above the six year low point.

Weak to lower rates prevailed for most classes of steers and yearlings.

[All prices are in dollars per 100 pounds.]
